THE GENUINE DR. C. McLANE'S

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm.

The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternate with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part.

There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done.

A slight cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it.

In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results.

No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLANE, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

In Memoriam.

The winds blow cold around thy grave to-night. The desolate winter winds, Oh! friends of mine--Grown in the ancient hollows of the oak. And hiss and whisper in the lonely pine; And thou--who lovedst the bloom, the warmth, the light, The brightest flowers that grow in summer lands, The softest breezes from the tropic seas, The glow of sunset, and the calm, the calm, My bloom, and breathe, and blush in vain for thee: Nor love, nor hate, nor cry, nor prayer unbands The icy seal upon thy lips and hands.

And yet, 'tis but a little while, oh! friend, Thou taking on the seal of the departed, Begun the man's work with the boy's bright smile, Assumed the heritage of age, And lo! at the beginning was the end.

'Tis but a little while--I saw thy face, And touched thy hand, and heard thy kindly voice, And yet, to-day, thou wouldst not grieve with me, If I should grieve, nor smile if I rejoiced; "To-day thou shalt not be my brother's spouse, Nor portion in this world, nor any place."

To know thee gone, and thro' the coming years To go our way without thee, and to see Within the narrowing circle of our lives So much of life we laid away with thee, To learn to hope through pain, to believe thro' fears, To learn to pray at last thro' loss and tears.

We hope, we believe, we pray, dear Lord, who gave The perishing body the deathless soul; We go in death, tho' thy thoughts roll; We learn to hope through pain, to believe thro' fears, To learn to pray at last thro' loss and tears.

So many might have gone unmissed--the world Chafes like an o'ergrown river at its shores; And think they mist and doubt, and lo! the Lord--"My ways are not your ways, nor my thoughts yours!"

I claim mine now--no sparrow's wing is furl'd Unheeded of the eyes that guard the world.

God is good! Age shall not dim thine eye, Nor mar nor bend thee from thy stately prime. God is good! Thy heart shall never know The cold and hardening change, to cease to time; Nor life's sure grief shall teach thy lips to sigh; Nor life's sure evil--thou hast past them by.

Farwell, true friend! Thou, fallen asleep with death, Will rise not here, nor voice, to answer me; And yet I trust, and hope, and pray, and see, With earth and tears forgot, fadeless day, And thou wilt answer, speaking with new breath, And Time be Death's, and we have vanquished Death.

SOME OBSERVATIONS.

Some people's brains are like western lands--enough of them, but not half cultivated.--Yonkers Gazette.

The Pope's new organ is the Aurora. A czar? A bull, of course.--Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Bets have been made in Russia that the czar would not live a year, and the chips who made the bets are now living in Siberia.

A black crook dancer had her jewelry stolen, a few days ago. Poor thing! she will freeze to death, this winter, if the trinkets are not recovered.--Vermont Herald.

In anticipation of the next base ball season, it is well to remember that molasses and cobweb are considered good for a bruised finger. They will for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternate with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part.

A CALIFORNIA ROMANCE.

How Men and Wife met After Twenty Years' Separation.

Vallejo Chronicle, December 30th.

One of those strange episodes in human life which make us sometimes wonder at "the eternal fitness of things" occurred last night at the Vallejo junction.

The tide being low on the arrival of the Contra Costa, passengers for Vallejo were compelled to make quite a descent from the wharf to the boat, and the ladies required the assistance of the gentlemen present.
