L. ARTHUR O'NEALL, may 16

They say this life is barren, drear and cold. Ever the same sad song was sung of old, Ever the same long weary tale is told. And to our lips is held the cup of strife, And yet—a little love can sweeten life.

They say our hands may grasp but joys destroyed. Youth has but dreams, and age an aching void, Whose Dead-sea fruit long, long ago has cloyed, Whose night with wild tempestuous storms is rife and yet a little hope can brighten life.

They say we fling ourselves in wild despair Amidst the broken treasures scattered there, Where all is wrecked, where all once promised fair; and stab ourselves with sorrow's two edged knife-

Is it then true, this tale of bitter grief, Of mortal anguish finding no relief? Lo! midst the winter shines the laurel's leaf: Three Angels share the lot of human strife, Three Angels glorify the path of life. Love, Hope, and Patience cheer us on our way, Love, Hope, and Patience form our spirit's stay, Love, Hope, and Patience watch us day by day, And bid the desert bloom with beauty vernal, Until the Earthly fades in the Eternal.

OBSERVATIONS.

When a man is shot in Kansas, says the Boston Post, the verdict is that he died a natural death. Sald a Chicago belle: "I despise those St. Louis girls. They can't work their jaws three minutes without hissing out the all-firedest slang. Oh, you bet that's so!"

"Are you a home ruler?" was asked of one of the candidates at the late election. A voice from the back seats answered, "No, but his wife is." His name is not "May-I-shoot-a-long-horned-cow"—that is, if the King of Slam's name is re-ferred to. He writes it this way: "Mahah Chuta-long korn Klow."

An up-town jeweller hung a watch in the window and labeled it. "Look at this watch for $10," and the unsophisticated gentleman from Africa who stated at the article then went in and wanted the Better keep your eyeballs on me, man," said a colored delegate, reaching down into his trousers and producing the basis of a barber-shop. "I b'longs to de carvelry, I duz." The chap who grumbles so loudly when his wife asks him to put up the clothes line is generally the first one to rush upon the stage and be half an hour tying a female medium in the cabinet

John Sherman's strongest claim for the nomina-tion is that he will feel the worst if he doesn't get it. A Remarkable Chapter in the History of Crime. To-day Thomas Webb (white) was discharged from the penitentiary where he had served out a term of three years shape of two perfectly developed childfor shooting and wounding his brother. webb belongs to a family with a remarkable history. It seems that Thos. Webb was his father's favorite son, and it was generally known that he would inherit the most valuable part of the old man's property. His elder brother, Gen. H. Webb, determined to get him out of the way and was laying in wait for him with a double-barreled shotgun, upon learning which fact Thomas armed himself with a rifle, and coming upon the General in the woods, blazed away. The ball went through his brother's shoulder, inflicting a painful but not serious wound. He was tried for this offence and sent to the penitentiary for three years.

Some time after being shot by his brother, Gen. Webb was himself sent to the penitentary for shooting, and was discharged from that institute and was discharged from that institution in October, 1878. Last year he murdered his father-in-law, who was his uncle as well. He did this to get the old man's property. For this crime he was hung in Carroll county about three months

Reporting a Sermon by Telephone. Special Dispatch to the Philadelphia Times.

WILLIAMSPORT, May 30.—This morning the church of Rev. Thomas K. Beecher, Elmira, was connected with the Gazette and Bulletin office of this city by telephone, and a portion of his sermon stenographically reported for the paper. The wires of the American Union Telegraph Company, were used and the prayer, announcement of the hymn and text were distinctly heard. Nearly every word of the speaker could be heard in Williamsport during the course of an ordinary sermon, and the music by the organ could be heard as plainly as if it had been only fifty feet away. The church bells in Elmira were also heard in Williamsport, ringing clear and distinct. The only drawback to hearing nearly every word ut-tered by Mr. Beecher was when the cars and engines were passing over the track of the Erie Railway in Elmira and on the track of the Northern Central, This had the effect of deadening the sound; otherwise the experiment was a success, and demonstrated that the telephone can be used for hearing sermons a hundred miles away. The distance between Williamsport and Elmira is seventy-eight miles.

Two Robins Hang a Sparrow.

About one hundred persons witnessed a curious spectacle at Lansingburg, N. Y., recently. It was nothing more nor less than a bird execution.

An English sparrow had by some means incurred the displeasure of a pair of red-breasted robins, nested in a tree near Rawson Hall. A fight took place between the sparrow and robins on the rear of the roof of the Rawson Hall building. The sparrow fought pluckily, until all at once one of the robins flew off while the other kept up the fighting. The robin messenger soon returned with a piece of cord that was soon wound around the sparrow's neck, and the end held in the bill of one of the executioners. This done the sparrow was forced off the edge of the roof and briskly attacked by the other robin. Thus situated the sparrow was comparatively helpless and in a short time hung suspended by the neck, dead. Troy (N. Y.) Press. time hung suspended by the neck, dead. After holding their victim and picking him until assured he was beyond resurtheir nest in the tree, singing merrily,

Emigrants for Liberia

The bark Monrovia, sailed from New York Saturday for Monrovia, Liberia, with seventy-six colored emigrants. They are sent out by the American Colonization Seciety, which will take care of them for six months after their arrival. Forty-four are over twelve vears of age, and most of the men are farmers. Miss Scott, a missionary who came to New York to raise money to build a girl's school-house, is a passenger. A party of emigrants sailed last week in the bark Liberia, and eleven remained in New York awaiting an opportunity to go.

Is There Such a Thing as Luck?

