

THE CENTENNIAL

OF THE BATTLE OF KING'S MOUNTAIN.

What the Governors of Three States Have to Say to Each Other.

We publish an interesting correspondence between Gov. Jarvis, of this State, Gov. Marks, of Tennessee and Gov. Simpson, of South Carolina, in relation to this event, in whose progress all North Carolinians will take pride. The letters explain themselves. The resolutions adopted by the Legislature of Tennessee are also given.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, NASHVILLE, TENN., JAN. 27, 1880.

SIR:—In compliance with the directions of the General Assembly of Tennessee, I have the honor to transmit to your excellency a copy of a joint resolution of that body, suggesting a centennial celebration of the battle of King's Mountain. As King's Mountain was the key to Yorktown, and Yorktown the key to American independence, the General Assembly of Tennessee deem it appropriate to suggest to her sister States (whose troops participated with hers in that interesting event) the propriety of its centennial celebration.

You will observe that the proposed celebration is dependent upon the concurrence and co-operation of your excellency. If approved by your excellency, it is important that your approval be signified as soon as it may be done with convenience, in order that the preliminary steps for the celebration may be taken without delay.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

ALBERT S. MARKS, Governor of Tennessee.

To His Excellency Thomas J. Jarvis, Governor of North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION, NO. 3.

Whereas the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of King's Mountain will occur on the 7th of October next, in which the gallant soldiers from Tennessee, (then a portion of North Carolina) Virginia, North and South Carolina participated, winning victory; and whereas it is proper that we should commemorate that gallant deed and show to the world that we appreciate and cherish the great blessings of civil and religious liberty for which our forefathers so nobly struggled; therefore be it

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, That the Governor is suggested to communicate with the Governors of North and South Carolina and Virginia for the purpose of inaugurating a movement to celebrate on the grounds the anniversary aforesaid.

Resolved, That should said celebration meet the approval of the Governors of the aforesaid States, the Governor of Tennessee shall appoint a committee of ten, three from each grand division of the State, and one for the State at large, who shall meet similar committees at Charlotte, North Carolina, on the 22d of June, 1880, for the purpose of making all arrangements necessary for the celebration of the centennial of King's Mountain.

Resolved, That the Historical Society of Tennessee and the historical societies of the three other States, if such there be, and are hereby invited to co-operate in said celebration. Adopted December 24, 1879.

J. R. NEAL, Speaker of the Senate.

Speaker of the House of Representatives. Approved December 24, 1879.

ALBERT S. MARKS, Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., JANUARY 26, 1880.

To His Excellency Albert S. Marks, Governor of Tennessee:

DEAR SIR:—Your communication of the 21st, enclosing a copy of certain resolutions, recently by the General Assembly of Tennessee and approved by yourself, in relation to the celebration of the coming centennial anniversary of the battle of King's Mountain, has been received.

It gives me great pleasure, I beg leave to assure your excellency, to see the interest manifested by yourself and the General Assembly of Tennessee in the proposed celebration. One hundred years ago the Territory, whose people now so justly take pride in the name of Tennesseans, was sold as much a part of North Carolina as that which still bears the name. We were all North Carolinians, and it is gratifying to know that though no longer one in name, and no longer one in territory, we are still one in affection, and in admiration for the great achievements of our common ancestors, and in our determination, on suitable occasions, to make that admiration known to the world.

The success that befell the American arms on King's Mountain, a success achieved by Southern troops under Southern leaders, upon Southern soil, was the turning point in the war of the revolution. But for King's Mountain there would have been no Guilford Court House, and without Guilford Court House, there could have been no Yorktown. It was the morning of the day that was to bring forth assured success, success that meant the vindication and establishment of the right of self-government against a long reign of despotism, despair and defeat. And that our forefathers bore so conspicuous a part in an achievement, so conspicuous for the three States, of such conception and the grandly daring of its execution, no less than for its magnitude and momentous consequences, we may well be proud, whether we call ourselves Tennesseans or North Carolinians.

