"God has not breathed the breath of life into the nostrils of the man, or set of men, who can again thwart and defeat the fairly and legally expressed will of this people—mark that!"—HON.
W. H. ENGLISH; OF INDIANA, IN NEW

-LETTER FROM OUR STAFF COR-RESPONDENT.

The confusion which resulted from the re-assembling of a Legislature that never expected to meet again, having cleared away the situation here is more easily a certained, and can now be more definitely defined. For the first two days it was not known whether or not it would be possible to enact any new laws or repeal any already in existence, and for this reason many members who came to Raleigh with instructions from their constituency to nesday), however, it is pretty well setfive makes its report on

THE RAILROAD QUESTION.

This committee meets with open doors in the Sanate chamber, and twothirds of the members of both Houses attend its sessions. Indeed it is understood that the fight will be made in the committee room. Mr. Dortch's speech is generally regarded as a very strong one, but the objection urged against it is that his a shown by his bill already published is impracticable. "True, Mr. Dortch has shown us," said a member of the committee, "that there are several very serious objections to the sale of the property, but what is he going to do with it? Convict labor can't be worked without money. The State certainly will not appropriate another cent towards its completion; the road don't pay its own expenses, and hence can't furnish any funds. It's perfect felly to talk about the State being able to make money out of it, if private individuals can. Experience teaches the very reverse of

The committee has just met for the second time, and it is understood that Capt. C. M. Cooke, of Franklin, a men.ber of the board of internal improvements, will open the argument against Mr. Dortch's position. Gen. Leach, who introduced the Best bill, will also speak shortly on the same side. This bill, by the way, has received an amendment since it was published. Just before it was introduced, Mr. J. S. Henderson, of Rowan, had an interview with Mr. withdraw the clause exempting the property from taxation, and in this form it is now before the committee.

THE REPORT.

Of course it is impossible, as yet, to determine when the committee will make its report, but ivery few are dis-posed to doubt what that report will be, when it is made, unless there are some very important developments in relation to the proposed contract with Mr. Best within the next few days. Most of the members of the committee, and indeed most of the members of the Legislature, had made up their minds on the railroad question before they arrived in Raleigh at is believed by some that a minority report will be made by Mr. Dortch and his friends, and it is possible that the Republican members of the committee will vote with the minority.

POSITION OF THE REPUBLICANS. Lasked a leading Republican of the House, Dr. Norment, of Boheson, if the Republican members' would vote as a party against the sale. He said that he did not think they would, or at least no such determination had been arrisubject De referred to the presence in Raleigh of another party, a Col. time, upon which to base such a report. THE LEGISLATURE.

The sessions of both branches to-day were very short, being taken up with the consideration of matters of local interest to the several members. The Republicans are brging that some action be taken in relation to the seat of young Etheridge, of Bertie, which is contested by a colored man named Robbins. This matter was before the committee on privileges and elections at the last session, but was not acted on, owing to the failure, until just before the adjournment, of the contestant to furnish the proper proof. Both Etheridge and Robbins received pay for attendance at the last session. The whole question has been referred to the judiciary committee.

It was stated in a previous letter that road law which applies to Mecklenburg. Forsyth and Stokes, when it came up in the Senate, and that he did this because he proposes to amend it, still believing, notwithstanding the petition signed with three hundred names, that it is a good law, when properly administered. The amendments which he proposes to add, and which Messrs. Brown and Ardrey will endeavor to get through the House, are briefly as follows:

First to incorporate the magistrates of each township under the name of township trustees, and give the supervision and control of the public roads that lie wholly within their respective townships to such trustees, the county commissioners to have only the power to open and close public roads that run into two or more townships.

Second, that the trustees have charge of the building and repairing of all Best, during which he induced him to bridges that do not cost over $200, the commissioners having charge of all

Third, that the commissioners may farm out convicts of the county to any person to work on the roads under the direction of a supervisor, and allow such person not exceeding 30 cents per day for each convict, the person contracted with bearing all expenses and the commissioners furnishing the necessary tools, shackles, &c.

Fourth, that each supervisor shall receive not exceeding $1.50 per day, and 5 per centum of the taxes worked out under him; and all supervisors having charge of more than twenty-five hands shall not receive more than $12 in any one year, and no supervisor shall receive more than $25.

Fifth, that in opening a new road, no more than five jurors shall be summoned.

The amendments will also provide for insuring the collection of the road tax from every individual, and for the settlement of the tax with the trustees instead of the county treasurer.

Capt. Alexander has taken a very decided stand on this matter, and one ved at as yet. The question then recurred on the amendment submitted by every other man's, and especially against the appropriations committee, appropriating $000,000 for the payment of marshals. The amendment offered by Hiscock, extending the appropriations to the payment of special deputy marshals was voted down-yeas, 105; nays,

> Springer, under the direction the committee on offered an amendment appropriating $7,600 for special deputy marshals, with the proviso that hereafter general and special deputy marshals shall be appointed by the judge of the United States district court in the district where such officers are to serve; that they shall not be more than three or less than two in number for each voting precinct; shall be of different political parties; able to read and write, and well known residents of the politiper day as full compensation for their services at any election,

Garfield offered as a substitute for Springer's amendment, an amendment ncreasing the pay of the general and special deputy marshals to five dollars per day, and striking out so much of Springer's amendment as restricts the number of such officers, prescribes that they shall belong to different political parties, be of good character, &c.

Cox, of New York, said he was opposed to any recognition of the special deputy marshals, or of Federal supervisors over elections; "for one," he said, "I will not place the Supreme Court as Senator Alexander, of Mecklenburg, now packed, partisan and demoralized had killed the House bill to repeal the road law which applies to Mecklenburg of the country." [Applause on the Democratic side.] After some further debate, Simonton. of Tennessee, moved an amendment to Garfield's substitute so as to leave it in the exact form of Springer's amend ment, with the exception of the exclusion from its provisions of general deputy marshals. The bill authorizing and directing the Secretary of the Navy to introduce cotton cordage into the naval service was again considered. Mr. Vance advocated it as encourag-ng an important American industry. Mr. Conkling objected to making the departments agents for experiment as to the utility of inventions. amendment striking out the word "di recting" was rejected. Mr. Vance moved to amend the bill so as to read: "That the Secretary of the Navy be authorized and directed to introduce into the naval service rope and cordage manufactured of cotton, according to recent methods, to such an extent as will furnish a fair test of the value and efficiency there, as compared with the kinds now in use." amendment was agreed to and the bill read the third time and passed.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the Senate proceeded to consider the house bill for the establishment of titles on Hot Springs, Ark., the question being on the substitute reported by the Senate committee on public lands. This substitute provides for an appeal on the contested cases to the court of claims, instead of to the circuit court, and reduces the assessment of commissioners by fifty per cent. After a long debate, the Senate adjourned without action on the bill.

Loss of Life on the Lebanon Valle

Road. NEW YORK, March 18 .- A serious accident occurred on the Lebanon Valley Railroad last night, at Annville, Pa. One train was standing on the switch waiting for the night express to pass and a number of its passengers had alighted and were walking up and down the main track. The night was dark and the approach of the night express was not noticed until it dashed into the group of careless passengers, at a speed of forty miles an hour. Three men were killed and a number badly injured.

It is a universally acknowledged fact that Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters are Superior to all Others. The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price, it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients, which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases.