In view of the coming census returns to be made in June next, some curious statistician has been calculating from the past experience of the drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery, which takes place with exact fairness every month and semi-annually under the care and supervision of Gens. G. T. Beauregard, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., the prospect of getting a prize by the investment of from one dollar to ten for a whole or part ticket. The large capital prizes of $100,000, $50,000, $20,000, etc., are captured by individuals without any rule of periodicity beyond the certainty that some one will draw them on the certain day. But no one draws the capital prize twice. The other facts are strikingly confirmatory of the modern discovery that there is such a thing as luck. But for the further information desired let any one interested write to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broad-

A STORY ABOUT GRANT.

---How He Was Surprised by Van Dorn and Lost His Sword and Uniform.

FRANKFORT, May 28.—Col. C. E. Bow man, Commissioner of Agriculture, tells this unwritten story concerning the Man on Horseback: At the time of Van Dorn's raid on Holly Springs, Grant had his headquarters in the house of a relation of the Colonel's, a Mr. Heber Craft, now living in McComb City, Louisiana. One day at the dinner table a remark was made concerning the permanent occupancy of the town by the Federals. when Mrs. Craft, in a woman's characteristic earnestness, said: "Don't be too sure of that. Our boys will be along shortly, and then we will see about the permanent occupancy." She had no knowledge of Van Dorn's intended raid. but made the remark in a bantering style only. Great was her surprise to hear, in less than fifteen minutes afterward, that the rebels were in town and after the Man on Horseback. In his haste to elude them and get away on the train Grant left his uniform and sword at Mrs. Craft's house. The train was barely out of sight, having on board Grant and his staff, when Van Dorn rode up to Mrs. Craft's house in the hope of bagging the Federal Commander and the whole party. He found Mrs. Grant, but not the General. Mrs. Craft, who was not only a true Southern woman, but a true, high-minded lady, hid the General's sword and uniform, for fear their capture, after what she had said at the dinner-table, would make Grant suspect she had violated the rules of hospitality in attempting to betray him to Van Dorn. She said that Grant, on his return to Holly Springs, was surprised and greatly rejoiced to find his trappings safe, but he nor the chronicler of that raid knew why they were not captured.

A SINGULAR MONSTROSITY.

Two Bodies Joined Together in a Way that Eclipses the Siamese Twins. Philadelphia Times.

Dr. Philip Leidy, of this city, has presented to the Wistar and Horner Museum of the University of Pennsylvania a rare and valuable curiosity to medical science. It is a monstrosity in the ren, joined together from the shoulders to the hips, and known in medical literature as omphalopagus gastro thora-co didymus, meaning a combination of the anatomical parts connected, in the light of which the Siamese twins are cast far into the shade. The twins, if they may be called such, are females, weighing fourteen pounds, and were still-born, having been removed by the Cæsarian operation, the mother surviving twenty-two hours. Dr. Leidy says there is no record in American medical iterature of such another case, and it is claimed that there is but one case of the kind ever reported, that mentioned by Dr. Voorman, a German physician, in an exhaustive treatise on monstrosi-ties. There are five different species of this form of monstrosity, of which the above is regarded as the crowning spe-cimen, the one of the most rare occurrence. The Siamese twins belonged to one of the series. First, according to medical men, two bodies may be joined at the thorax; next at the sternum; next at the ziphoid cartilage; fourth, at the abdomen, and fifth, at all four 50,000 Yards of Best Calico, 8 1-3, places combined, and of this kind is the specimen in the possession of Dr. Lei-dy. The monstrosity, which is regarded as a great contribution to medical science, was removed on Friday last by Dr. Leidy, assisted by Drs. J. Collins and J. R. Partenheimer.

No Hebrews Admitted. Considerable stir has been created in New York over the announcement that Mr. Lackmier, proprietor of St. Mark's Hotel, Staten Island, had positively refused to furnish accommodations to Mrs. Jacobi, wife of an eminent Hebrew medical practitioner, of New York, and her family. Mrs. Jacobi occupies a most envise social position, is a descendant of Gen. Israel Putnam, of revolutionary memory, is a sister of George P. Putnam, the well-known putlisher, and has never embraced the Hebrew religion. According to Mrs. Jacobi's statement, which is confirmed by the landlord, when she announced her name he replied: "We have decided not to take any Hebrews this year; we felt that they injured us last year." Lack-mier said though Mrs. Jacobi was not a Hebrew, she "would be entering wedge in St. Mark's new policy that would not leave it whole a week, and that to admit a member of a Jewish family at the start would hardly be a fair way to

A Winking Photograph. The Last new kink in photography surpasses the ingenuity of the man who invented the spirit photographs, and suggests how handy it would have been had that crafty person added this to his devices. A Frenchman takes one negative of a sitter with open eyes. Then he makes the sitter shut his eyes and remain in exactly the same position while another negative is taken. The two negatives are printed on the same paper, one on each side, exactly coinciding. When this doubled-faced picture is held in proper position before a lamp, and the lamp is rapidly moved or exactly to the lamp. the lamp is rapidly moved or caused to flicker, the curious effect is produced of long-continued winking. It is not claimed that a person looks more beautiful when he keeps winking, but it cannot be denied that it gives one a very interesting appearance.

The arrest was in consequence of the appearance on the streets of printed placards, the contents of which the city papers had refused to publish, and which Mr. Beveridge inveighs in the most scurrilous langauge against Mr. Royall for having "on several occasions written me (Beveridge) up in your (Royall's) sheet." Both were admitted to bail in $1,000 each for their appearance before the police court tomorrow.

Kearney as a Delegate,

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—At the Sand Lot to-day Kearney announced that he would leave for Chicago Wednesday to attend the Greenback Convention. If the platform suited him he would stump the State for it, and if the workingmen did not like it he would organize a party in its support. If the platform proved unsatisfactory to the California Workingmen they could confine themselves to local issues.
