

It is to be wondered what posterity will think of this generation of North Carolinians when it comes to read the next copy of the North Carolina Reports and finds in these the Supreme Court's opinion of the character of a man who lately occupied a seat upon the bench and ministered at the altars of justice. It is to be hoped for the sake of this generation that posterity, reading this opinion, may be able to turn to a reliable history of these times and from it learn how it was possible that such a man as the defendant in Egerton vs. Logan should ever have gotten himself into the ermine.

Our readers would perhaps like to know something of the merits of this case. A lawyer has recited to us the facts and these are somewhat as follows: A number of years ago, while Mr. G. W. Logan was a practicing lawyer in the village of Rutherfordton, before he was ever elevated to a judgeship, "an ignorant and unlettered client," an Egerton, went to him with certain notes to place in his hands for collection. The notes on their face called for about $2,250, though we do not profess to be perfectly accurate as to the figures. Logan looked at them and knew that the paper was good. Turning to his client, he expressed grave doubts as to his ability to collect a dollar on it, "but," he added, "I will take a risk on it; I will give you $200 in cash for the notes, and then if I can realize on them will pay you what I collect." (Again, we are not entirely positive that $200 was the exact amount of purchase money paid for the notes, but this is in the immediate neighborhood.) The client, trusting fully to the integrity and judgment of his lawyer, acceded to his proposition, received his money and went his way. Mr. Logan collected the face value of the notes with interest. Egerton, hearing of this some time afterwards, applied to Logan and asked for his money. Logan declined to make any return whatever, saying that he had paid $200 for the notes in the beginning, and, having bought and paid for them they were his and he alone was entitled to what might be realized upon them.

Egerton, finding his counsel obtuse, entered suit against him for wrongfully withholding money which did not belong to him, and, the case having just been passed upon by the court of last resort, the dishonest lawyer is confirmed. Undoubtedly the court has construed the law properly in holding that Egerton is not entitled under the circumstances to recover, but to an honest man, a man of any sensibilities, a man who desires to live in good repute among his neighbors and, nearing the grave becomes the more anxious to leave behind him the incense of a good name, a paltry $2,000 would be but a poor price for having it said of him by the highest judicial tribunal of his State, that, "while feeling itself bound so to decide by the letter of the law, it expresses its strong disapprobation of the great wrong and fraud perpetrated by him upon an ignorant and unlettered client."

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.—The reunion of the newspaper fraternity of the State, which began Wednesday and has about now ended, has doubtless proved a pleasant occasion. The one day's business meeting was held in the elegant little city of Goldsboro, and leaving there Thursday the brethren stopped at Raleigh, dined at the National, paid their respects to His Excellency the Governor in a body, and set out in the afternoon for Glen Alpin Springs, the proprietors of which had tendered them the hospitalities of this charming resort. The notable business of the day spent at Goldsboro was the delivery of the opening address by the late president of the association, Col. W. L. Saunders, the reading of the annual poem by C. C. Manly, Esq., and the delivery of the annual oration by Col. J. D. Cameron. This latter has not yet been printed, though it is to be hoped that it will be for the sake of those who were not so fortunate as to have heard it. The association chose its new officers with excellent judgment, and we trust that the re-union has proved agreeable and profitable to all who attended.

THE LEUTENANT'S CATECHISM. Secretary of War McCrary has caused the following questions to be asked of the candidates for the vacant second lieutenantcies in the army: Were you engaged in the rebellion, or did you in any way have to do with it? Fully your conscientiousness of the nature of the obligation incurred by entering the army. Do you believe in the right of a State to secede? Do you hold your allegiance to the United States paramount to that of your State, or would you, in case of a conflict, regard it your duty to follow your State?

RARE PARTY FABULUM. The Republicans have been greatly elated that the quarrel between the Democracy and the independents at Yazoo, Mississippi, has resulted in the assassination of the leader of the latter party. They predict that it will have an immense effect to their favor in the pending campaign in Maine and Ohio.

BRIEF FOREIGN ITEMS. Two thousand chain makers have struck at Stourbridge, England. There was a demonstration, Thursday, of two thousand unemployed laborers in Glasgow. The Peruvian minister at New York has received cable messages from the consul general at Panama, announcing that the blockade of Iquique has been suspended. A London dispatch says it is reported that Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton will shortly retire from the vicery royalty of India and be succeeded by Lord Dufferin, present British ambassador at St. Petersburg. A great fire has broken out at Bordeaux, France. Fifteen buildings have already been destroyed and the flames at last, accounts were still gaining ground.

THE YAZOO BUSINESS.

The Republican press and politicians will lose much of the ammunition which the Yazoo county outrage would have furnished them, by reason of the unanimity which has been manifested in the denunciation of the outrage by the Democratic press, North and South. A crime such as that can only be changed in fairness to a county, a State or a section when the mass of the people of either of these divisions seek to palliate, apologize for or defend it. In this instance, not only the leaders of thought in the Democratic party in the country and in the South, but even those in Yazoo county denounced the wrong, and the responsibility for it rests solely upon those who were actually engaged in the perpetration of it. They and their act have been repudiated by the majority of their fellow-countrymen—better men and better Democrats than they—by the Democratic party of Mississippi, of the South and the country. It is no argument against the Church that bad men are found in it; it is no argument against a circulating medium that it is counterfeited, and no more is it an argument against the Democratic party that hot-heads and even murderers are found within its ranks. The party, as a party, is responsible for the acts of those only whose acts it endorses, and if this proposition is true the Democratic party cannot certainly be held chargeable for these late outrages, since its presses, from one end of the country to the other, have put forth unanimous denunciations of them. As to the feeling in Mississippi, here for example, is an extract from the Oxford Eagle, one of the most intensely Democratic papers in the State: "The little handful of 300 voters in Yazoo county are no criterion from which to judge of the Democracy of a whole State. The party, as such, is in no way responsible for it. She repudiates all such acts."

