REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MINT.

Through the kindness of Col. C. J Cowles, assayer of the United States Branch Mint, in Charlotte, we have been furnished with a copy of the report of Hon, Horatio C. Burchard, director of the Mint, of the operations of the mints and assay offices of the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1879, and under date of November 11th, 1879.

There are nine institutions subordinate to the control of the director, comprising the four mints of coinage, at Philadelphia, San Francisco, Carson City and New Orleans, the mint at Denver operated as an assay office, and the assay offices at New York, Boise City, Helena and Charlotte, and the operations authorized by law to be carried on at the mints are enumerated as

1. The receiving, melting, and assaying of gold and silver deposits, and paying from Treasury funds in gold coin or bars for gold deposits, and in silver bars for silver deposits, at all the mints and assay offices.

2. The parting and refining of gold and silver bullion and manufacture of fine lars at the coinage mints and the assay office at New York.

3. The coinage of gold and silver bullion at the mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco, Carson and New Orleans. 4. The coinage of minor coins at the mint at Philadelphia. 5. The manufacture of medals and proof coin, and the execution of coinage-dies for all the mints, at the mint at Philadelphia.

During the fiscal year the total deposits of gold and silver-including silver purchases-amounted to $71,179,-654.65, of which $42,254,156.80 were gold, and $28,925,497.85 were silver.

Of the above amounts $38,549,705.89 of gold and $26,934,728.56 of silver were of domestic production: $198,083.17 of gold and $10,607.79 of silver were United States coin; $1,069,799.89 of gold and $1,072,919.29 of silver were of foreign bullion; $1,498,819.71 of gold and $698,-632.49 of silver were foreign coin; and $937,751.14 of gold and $208,609.72 of silver were of plate and other manufactured articles.

Of this amount the assay office at Charlotte furnished of gold $53,947.83, of silver $497.21, or a total of $54,345.04. During the year coins, to the value of $68,312,592.50, have been turned out of the mints, a large proportion of which has gone into actual circulation, to take the place of the fractional currency, and small bank bills recalled. On the subject of coinage the director says: The actual use, &c., of gold as part of the circulation, consequent upon the convertibility of United States notes into coin, it was anticipated would create a demand for the smaller denominations of gold coin, and during the last fiscal year there has been a larger coinage of eagles, half-eagles, and quarter-eagles than in any preceding year during a period of sixteen years. The coinage of eagles and halfeagles will be continued until the demand is satisfied; but because the cost to coin a given value of bullion is multiplied by every subdivision, and on account of greater loss by abrasion and inconvenience in use in large transactions, it is not considered desiderable to coin a greater proportion of such denominations than actually needed by the public. The silver coinage has been almost exclusively of standard silver dollars, of which $27,227,500 were coined during the year, and the total coinage to November 1, 1879, has been $45,206,200. There was no coinage of trade-dollars or subsidiary coins except the striking of specimen pieces or proof-sets at the Philadelphia Mint.

The profits on the minor coinage from July 1, 1878, to June 30, 1879, were $31,-292.33, from which $1,299.97 were paid

September 30, 1879, was 37,364,918.08 standard ounces, at a cost of $38,594,-435.89, being an average monthly purchase of $2,031,286.10 worth of bullion. The coinage of silver dollars for the same period was 42,634,100, an average of 2,243,900 per month. The Director in speaking of the assay office at Charlotte, classes it with the offices at Boise City, Helena, and the mint at Denver. He says the operations of these institutions are limited by law to melting and assaying gold and silver bullion, and paying for the same from treasury funds. They are, as thus operated, chiefly of local benefit to the mining sections by enabling the miner to convert his bullion immediately into coin. They are all in a satisfactory condition of efficiency as far as their management is concerned.

official reports and other reliable sources, the director estimates the total yield of gold and silver for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, at $79,712,000 gold, and 38,900,000 silver. Of this amount North Carolina is credited with $90,000, two thirds of which was contributed by the region of country contiguous to Charlotte.

