Hanquet to the Governor's Guards---Firemen's Celebration-The Ball-peculiar to the celebration of the 20th, which ended with the disbanding of the procession at Independence Square, the crowd of visitors in the city amused themselves in a variety of ways. The most noteworthy occurrence of the afternoon was the given the Governor's Gnards by their hosts, the Hornets' Nest Riflemen, which began at 3 o'clock. The armory, which has been greatly improved recently, was elaborately decorated with festoons and ornamented with pictures and flowers. Four large tables stood in the centre of the room weighted down with a happy mixture of delicacies and substantials which the lady friends of the members had taxed their knowledge of the art of cooking to prepare. The dishes had been arranged with exquisite taste and the continuous line of edibles was relieved by magnificent bouquets of rare flowers.

Promptly at the hour designated, the Governor's Guards, and some fifty or armory. The entire company were comfortably seated, and were waited upon by the Hornets, who spared nothing for the comfort and entertainment of their guests. In a short time the popping of champagne began, and with it, the festivity of the occasion. When the meal was nearly over the company grew impatient for toasts and speeches. There were loud calls for Gen. Taylor, who responded in an exceedingly happy speech, welcoming on the part of the State Guard, the gallant company from Columbia. Capt. Wilie Jones was then called for and introduced Judge Crawford, of Columbia, an honorary member of the company, who responded in a brilliant and eloquent speech, delivered in an exceedingly effective manner, in the course of which he paid a handsome tribute to the soldiers of North Carolina, and expressed himself as overpowered by the kindness and hospitalities of his hosts. Round after round of applause interrupted the speaker and greeted him at the close of the address. Capt. Harrison Watts gracefully replied on the part of his company, alluding with special emphasis to the handsome manner in which the company had been entertained by the Guards on the occasion of visits to Columbia, and expressing the hope that the ties of friendship which had been formed between the two companies might continue to grow stronger. Lt. Moss, of the H. N. R's, also responded in a happy manner to calls. This speech, was followed by others from Maj. W. W. Fleming, of the Grays, Gen. Jno. A. Young, Col. Worth and others, all of whom were applanded to the echo. The banquet was prolonged to a late hour in the afternoon and was universally conceded to have been the most successful affair of the kind ever had in Charlotte. The visitors, with one accord, expressed themselves as delighted, and the Hornets' Nest Riflemen received congratulations on every

THE FIREMEN'S BANQUET. The Charlotte fire companies, the whole department, without regard to the prtty distinction of a difference in the name of companies, always celebrate the 20th of May, and we may say that to their enthusiaism, if not real patriotism, in a large measure is due a regular observance of this custom. It is always a festive occasion and this year was not an exception to the rule. Just after night-fall the firemen and their friends, whose mane is legion, assempled in the armory of the Charlotte Grays, and a magnificient supper and liquid refreshments were furnished for the inner man until late hours. Joy and fun ran high, and numerous speeches were made, all under the plea that the annual return of the 20th must be observed, and the firemen were the boys

DEPARTURE OF THE GUARDS. At to clock the long roll was sounded from the H. N. R. armory and the two companies met to bid each other good-bye. A few moments later the Guards were marching to the depot and in a short time were on the train. Be-fore leaving, they were presented with the historic hornet's nest. The H. N. It's were delighted with their guests and only hope they were as well pleaswith their visit.

ADVERTISING CHEATS. It has become so common to write the begin-ling of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possi-ble, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.

SYNOPSIS OF YESTERDAY'S PRO-CEEDINGS

WASHINGTON, May 21.-SENATE.-Bayard moved to postpone the calendar and take up the marshals bill for reasons which he did not care to obtrude on the Senate. He was extremely anxious to leave the city to-day, and wished to have the measure disposed of, if possible, before he was obliged to leave. The motion was agreed to.

The pending question was on Conk-ling's amendment to insert the words "appointed only," so the bill would refer to deputy marshals "appointed only" to serve in connection with elections. It was rejected by a party vote. Hoar moved to strike out the words in equal numbers from the different political parties" and insert the words "solely with reference to their fitness for their duties, without regard to their political opinions." This amendment was rejected by a party vote. McMillan moved to add to the bill a proviso that marshals of the United States for whom deputies shall be at-not be liable for any of the acts of these deputies. 3in this proposition, and accepted it. The amendment was agreed to.

opposition to the bill, arguing that the special deputies for which it provided were to be entirely out of the control to select district delegates and delegates of executive officers, and were to have at large. This was adopted by 389 ayes no control over one another. The result would be several deputies of different parties, all practically marshals in chief, and quarreling or liable to quarrel among themselves. Fur-vailed at 1:15 a.m. thermore, the bill did not specify the Springfild, Ill. length of time that these special deputies were to serve, nor define the power with which they were invested.

There was nothing in the bill to indicate the power of the ceremonies of the ceremonies of the ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies of the ceremo it provided were to have the same powers as those conferred on special deputies by the present law. After some few other remarks he of-

> At 5:30, consideration of the bill having been finished, it was read the third time and passed. Some discussion then took place upon the question whether the Senate should resume consideration of the Kellogg-Spofford resolutions or give preference to Morgan's resolution with regard to the presidential electoral count. The Senate, by a vote of 25 to 14, finally decided in favor of the latter. All the Democrats voted for taking up Morgan's resolution without reference to their attitude toward the Kellogg resolutions. The Senate then adjourned. House.-On motion of Evins, of South Carolina, the Senate bill to furnish a bronze statue of Gen. Dan'l Morgan to the Cowpens centennial committee, of Spartanburg, S. C., was taken from the Speaker's table and passed.

The House then as the regular order proceeded to the consideration of the bills reported yesterday from the committee of the whole relative to public lands. The first bill to be considered was that relative to trespasses on public lands. According to agreement entered into yesterday, Robinson, of Mississippi, offered an amendment limiting have taken material from public lands in ordinary clearing of lands, in working mining claims, or for agricultural or domestic purposes, or for maintaining improvements on the land of any bona fide settler, or who, without fault or knowledge, or trespass, took or used

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS. ILLINOIS FOR GRANT.

ACTION OF THE SPRINGFIELD CONVENTION.

A Stormy Session and the Grant Men Victorious --- A Minority Protest En-

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 21.—The Republican convention adopted the following resolution-386 to 307-and the result was greeted with tremendous applause: "Resolved, That Gen. U. S. Grant, of Illinois, is the choice of this convention for President of the United States." A motion to substitute the name of E. B. Washburne was lost.

A motion was made that the various Congressional districts select the delegates and alternates to the national convention, and that said delegates and alternates be declared the choice of this convention. This would have resulted in the choice of Blaine delegates in several districts, and opened a great contest before the convention. The mo-tion was strongly opposed by Senator Logan. Several delegates favored the pointed by a court under this act shall motion. This was unsuccessful, and the previous question ordered.