It gives me pleasure, therefore, to inform you that measures have already been taken by the people of North and South Carolina also, looking to a proper observance of the centennial anniversary of the battle of King's Mountain on the very field upon which the battle was fought. On the 22nd of the next month a magnificent flag of mammoth size will be raised on the highest point of the battle field, there to remain, when and where various preliminary arrangements for the celebration will also be perfected.

In all our arrangements, however, the presence and participation of our brethren of Tennessee and of Virginia have been affectionately contemplated and anxiously anticipated.

I beg leave, therefore, to answer your excellency that I take great pleasure in signifying to you my approval of the proposed celebration, and that I will at once proceed to designate suitable gentlemen to meet in Charlotte on the 22nd of June next, then and there to confer with gentlemen of the committee appointed by yourself, and with the gentlemen of similar committees from North Carolina and Virginia. And, further, that from time to time, as an opportunity may offer, I will do everything in my power that may tend to make the centennial commensurate with the magnificent achievement it is intended to commemorate.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

THOMAS J. JARVIS, Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, JANUARY 26, 1880.

To His Excellency W. D. Simpson, Governor of South Carolina:

MY DEAR SIR:—I send you enclosed copies of a correspondence recently held with Gov. Marks of Tennessee. I presume you have had a similar letter from him yourself; if not, the papers accompanying this will explain themselves.

King's Mountain is upon the line that divides our States, being partly in one and partly in the other. The battle field lies, I believe, wholly in your State, as we say, by a mistake of the commissioners who established the line. So you see we are not without some claim to the actual soil, made so dear to every American heart. While time has barred our right to an assertion of that claim, it can never obliterate the memory we cherish for our heroes, whose deeds helped to immortalize the spot. The mountain, with its hallowed associations, standing as it does between us, will always serve, I trust, to bind us closer together in bonds of mutual regard and interest. Upon its historic height I hope to see the representatives of our States gathered on next October in multitudes to commemorate in the centennial celebration the great victory of 1780.

As a part of the patriots who fought for liberty that day were from our sister State, Virginia, I beg to suggest that, in addition to the adoption of the suggestions of Gov. Marks, we invite the Governor of Virginia and the people to participate in the preliminary arrangements and in the grand celebration. I would that the people of North and South Carolina, of Tennessee and Virginia attest to the world by their commemoration of the battle of King's Mountain that they will maintain at all hazards the principle of civil liberty for which their revered ancestors died. I am, dear sir, very truly yours,

THOS. J. JARVIS.

A FOUL CRIME IN CLEVELAND.

An Attempt to Outrage a Colored Girl—Probable Murder.

Shelby Annals. There is living, on Mr. A. P. Austell's plantation, four or five miles south of Shelby, a colored man named Thornton Ellis, who is the father of a girl about 12 years old, named Alice. There also lived (almost in the same house) on the same plantation, a white man who gives his name as Daniel Keigh, and says he came from Little Rock, Ark. On Wednesday evening, the 28th of January, Keigh sent the girl (Alice) to Mr. Austell's farm, where he had some trouble about the house. As soon as Alice started away from the house Keigh started after in the same direction. Not long after they had left Keigh made his appearance at Mr. Robert Ellis's bar-room, which is a short distance from where the girl's father lives. He told Mr. Ellis that he had seen a penitentiary convict in the woods near by and that the convict wanted to swap shirts and shoes with him. He also stated that he and the convict had had some trouble about the matter and that it was with difficulty that he escaped him. He asked Mr. Ellis if he would go and help him arrest the convict. Mr. Ellis said that he would and he got his gun and they started in search of Keigh's convict. They searched the woods until Mr. Ellis got tired, and Keigh got a Mr. Webb to go with him and continue the search. Keigh led the way and it was only a few minutes until they found the girl (Alice) lying in the edge of an old pine field, with her head badly bruised and mangled by what appeared to be a blow from a rock. She was perfectly speechless and thought to be dying at that time, and upon examination it was discovered that the perpetrator of the deed had made an attempt to rape upon the person of the almost infant girl and then tried to cover his crime by murdering the object of his brutal assault. Upon further examination it was discovered that the girl had been led to the place where she was found, against her will, and that the footprints of the person leading her corresponded exactly with the footprints made by Keigh, upon whom suspicion already rested.

