IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Reader, have you a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlegm? Have you an inflammation of the throat? A series of coughs on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp stitch in the side? A hoarse voice? A raw, sore throat? A dry, tickling cough?

Thoughts.

By sound of name and touch of hand,

Thou'st seen that hand and eye that see,

We know each other in this land—

How little must that knowledge be?

Our souls are all the time alone,

No spirit can another reach;

They hide away in realms unknown,

Like waves that never touch a beach.

We never know each other here,

No soul can here another see—

To know, we need a light as clear

As that which fills the ether.

For here we walk by human light,

But there the light of God is ours;

Each day, on earth, is but a night—

Heaven, where none hath clear-faced hours.

I tell you thus—you call me thus—

Our mortal is the very real;

That parts forever each of us,

As skies on high part star from star.

A name is nothing but a name

For that which else would nameless be;

Until our souls in rapture claim

Full knowledge in eternity. Father Ryan.

OBSERVATIONS.

By the aid of magic mirrors a thin oyster can be reflected into the very heart of a church fair stew.

Some people never know when to stop. The editor of the Buffalo Advertiser writes of a very deep hole without bottom—from Union Army.

Physicians say it takes hours to get over a too sudden rising. We have observed the same thing in connection with falling.

"I think the turkey has the advantage of you," said the landlady to the inebriated tourist who was carving. "Guess it has 'mum—in a go."

The only difference between a pig making a glutton of itself, and a man making a pig of himself, is that the pig at some future day will be cured.

"Where's your partner, this morning, Mr. Hyson? The neighbor asked the grocer. "Don't know for certain," cautiously replied the old man.

"He died last night."

The Lockport Union says: "We notice an article in an exchange headed 'How to Restore Life.'"

We shall doubt its efficacy, however, until it is tried on the greenback party. If it succeeds in galvanizing that corpse into activity, the owner of the paper has an inebriated bonanza within his grasp."

Yonkers Statesman.

It was proposed to erect a monument in the village square to the Father of his Country, and Squire Higgins was called upon for a liberal donation. "I can't give anything this time," he said,

"but you may know that I always carry Washington in my heart." "Well," answered the man with the subscription paper, "if I can say I have the Father of his Country in a very tight

A DELIGHTFUL PICTURE.

A Pen and Ink Portrait of a Notorious Carpet-Bagger by a Carpet-Bagger.

Washington Paper.

Meeting, accidentally, an old friend,

Hon. Henry C. Worthington, who was the first member of Congress from Nevada, and who after the rebellion returned to South Carolina, and there became the Warwick of that State, making Governors of that State, United States Senators, and all that sort of thing, we stopped and talked.

"Gen. Worthington has been filling up his leisure by writing a history of the rehabilitation of South Carolina.

Through his effective work, almost wholly, did the Hon. J. J. Patterson come to the United States Senate.

"Gen. Worthington turned me to some passages in his history of the State of South Carolina, and I struck upon what might be entitled, 'A personal and ink portrait of a notorious carpet-bagger by a carpet-bagger,' and I read

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

What the People of the Cape Fear

Region Should Think About It.

Wilmington Star.

What will the people of the Cape Fear section do about the gubernatorial candidate? The late Governor Dudley, a name honored and revered in this section, was elected in 1837. Since his term of office expired the Cape Fear section has had no Governor or Lieutenant-Governor. Are our people content with this arrangement? Why should an extensive, rich, large tax paying section be tabooed whenever offices are to be distributed? If our people are indispensable in electing others, they ought to have some showing, now and then—in the course of a half century or so—in the distribution of the more important and distinguished offices. What say the people of Duplin, Sampson, Brunswick, Bladen, Colum-biana, Cumberland and other counties?

Are you content to hear longer this inequality in the selection of gubernatorial candidates? Think of it: Morehead was from Guilford, Graham was from Orange, the adjoining county.

Manly was from Wake, the adjoining Orange. Reid from Rockingham, that adjoins Guilford. Bragg was from Northampton, one of the northern border counties like Rockingham. Ellis was from Rowan, farther west, but the northern border. And if Manly was from Buncombe and Mecklenburg

Worth from Randolph, which like Buncombe is a western county. If you will consult a map you will see that in forty years there has not been a Governor taken from a section of the State embracing about two-thirds of the territory, and which pays more than two-thirds of the taxes. That is to say, run a line from Buncombe by way of Randolph and Wake to Northampton, and you will find two-thirds of the State left out in the cold without any Governor since Edward B. Dudley was elected in 1837. How long are these things to continue? We pause for a reply.

Will the people act in their township and county conventions? We will see.

It is true Gov. Jarvis is from Tyrrell, on the extreme east, but he is Governor by accident, so to speak. He was not elected as such. But if he had been elected Governor, he hails from section far removed from the Cape Fear region.

Fresh Signs of Prosperity in France.

Baltimore Sun.

In spite of all the drawbacks, France is one of the thirteenth and most prosperous States in Europe. Perhaps we ought to say the most prosperous of any. She not only carries easily the burden of her five milliards of francs of war debt, but by wise financial
