THE ABOTTO EXPEDITION.

Howgate's Plan About to Receive Recognition. WASHINGTON, January 23 .- The proposed Howgate expedition to the Arctic seas, after many disappointments, has at length succeeded in getting a favorable report from the House committee on naval affairs. The plan proposes to establish a station within the Arctic circle in as high a latitude as it is possible for the explorers to reach, and to provide it with all the modern appliances for overcoming the physical obsta-cles in the pathway to the pole. The point selected for the station is on the shore of Lady Franklin Bay. It is further proposed that this station shall be occupied for a period of three years by the officers and men of the expedition, numbering in all fifty persons, including the scientific corps. But the exploring party is to be reinforced by Esquimaux, to serve as guides and hun-ters, and by Esquimaux dogs, to draw the sledges. As soon as the station is constructed and the supplies landed, the vessel is to return home and await further instructions. Each subsequent year a ship is to be sent out to commuit if in peril. During the intermediate periods the exploring parties will endeavor to reach the pole, while the scientific corps will be engaged in studying and recording the phenomena of the polar regions. The bill reported from the committee on naval affairs authorizes the President to detail such officers or other persons of the public services not exceeding fifty in number, as may be willing to join the expedition; to use any public vessel to transport the members of the expedition to the station, and also the necessary supolies, and to accept, in addition, and to fit cut for the purposes of the expedition, the steamship Gulnare, which is to be returned to its owner when the objects of the expedition shall be ac-complished; but that the United States shall not be bound for the loss, damage or deterioration of the vessel while engaged in this service. Appended to the report are the strong recommendations of the late Prof. Henry, and of Prof. Loomis, of Yale College, both of whom advocated the sending out of an expedition several years ago on the plan

Christmas Greeting?

THE HOLIDAYS ARE NEAR AT HAND TO THE MENT OF THE MENT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE P

And both the young and old are looking forward in bright expectancy, and with joyful hopes that some kind remembrance may be left as a token of friendship from some relative or friend. We trust that none will be disappointed, and that old Santa Claus will distribute his favors not only with a liberal hand, but will not show any partiality in his disbursements. We are glad to see this time-honored custom increasing in favor with the people. We hope it will continue to grow, and this joy-giving time will be looked upon as one of the happiest and brightest days in the year. Thet us all extend a willing hand and assist those who desire to carry out their part, but who, owing to numerous obligations and limited incomes, are deprived from contributing what they would be most willing to do if circumstances did not prewent. Let not selfishness but liberality predominate. Be willing to divide a part of your own good fortune with those who are not so fortunate, and note the change your kindness produces. The gladness that speaks from the heart will be sufficient evidence of the joy within. There is not one of us who cannot contribute something. The gift may be humble; that matters not; it will be acceptable. We trust that not only our old friends but also our young friends will, while their hearts are joyous and glad, not forget to add their mite to the happiness and pleasure of those who have not been so fortunate. We have made a specialty in the selection of Helen of Tyre.

Dry Goods, Clothing, &c What phantom is this that appears Through the purple mists of the rears, Itself but a mist like these?
A woman of cloud and of fire;
It is she; it is Helen of Type,
The town in the midst of the seas!

Oh, Tyre! in thy crowded streets The phantom appears and retreats, And the Israelites, that sell Thy liles and lions of brass; Look up as they see her pass, and murmur, "Jezebel!"

Then another phantom is seen At her side, in a gray gaberdine, With beard that floats to his walst; It is Simon Magus, the Seer; He speaks, and she pauses to hear The words he utters in haste.

He says: "From this evil fame,
From this life of sorrow and shame, I will lift thee and make thee mine!
Thou hast been Queen Candace And Helen of Troy, and shall be

Oh, sweet as the breath of morn,

Are whispered words of praise, For the famished heart believes The falsehood that tempts and deceives, And the promise that betrays.

So she follows from land to land The wizard's beckoning hand, As a leaf is blown by the gust,
