+81 Bingham Schools.

The catalogue of the Bingham school for the year ending June 1, 1880, is before us. The exhibit is better than ever The roll contains 189 names, representing ten Southern and four Northern States, District of Columbia, South America (Brazil), Europe, (Scotland), and Asia, (Siam)—a number and area unprecedented in the history of Southern schools. Those best acquainted with the school say that the discipline and appointed Maj. Jas. W. Wilpline and instruction were never as good as at present, and that the satisfaction given to patrons and pupils was never as great. An advertisement of this school appears elsewhere.

Departure of the Greenville Party-Their Visit.

The Greenville party, including the Esther company, left on a special train yesterday morning at 1:30 for home, many of them going directly from the hop, given them by the Picasure Club, to the depot. Our people will be glad to know that they were highly pleased with their visit and with the efforts made to render their stay pleasant. The success of the presentation of "Esther" was the common topic on the streets yesterday. The visit of the party will be cherished as the beginning of yery pleasant social relations between very pleasant social relations between the people of the two cities now brought so close together by the facili-ties of the Air-Line Railroad,

There is perhaps no tonic diered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the flop litters. Sanitary Matters.

Owing to the absence of one of the members of the committee appointed to investigate the charges against Sanitary Policeman Kendrick, the matter has not yet been disposed of, but pending the investigation he has sent his resignation to the mayor who received it and appointed H. C. Irvin in his stead. The appointed will under his stead. The appointee will under-take the work in a few days, and it may be remarked en passant that there is much for him to do. The odors which arise in various parts of the city after night-fall, and especially after mid-night, indicate the immediate necessity of a thorough cleansing.

The action of the board of Aldermen in raising the price of a license to retail liquor and, in effect, bringing druggists under this class, has, as might have been anticipated, produced quite a sensation. Bar-keepers talk of holding a meeting to consider the question with a view to securing the repeal of this section of the revenue hill and this section of the revenue bill, and some action will no doubt be taken today or to-morrow. There are now twenty-three licensed bar-rooms in Charlotte, and if the law is enforced as it now stands, it will, it is believed, run out at least half of these. Some pro-fess to be scarcely able to pay the $125 heretofore imposed, and assert that they will be utterly unable to pay $500; that the movement will result in driving out all the small dealers and giving the

There were only two graduates this season, Cadets D. W. Ebough, of Charleston, S. C., and J. L. McLaurin, of Marlboro, S. C., Both delivered addresses, the former on the "Elements of Suggests, in Life" and the letter on "The Success in Life," and the latter on "The Philosophy of Mohammedan Success." The speeches were especially well delivered, oratory being one of the branches taught with especial success in the Institution, and showed good evidence of thorough traiding in the department of belles lettres.

Original addresses were also delivered by two members of the junior class, which were also creditable. Mr. W. H. Gibbs, of Columbia, spoke on the "Career of Napoleon," and Mr. E. H. Folk, of Edgefield, S. C., discussed "Party Spirit."

The Late Concert at the Charlette In-

To the Editor of The Observer. It is greatly to be regretted that the appreciative stranger, whose criticism upon the music Tuesday night, showed such nice distinction, could not have remained for the concert the following night. Had he done so, probably the superb duct played by Mrs. Downer and appreciation of the concert the following night. superb duet played by Mrs. Dewey and Mrs. Atkinson would not have passed unnoticed. Difficult, brilliant and gracefully delicate as were its different passages, they were executed with utmost ease, showing a fineness of touch and expression that impressed the audience as instrumental music rarely does. Beautifully sung was the duet which

Misses Wayt and Gregory de-lighted us with. Miss Wayt's execu-tion was particularly bird-like and beautiful, showing her voice to better advantage than did her solo, but proba-bly this was owing to less fright and more self-possession in the duets.

We could see fine possibilities in the voices of Misses Swink and Johnston, and shall watch with interest their development, for already we see the suc-cessful result of careful training in Miss Badham's voice, who rendered the Jewel Scene in Faust with brilliancy and feeling. Such tender and passion-ate expression in one so young is remarkable, and we are prone to believe that only genius could lift her above the audience, enabling her to memorize such a piece of art, and with the abandon of an artiste. All this she does, too with a modest dignity that is very quiet and attractive.

As a citizen of Charlotte I rejoice at the success of this department of the Institute—at the success of the entire school in fact; and predict for it a successful and long life.

Hauser vs. the Bank of Statesville. Statesville Landmark.

This is an action in which one Hauser, a citizen of Yadkin, brings suit against Sam'l McDowell Tate, as president of the late Bank of Statesville, for money deposited by said plaintiff in said bank and lost in the failure of that institution. Defendant alleges that he was not president of the bank, and never had more than a merely nominal connection with it; that he was published as president without his previous knowledge or consent, and that he had no interest in it; or authority over its management either nearly or remotely, and that therefore he is not responsible, morally or otherwise, for any losses sustained by depositors or other creditors. The plaintiff claims that defendant's failure to deny his connection with the bank daring its existence, and his failure to have his name stricken from the advertisements, constitute a prima facie case against him, and upon this ground ask judgment. The case was tried in Rowan court last week and after a long and patient hearing the jury took it and gave the plaintiff a verdict. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, If the verdict stands the decision in the above case will open the door to almost numberless suits.

Columbus Times Several months ago Judge O. A. Loch-rane, of Georgia, was in New Orleans blowing his Grant bubbles to see how pretty he could make them look in the eyes of the Creoles, and the papers reported that he let his faith runaway with his prudence, and that he was be-trayed into the folly of making two bets. One of a thousand dollars that General Grant would be nominated on the first ballot, and the other of another thousand dollars that he would be elected in November. Now, we know nothing about the truth of these little gossiping reports, but if they are true, our amiable Judge is out somewhere in the neighborhood of two thousand dollars. It will take a good deal of "hedging" to make that two thousand dollars back, but the Judge is a good "hedger."

All the world and his wife are new deeply interested in the vales of lucky miners who get gold stakes of fifty dollars and sell gut for a tortune. But if any one will take a slate and pencil and sit down and do a simple rule of three they cannot help but come to the conclusion that instead of dropping werk and going across the continent, the best way to strike a rich veln of gold is to send from one to ten dollars for a part or whele of a ticket in the June drawing of the Louistana State Lottery to M. Who is Mrs. Winslew?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children, she has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that militions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—txy it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle, nov20 d&w 17 ents a bottle, nov20 ddw 17
