THE WESTERN N. C. RAILROAD.

To the exclusion of our usual variety of matter this morning we surrender much space on our outside pages to the publication of the proceedings of the board of directors of the Western North Carolina Railroad, at their recent session in Raleigh, to consider the proposition made by the Best "syndicate" to purchase the road. This great enterprise, if we may except a sort of a qualified interest in the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad, is all that is left to North Carolina for all that she has spent for internal improvements. Her interests in the Raleigh '& Gaston, the Wilmington & Weldon, and the Carolina Central have disappeared under the auctioneer's hammer, and the result of circumstances, mainly the result of the war, which could not be foreseen. She may or may not still have an interest in the Fayetteville and Western sion? Is the law in force? Railroad, and whatever interest she may still retain in the great North hitched up and tied out for thirty years. | first Monday in April, begins to attract

The board of directors, as we think, ficant signs of the times, worthy the atwisely declined to recommend the call- tention of the Republican political leading of an extraordinary session of the ers, is the unanimous opposition of the and labor decided to-day to report ad-Best proposition. We have never yet Gen. Grant." The Press adds: "If there the fund from the unclaimed pay and the Swannanoa, and the appropriation | ject." of seventy thousand dollars per annum will be in force until the end of the year at least. All the necessary employes, beside the convict labor, has been regularly employed until the end of the year, and President Wilson, who voted against the calling of the extra session, does not seem to be in very great distress for money. This sudden inspiration to get the old thing off our hands, and get it off quickly, makes us begin to believe there is a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere. We confess that to all appearances the "proposition" looks perfectly fair, and we have never charged to the contrary. We have said so far "turn on the light," and we will be content with nothing less. It is believed here that Gov. Jarvis is in sympathy with the "syndicate," else why should it be necessary for him to go to Washington to consult with Col. Buford and Tom Scott's representatives. We do not desire to do the Gov- ally. The procession included a body ernor any injustice, and we give him credit for being an astute politician, but wiser men than he have dug their po- came the band of the royal household, litical graves by less matters than the sale of three millions of dollars worth of public property. We have not forgotten that he has already fallen into the blunder of the "North Carolina System," so-called, that is expected to build up Richmond at our expense. The trap was set to catch Gov. Vance, but he couldn't "see it." Gov. Jarvis went over soul and body. A few months ago there was wild talk about the Clyde line of steamers that were expected to plow up the waters of Beaufort harbor | the procession were crowded with specin their effort to waft North Carolina productions to the East Indies, and other foreign countries, and on their return to bring back such rich cargoes, though beggaring Wilmington, as would make our little visionary port the largest on the Atlantic coast, but all that is now numbered with the dead past. That was "buncombe" talk, and we don't know exactly how much of the same thing can be found in the Governor's present recommendations, or in the Raleigh Observer's italics, but we do know that it will be prudent to spend three millions of dollars to erect a fine mansion and then stop without putting a roof on it. This is about the comparative condition in which we find our railroad, and we do not despair of seeing our Legislature rise to the sublimity of patriotism and 'good statesmanship, if ever the occasion should come.

It is conceded that the bill introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. Reagan, of Texas, to regulate commerce between the States has been effectually killed by the adverse report of the committee to whom it had been referred. The bill was bitterly opposed by representatives of leading railroads would seriously implicate inter-State traffic. An Apology Made and Accepted. WASHINGTON, February 12.-The New York Times this morning publishes a private correspondence between Senator Gordon and Representative Stephens, with reference to the personal misunderstanding which arose between them at a recent meeting of the Senate census committee. The letters, it is understood, were furnished to the Times by Representative Stephens, Senator harsh and angry words to Mr. Stephens, but says the latter had done him great injustice, both in private conversation and in the statement made before the committee that he (Gordon) favored supervisor in the first census district of Georgia.

Mr. Stephens, in reply, accepts Mr. Gordon's apology, but refuses to admit that there was any provocation on his part for Mr. Gordon's words. He says he meant nothing offensive to General Gordon in repeating what he had heard about the latter's favoring the appointment of Major Smythe. The only object of his remark before the committee was to show that the objectionable words in Mr. Simmons's letter of application, taken in their proper connection, were not subject to the construction which Gen. Gordon placed upon them.