And to this we add an extract from the Mississippi Sun: "The Yazoo affair has excited considerable comment. We allude to the act of the citizens of that county forcing Dixon to come down as an independent candidate for sheriff. It is all wrong—it is wrong in principle, in political morals, wrong in policy. There is no crime, nothing urged against his character, and if the Democrats of Yazoo cannot elect their men without intimidating opposing candidates, they had better give up the contest."

While for the killing of Dixon, in Yazoo county, Miss. nobody except his murderer can fairly be held responsible, fuller intelligence concerning the bulldozing proceedings, which preceded this, puts this circumstance in a better light. It was only a portion of the party that attempted it; the leaders of the party would not sustain this faction, and the issue between the Democrats and Independents will be decided at the ballot-box.

Statistics of the production in the South in each year from 1870 to 1878, inclusive, of cotton, sugar and tobacco, show that the crop of cotton in 1878 was about 400,000 bales larger than it was in any preceding year; the production of sugar 33,000 hogsheds larger, and the yield of tobacco greater by 12,000,000 pounds—the totals for the year being: Cotton, bales, 5,200,000; sugar, hogsheds, 212,000; tobacco, pounds, 572,000,000.

FROM WASHINGTON. The Pending Campaigns—Money and Documents—Questions for Applicants to the Second Lieutenantcies.—The Yazoo Tragedy.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BALTIC SUN. WASHINGTON, August 20.—The Republican congressional campaign committee, in whose charge is the collection of the assessments on the government employees, have been applied to for more for Maine. The Maine Republicans send word here that the Democrats and Greenbackers seem to have plenty of money, judging from the vigorous canvass they are making. Such a canvass, they say, can be maintained only by a lavish outlay of money. It is said that most of the $1,700 paid to Returning Board Casanave was taken from the funds of the congressional committee. Secretary Sherman says he thinks the duty of every patriotic Republican to contribute forward and contribute to the relief of Casanave because of his heroic work for the party in Louisiana. The Secretary left for Ohio in a high state of indignation at Casanave for having made public his grievances against the administration, and it was purely a private matter and in no way the business of the public. The Democratic campaign committee have taken a totally different view of the matter, and will issue the statement in pamphlet form for distribution as a first class campaign document.

WHAT THE FEVER IS DOING.

MEMPHIS, August 22.—Two new cases are reported to the board of health this morning. Ten deaths have occurred since last night—A. K. Speers, Samuel Cross, Mrs. Dena Goldcamp, Hiram Hilscher, James Murray, Emma Moore, Phil J. Ryan, Mrs. S. W. Phillips, Samuel Rhodes, and A. L. Rhodes. The four last died beyond the city limits. The daily mail service over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad was resumed this morning.

NEW YORK, August 22.—A Memphis special says the sheriff of Crittenden county, Arkansas, opposite Memphis, has issued an order threatening the arrest and punishment of Memphis board caught in the act of crossing that side of the river. The entire river front of that country is closely policed by a mounted and armed force. The case was referred to the authority of the Governor of Arkansas.

FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS. MEMPHIS, August 22.—Telegrams received this morning from the very highest authority say the yellow fever is spreading in New Orleans. WASHINGTON, August 22.—The national board of health has received a telegram from Dr. Craft, of New Orleans, stating that the location of the new yellow fever reported in 233 Dumaine street. It is probably the result of infection from the first cases on Constance street. Another case is reported this morning at 477 Constance street, the fever being fatal. The patient was taken sick August 16th. Isolation and disinfection have been enforced. The national board is also in receipt of the following telegram from Havana: "The bark Black Prince, for New Orleans, arrived at Havana August 17th, and has yellow fever on board while here."

"HULL," "CONSUL GENERAL." NEW ORLEANS, August 22.—In answer to a statement to H. B. Bishop from Memphis, Dr. Merrick, secretary of the board of health says: "Yellow fever is not spreading here. Only two cases have occurred since July 29th. These are the only two reported to the board yesterday. They occurred in the same quarter of the city as the first case—in the vicinity of Constance street."

What Wolsey and the Zulus Are Doing. LONDON, August 22.—Sir Garnet Wolsey telegraphs as follows: "Five thousand Swazies are ready to attack King Cetwayo, and this number will be increased to ten thousand before entering Zululand. The British operating with these, on another composite force coming from the direction of Lunenburg should either capture Cetwayo or drive him towards Colonel Clark's columns." The British operating with these, on another composite force coming from the direction of Lunenburg should either capture Cetwayo or drive him towards Colonel Clark's columns.

MISSISSIPPI CITY, August 21.—B. B. Pearson, superintendent of the Police of Harrison county, killed John D. Konkerton, of New Orleans, between 3 and 4 o'clock this evening. The difficulty grew out of a quarrel about drink. Konkerton claimed Pearson had not paid for a drink at the bar-room. Konkerton advanced on Pearson, Pearson drew a pistol and fired. Konkerton started to run, and Pearson fired again. One shot passed through Konkerton's arm and flattened against his skull above the right eye. The other shot entered his left side and lodged on the right side.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES. Two hundred laborers of the Chicago dock laborer's union are on a strike for 25 cents per hour. They now receive 20 cents. The Surf House at Rehoboth, Del., was destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. There were 60 persons in the house at the time but all escaped.
