Patent Medicines.

Dr. TUTT'S

Expectorant!

IN 25CTS. AND 51 BOTTLES.

Its properties are Demulcent, Nutritive Balaamic, Soothing and Healing.

Combining all these qualities, it is the most effective LUNG BALSAM ever offered to sufferers from pulmonary disease.

DR. J. F. HAYWOOD,

of New York, voluntarily indorses it.

—READ WHAT HE SAYS:—

Dr. TUTT: During this year I had no hundred cases of lung disease in the lower wards of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was my misfortune to be called to visit a patient, and to confess my ignorance as to his wonderful power.

During a previous of twenty years, I have used various medicines to act as promptly, and with such happy effects. It instantly subdued the most violent fits of coughing, and invariably cured the disease in a few days. I cheerfully indorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

Office, Evening News, Augusta, Ga.

Dr. TUTT: Dear Sir—My little son, was attacked with pneumonia last winter, which left him with a violent cough, that lasted all within a month since, for the cure of which I consulted your wonderful Expectorant. I had tried most every thing long enough, but it instantly subdued the most violent

a few days. I cheerfully indorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

JOHN M. WATKINS.

Had terrible NIGHT SWEATS.

Memphis, Feb. 11, 1879.

Dr. TUTT: Sir—I have been suffering for nearly two years with a severe cough. When I commenced to take your Expectorant, I was enabled to sleep and eat, and in a few days I was enabled to leave my bed. I have since used your Expectorant and find it to be the best medicine I ever used.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Reader, have you caught a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlegm? Have you an inflation in the throat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in the region of the heart, staggers and back? If so, our Advice is take at once a dose of Tutts' Expectorant, you will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot iron to the feet, take two of Tutts' Pills. You will soon fall into a pleasant sleep and wake up in the morning strong and long working freely. Any breathing and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.

CONVICTION OF "SHEPHERD"

COWLEY.

End of a Celebrated Case—Starving and Ill-Treating Charity Children.

As stated in the associated press dispatches yesterday Rev. Edward Cowley, manager of the Shepherd's Fold, an asylum for poor children in New York, who has been on trial for the past eight days in the Court of General Sessions, in that city, for starving and cruelly ill-treating children under his care in that institution, was Wednesday convicted of the offenses. The prisoner was overcome at the announcement and wept bitterly. His counsel moved for arrest of judgment, but the district attorney pressed for sentence.

The court finally remanded the prisoner until yesterday, and he was taken to the Tombs prison by officers. The extreme penalty of the offense is one year in prison and $250 fine.

During the summing up of the case

Tuesday, District Attorney Phelps made some effective quotations from Dickens, giving each character its proper tone and dialect. Referring to the milk given to the little victims of the "Shepherd's" wolfish treatment, he recalled an incident in the life of Nicholas Nickleby, and read of the brutal and hypocritical schoolmaster Squeers, (bowing to Mr. Cowley,) and a plate worthy (Squeers) sat at breakfast at an inn with three little boys, Squeers having before himself a measure of coffee, a plate of hot toast and a plate of cold roast beef, while he prepared for the little boys a breakfast described as follows:

"This is two penny worth of milk, is it, waiter?" said Mr. Squeers, looking down into a large blue mug and slanting it gently, so as to get an accurate view of the quantity of liquor contained in it.

"That's two penny worth, sir," replied the waiter.

"What a rare article milk is, to be sure, in London!" said Mr. Squeers, with a sigh, "Just fill that mug up with lukewarm water, William, will you?"

"To the very top, sir?" inquired the waiter. "Why, the milk will be drowned."

"Never you mind that," replied Mr.

Squeers, "serve it right for being so dear. You ordered that thick bread and butter for three did you?"

"Coming directly, sir."

"You needn't flatter yourself," said Squeers; "there's plenty of time. Conquer your passions, boys, and don't be eager after vittles." As he uttered this moral precept Mr. Squeers took a large bite of the cold beef.

During the reading the audience was in a general smile, and No. 8 in the jury leaned forward in his chair and enjoyed it immensely, and at the finish, as Mr. Phelps threw down the book, laughing with the audience in a loud laugh. Mr. Phelps continued, and referred to Cowley's dietary at the Shepherd's Fold, said: "Then the bread, Mr. Cowley being a credit customer got bread at 7 cents a bushel out of the house, and a half year he had run up a bill of less than $425, a little calculation will
