SOLID SOUTH, SOLID NORTH. The Washington Republican, one of the most stalwart of the organs, says in its issue of Thursday:

There is a growing conviction among Northern Republican leaders that it would be love's labor lost to attempt to carry any of the Southern States, or win even a single electoral vote in the South next year. The argument is that the Republicans must concede the 138 electoral votes of the South to the Democrats, and then beat them with the 216 votes of the Solid North.

This must be very encouraging to those Southern Republicans who are blowing around about their ability to cares a cent whether he comes mounted carry Maryland, Virginia, West Vir. or on foot. He is the city's guest, and ginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky and Missouri, and such other Southern rival San Francisco and Chicage, but States as may be organized and admitted to the Union between this time and the next election.

The Republican, however, while acknowledging that it is "a growing conviction" that it would be love's labor lost for its party to attempt to reclaim the South, dissents, itself, from the proposition, and says:

It will not do to abandon the Southern Republicans next year, or at any other time, to the mercy of their enemies. The Nation owes them a debt of gratitude for the noble part they took in the campaign of 1876, and, aside from this, the outlook is not so assured as regards a Unified North as to make it a certain thing that their effective aid will not be required again in 1880.

Oh, ho! Well, this is rather cold comfort all 'round. One section of the party proposes to abandon the Southern Republicans to their fate on the ground that they are unprofitable servants, and another gives them taffy in order to hold them because, as it acknowledges, the chances of success are so slim in the North that these old Southern packmules may even yet be utilized in the salvation of the nation with a big N. Looked at from any point of view, the comfortable.

We, with all our great advantages and attractions, have sat supinely by and seen our sister States-States possessed of fewer advantages than ours-prosper through their superior enterprise, while we have gone forward at a much slower pace. Of late years the press of North Carolina has changed its policy with reference to these matters, and this has brought a corresponding change in the policy of the people. All of us have, within the past five years, done more in holding out inducements to strangers and capital than we had ever done before, and our efforts have undoubtedly borne good fruit. Evidence that the seed sown has not all fallen in story places, is found in the following letter, addressed by a Mr. Lewis, of that he was counted out. Norwich, Conn., to the editor of the

TRADE-MARKS.

Congressman Armfield introduced in the House Tuesday "a bill to provide for the registration and protection of trade-marks." It will be remembered that the Supreme Court of the United States has recently decided the existing law on the subject of trade-marks unconstitutional because it undertakes to legislate in regard to trade-marks used in trade within the States. Congress has power under the constitution to legislate only upon trade between the legislate only upon trade between the elected, and they were declared States and with foreign countries. The constitutional difficulty is obviated by Gov. Armfield's bill, by providing for Gov. Armfield's bill, by providing for Geo. G. Hoskins, Republican candidate the registration and protection of such for Lieutenant-Governor, was declared trade-marks as are used in commerce elected. between the States. Undoubtedly the States themselves can provide for their protection in the premises within their respective borders as completely as they can protect the trade in cattle. We notice that one or more bills have already been introduced to amend the constitution in order to meet the decision of the Supreme Court. There are | time the fire had attacked and destroyed few better lawyers in Congress than the entire village, containing 200 houses, Representative Armfield, and his bill will doubtless settle the confusion incident to the decision in question.

Senator Hampton' has expressed to the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald his entire approbation of the bill recently introduced by Senator Bayard for the retirement of the greenback circulation. He says the Democratic party is essentially the hard money party, and that this bill is strictly in the line of Democratic be elected, and in supporting it said principle and precedent. Senator Hampton further told the reporter that the South only needs to be fully under- Schultz thought the resoultion should stood in order to be fully trusted.

Southern Repudiation.—The Wash-not. A vote was taken and the resoluington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch writes that paper under date of Tuesday:

Mn. Keogh, chairman of the North Carolina Republican State committee, was at the capitol to-day, and in commenting on a case in the Supreme Court said the Western towns and corporations had repudiated a thousand dollars for every hundred repudiated in the South.

Bravo! Mr. Keogh.