In order to form some idea of the importance of our coin currency, the director states that there was in the country, and most of it in circulation, the sum of $286,490,698.00 in gold, and $112,050,985.00, making a total of $398,-Since the close of the last fiscal year

During the same period there have been that the gentlemen signing the petition coined of domestic bullion $12,118,635 in gold and $9,405,370 in silver, which, added to the $7,141,164 of United States gold coin imported, makes a total in- Senate. crease to the coin of the country since July 1 of $28,665,169. At 1:40, the House went into committee of the whole on the report of the committee on rules. Reagan, of Texas, spoke in opposition to the proposed rule which provides that the committee on commerce shall report the river and harbor bill merely for reference to the appropriations committee. He thought that the latter committee, burdened as it already is, could not give the subject proper consideration. He objected to the plan of making one committee As nearly as can be ascertained from | merely a clerk or amanuensis for another, and declared that the commerce committee had always acted upon the river and harbor bill with faithfulness and efficiency. After some further discussion, in which Garfield and Hooker, of Mississippi, participated, Randolph disclaimed, on behalf of the committee on rules, any intention of abridging the powers of any House committee, or of saying one word derogatory to any committee, but the river and harbor bill had steadily grown year by year from two million to eight million, and he thought it time the House be warned that that bill should have fuller consideration and be less excessive. Further discussion ensued ending in an animated personal debate between Randall and Oneil, of Pa., which was the occasion of much laughter and confusion, but which had little to do with the subject. Pending the discussion the committee rose and the House adjourned.

SENATE.-Wallace presented a petition of Drexel & Co., and others, of Pennsylvania, for the withdrawal of the legal-tender quality of the treasury notes. In doing so he desired to say represented the leading commercial banking and shipping interests of Pennsylvania, and their opinions on the subject were entitled to attention by the

The sergeant-at-arms brought to the bar of the Senate L. T. Smith, Levi Wilson and E. B. Purcell, to answer the charge of contempt in not obeying the effect that he sent a telegram to the committee saying he knew nothing about the election of Ingalls. A discussion took place as to accepting the witness' explanation. Saulsbury, chairman of the committee, was in favor of discharging the witness upon his appearing before the committee and testifying. McMillan and others objected to keeping the witness in custody, claiming that no lawful summons had been served on him.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 8 .- Both branches of the Legislature assembled quietly at 10 day. In the Senate Senator Hobson offered a resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of both houses to investigate the charges of the attempted bribery of members of the Legislature since the receipt by them of their certificates. The resolution was opposed by the Republican Senators on the ground that no bribery of Senators had been charged. If the members of the House had been bribed investigation should begin there. The resolution was, however, adopted and no other business of importance was transact-

Mr. Hale announced the presence of sixty Republicans with certificates who were ready to be qualified. Acting-Gov. Lamson refused to qualify them at present as he did not know the extent of his powers in that direction, but said he would inform himself. The House then quietly adjourned. The Republican members will probably be qualified to-morrow. Lotteries Growing in Favor. At the recent Fair of the 7th Regiment of New York in their new armory, a large sum was raised for the Armory Fund by the different lotteries conducted with much skill by the managers of the Fair. Schemes of chance are growing more and more in favor as the numerous church lotteries show, and still more abundantly by the remarkapany, whose prizes distributed monthly have rewarded buyers of its tickets in almost every town in the country. The next regular drawing takes place on the 13th January. Particulars are given in part in the advertisement of the company in this paper, and all information may be obtained by addressing M.

An Open Business.

The great success won by the Louisiana State ottery Company has been gained by the strict fairness of its dealings with the public. All its methods of doing business are open as the day and buyers of tickets have learned that they have only to contend with the laws of chance, and all are served alike. When any one asserts the contrary of this it is safe to call him a liar or a blackmailer. The regular monthly drawing will take place on the 13th January.