Keigh was arrested and lodged in jail in this place. He had a preliminary trial, before Justice Love, on Thursday evening, when he was committed to jail to await trial at the next term of the Superior Court. The evidence before the court was circumstantial, but it all pointed to Keigh as the guilty party. There is little hope of the recovery of the victim.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Vanderbilt and others interested have been discussing a proposed amalgamation of the Pullman and Wagner sleeping car interests, but no decisive action has yet been taken.

The treasurer of the Irish relief fund, of Dublin, acknowledges the receipt of $25,550 from the Parnell meetings, &c., of this country. Over $300,000 is now in the hands of the fund, and is being stated to be in the hands of trustees in various cities, which amount will be transmitted without delay.

The richest silver mine in the world is believed to be the Robert E. Lee mine near Leadville. The sum of $130,000 was recently taken from it in seven hours by working force of forty men. Less than a year ago the mine had only a prospective value.

Three carrier-pigeons flew on a wagger from Baltimore to Washington last week. The swiftest made the forty miles in one hour; the others in three minutes after.

The Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette railroad was sold at Cincinnati yesterday to the purchasing committee for the bondholders for $2,500,000.

Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoag, the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, of Richmond, has announced to his congregation that he intended to leave for Egypt and the Holy Land soon, to be absent some time.

Orvil Grant has been anchored in a small sloop in the Chicago postoffice; work nothing more straining to his suspended neck than applying gum arabic to flaps of envelope which had been passed upon by a secretary; salary $700 a year.

Capt. Eads has arrived from Europe and requests a hearing before the House committee on inter-oceanic canals in favor of his scheme for transporting ships across the Isthmus upon a railway to be built for the purpose.

Postal Matters. One thousand and forty-one postmasters have been commissioned during the past month, which is the greatest number ever commissioned during a like period. The increase of the number of commissions is said to be due to a large number of new postoffices recently established. The opening of the bids for the star mail service in the States of Ohio, Indiana and the Southern States east of the Mississippi river, has just been finished by the Post-Office Department. The number of bids aggregated about 60,000, which exceeds the largest number of bids previously received for one State was 9,000—1 for North Carolina. The number received for Tennessee was 9,100, being the second highest number.

The Chronicle says a difficulty occurred in a bar room in Green Hill, in which one of the participants, John Holcomb, drew a pistol and shot Stephen Landon, the hall passing across Landon's arm and cutting the skin.

Government Tax Sales, Etc.

The House committee on the judiciary has before it the draft of a bill submitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, authorizing him to sell, within two years after the United States has acquired a valid title thereto, all lands acquired in collection of debts due for taxes except those acquired in payment of debts due for direct taxes; and also to dispose of all real estate acquired by gift or devise and not needed for the public use. The secretary has been invited to ask the passage of this bill by reason of a large amount of real estate belonging to the United States, acquired by debt or through gift, and located in every State of the Union. The United States is now the possessor of real estate amounting to some 34,000 acres acquired on account of non-payment of internal revenue dues. Large quantities of this land are located in the rural districts of North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and other Southern States, and therefore not of very great value, but some of it is very valuable property, lying in such cities as Chicago, New York and Atlanta. In Illinois and Kentucky there are several valuable dismilitarized properties forfeited through various causes. The amount of real estate belonging to the government acquired through payment of taxes, other than internal taxes, and otherwise is 130,000 acres, the title to 100,000 of which is believed to be good. Some of this land has been in possession of the government as far back as 1820. A great deal of this is valuable, including lots, improved and unimproved, in Washington, Montgomery, Ala., Savannah, St. Louis, New York, Burlington, Vt., and all the Harper's Ferry property. There are but two pieces of property in Maryland belonging to the government, Islands B and C, in the Potomac at Harper's Ferry, and Kenard's point, in Kent county.