GRANT AT LOUISVILLE.

Gen. Grant was at Louisville, Ky., Wednesday. He received a great ovation, and was welcome dto the city with the utmost warmth. The mayor welcomed him to the city, the Governor welcomed him to the State, he was escorted through the streets by a great procession, dined at 5 p. m. with Hon. Henry Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, and attended a magnificent reception at the Galt House at night. The most unique thing in the whole business was the Courier-Journal's welcome to the distinguished guest on the morning of the day of his arrival. It is an article a column in length, doubleleaded, from Mr. Watterson's own pen, and is entitled "Shake." We make an Seriously, as Mrs. Partington observes, "evil prognostications bode no good." All parties will unite to-day in a hearty welcome to Gen. Grant, and nobody the city entertains him no less in her own honor than in his. We may not be able to emulate the splendor of Paris, or the grandeur of London, nor even to we'll try at least to tread a measure with Singapore and the Kickapoo isles, and even to face it out with Indianapolis and that frisky little suburb of ours up the river. * * There is no public man at the North whom we should not be glad to welcome in Kentucky; and the more ungenerous he, the more wisdom in us to open the door the wider; for, in the long run, no matter how discouraging the incidents may seem, that which is broadest will prevail. Our little day is but an atom in the great space which envelops our country. The ascendency of this or that party is nothing by comparison with the ascendency of that sentiment of nationality which, like a single touch of nature makes the whole Union kin. We are Americans or we are nothing. We are Americans or we are lost. And all that glorifies and makes our country great; all that stands out in its history, past or present, should make us proud. The time will come when the figures of Grant and Lee will stand side by side as representative Americans precisely as Milton and Ru-pert, Cromwell and Clarendon, stand out as representative Englishmen. He who cannot see this can see nothing. There are too many opportunities to set-tle our party scores for us to disregard the few occasions when we may put aside our political wearing apparel and appear in the simple habiliments of a people possessing so many common infeelings of the Southern Republicans in terests. But vesterday General Grant the matter must necessarily be entirely | was the leader of armies hostile to the South. To-day he puts his foot upon Southern soil, our fellow-citizen. We risk nothing by treating him, as we shall do, as a gentleman and a friend. He goes hence, and, to-morrow, our differences may be as great as ever. What

> COUNTING CHICKENS, &c. - When Senators Hill and Vance and the staff correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle visited ex-Gov. Warmoth, at his home in Plaquemine Parish, La., a few weeks ago, the North Carolinian drank good wishes to his host personally, but confusion to his politics. The gifted carpet-bagger quietly replied that the latter part of the toast would not hurt him much, as the district in which he was running for State Senator was reliably Republican. The Chronicle now remarks that Warmoth counted without his host, for his Democratic competitor has been elected by a handsome majority. ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 12.—The board of State canvassers met at noon and proceeded to canvass the returns of the late State election. After canvassing the vote of each candidate, certain imperfect ballots were allowed the candidates they were intended for. These consisted chiefly of ballots with the initials instead of the names of them, and erroneous spelling of names. Resolutions were then adopted declaring the elected candidates receiving the greatest number of votes. It was found as elected. Horatio Seymour, Jr., Democratic candidate for State Engineer and Surveyor, was declared elected.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

THE HOUSE GOING IT ALONE. An Isthmus of Davien Canal Bill

—A New Financial Measure—

The Fortification and Pension Appropriation Bills Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-House.-Gibson, of Louisiana, introduced a bill which was referred to the committee on commerce for the appointment of an inter-oceanic commission to determine the best plan and route for the establishment of communication for trade and commerce between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans across the Isthmus of Darien. It provides for the appointment by the President of a commission to consist of five members, to be selected one from the navy, one from the army, one from the coast survey, and two from civil life, the three first to serve without extra compensation and the two latter to receive $500 per month, which commission shall be called the inter-oceanic commission.

Gillette, of Iowa, introduced a bill in opposition to the retirement of the greenback, in favor of substituting them for national bank notes, and for the free coinage of silver. Referred.

