Goldboro Messenger: A capital story appears on our first page to-day, entitled

"The Dissected Seal." We are assured of it to the familiar pen of our friend

Capt. Appleton Oaksmith, of Carteret, and the story is as true as the Robinson Cause.

Raleigh Observer: General Johnstone

Jones writes that he cannot possibly be

A VICTORY WON!

When a noble deed is performed, a great battle fought, an important assembly convened, thenceforth the place of their occurrence becomes famous.

The same result follows whenever a great enterprise is originated or carried on. This holds true in commercial experience; certain portions of a city become known as the centre of important enterprises. The history of our house is a practical illustration of this fact, for who does not know that the

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK

Is the best place in the city to purchase

Clothing and General Furnishing Wear!

And this is because we have made it so to all by offering greater inducements than any other house.

Since we have occupied the above premises our business has grown immensely, attributable to our entirely new production in almost unlimited variety, the careful taste displayed in selections, the facilities obtained, with the greater advantages of lower prices through the magnitude of our business, establishes us permanently at the head of our profession and characterizes the "Opera House Block" beyond rival the CENTER OF CLOTHING.