The Speaker then proceeded to the call of committees for reports of a pri-Phelps, of Connecticut, from the committee on ways and means, reported a bill refunding to certain citizens of Lynchburg taxes improperly collected. Referred to the committee of the whole. Upson, from the committee on military affairs, reported a bill for the relief of Doddridge and Davis, of Texas.

Baker, of Indiana, from the committee on appropriations, reported back the fortification appropriation bill, which was referred to the committee of the whole and the House then, at 1.20, went into committee upon that bill. Baker proceeded to explain the provisions of the bill. With one single exception the bill was the same as had been reported for the two last years. It appropriated for the preservation and repair of for-tifications $100,000 and $50,000 for the preparation of torpedoes for harbor defense. The item for the amount of sea coast fortification, including heavy guns, howitzers, powder, &c., had been increased by the sum of $100,000, so that that item of the present bill amounted to $225,000 in place of $125,-000 last year. The estimate of the chief of ordinance for that service had been $1,067,000. The Secretary of War had reddeed that estimate to $500,000. and the committee had reduced it to $225,000. The increase in appropriation was for the purpose of converting smooth bore cannon into rifled guns. If Congress continued to appropriate propriated $32,404,000, as against $29,-266,000 last year. The bill was agreed to and was passed.

The House then went into committee, Mills, of Texas, in the chair, on the private calendar, and at 4.10 adjourned un-

THE UNCRUSHED AFGHANS. Another Serious Engagement in which no Special Advantage was Gained by the British.

London, Dec. 12 .- The Daily News in a special edition publishes the following dispatch from Cabul, dated today at 11 o'clock a, m .: "On Wednesday Gen. McPherson occupied Sarkh Kotal, just in time to prevent a junction of the Kohistanis with a force from Ghuzree. The Kahistanis, who occupied a position near to Kotal, were attacked and dislodged, leaving six of their standards. Our loss was a few men slightly wounded. Gen. Baker was to move by way of Char Asiab, to take them in the rear, while Gen. Massy, with a force of horse artillery, two squadrons of the ninth lancers and one squadron of the fourteenth Bengal lancers, was to join Gen. McPherson by way of Charden valley for a combined movement, with the object of driving the enemy south on Gen. Baker's command. Gen. Massey encountered Mahmoud Jau's force, numbering ten thousand Afghans, Sepoys and tribe men, and his cavalry made a brilliant charge, but without apparent effect, on a vast body of the enemy. The country is most difficult, being cut up by numerous water courses. Four guns in retiring were upset, spiked and abandoned but were subsequently recovered.

"The enemy made for the Cabul gorge but were checked there by a detachment of the 7th Highlanders from Shepur Cantonment. The enemy then turned toward Babers fomb and now occupy the heights south of Bala Hissar. They are admirably led and two or three thousand of them are armed with Snyder rifler. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Martinez campos ministry.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means re-commend any kind of medicine which we did not commend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and its parents unknown rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever. Breastpin Found.

Policeman Farrington has just recovered at Wadesboro, the breastpin which was stolen, along with other articles, from the residence of Mr. J. R. Holland, of this city, about two months ago. It had been placed by the negro Harris, heretofore mentioned in these columns, in the possession of an old woman, who held it subject to his orders. Harris and Henry Horn, it has been ascertained, as the reader will remember, were the parties who burglarized Mr. Holland's house, and both are now in jail here. All of the property stolen on this occasion has now been recovered with the single exception of the watch chain.

The Other Side.

William Adams dropped into THE OBSERVER office yesterday to say that there is no word of truth in the story told by the colored man J. W. Edwards, to the effect that the lost man, Harvey Kingsbury, had returned to his old haunts in this county, shortly after his disappearance some months ago, and was at the house of Bill Adams. Bill says this allegation is the result of personal feeling entertained against him by Edwards, who already has him (Adams) under a bond to keep the peace. Having given both sides a hearing in the matter, there is no necessity of saying more about it in the papers at pres-It has taken a personal turn, and until Edwards has an opportunity to have his statement proved true or untrue there is no need to discuss it fur-
