The Monroe Enquirer says the cen-sus returns will give Union county about 18,000 inhabitants, an increase over the last census of 6,000.

The Enquirer says Mr. G. C. McLarty, mayor of Monroe, has tendered his resignation, and the board of town commissioners has appointed Mr. S. S. McCaulay to fill the vacancy.

The Raleigh Observer says Judge Ashe, of the Supreme Court, was compelled to leave Thursday evening for his home at Wadesboro, on account of illness.

The News isays a colored baby was born in Raleigh ast Saturday with on-ly one finger and a thumb on each hand. The colored people are mightily energised ever it. The Star says the residence of Rev. G. W. Price, Sr., of Wilmington, was fired by an incendiary last week. A timely discovery saved the house from any damage. Monroe Enquirer: During the past eight weeks, there has been a death roll of 13 out of our colored population of about 350. Among our 1,500 whites there have been but one or two deaths during the present year, and very little sickness. The Monroe Enquirer says that during a storm last week, a young lady, Ida Helms, living near Matthew's Station, was struck on the head and shoulders by a falling hickory tree, which produced a fracture of the skull. At last accounts she was still alive, but our informant says the attending physician thought her chances for recovery very doubtful.

The citizens of Trenton and surrounding country are making efforts to se-cure the building of a railroad from Trenton, in Jones county, to the line of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad, at or near Cove Creek station. A committee has been appointed to take in charge the laying out and construction of the proposed road.

Raleigh Observer: Gov. Jarvis has received a reply to his letter requesting the use of Fort Macon for the encampment of the first regiment in August. The secretary of war says that the use of the fort and barracks is granted, prothe buildings now occupied, that the police regulations are not violated, and that the troops do not use the supply of drinking water, but provide themselves therewith.

Raleigh News? Our new North Caroling bonds have been selling quite free-ly in New York for some months past, and at very good prices-71 to 75. These prices have been attained in spite of the fact that the bonds have not been on the Stock Exchange list. They are likely to be materially increased now, as we learn that the committee on se-curities have recommended that they be placed on the "regular list" of the stock board of New York. They will be regularly called and known on the stock board as North Carolina "consolidated four per cents."

STEALING FROM A STATE. How a South Carolina Expert Sought to Feather His Nest.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 4.—Alexander C. Laughlin, engaged as an expert by Bond Commissioner James C. Coit to count and cancel bills of the Bank of the State, which are now being funded in State consols at fifty cents on the dollar, has been committed to jail, in default of $50,000 bail, charged with appropriating certain amounts of the bills to his own use. The testimony before the committing magistrate shows that Laughlin was employed some time in February or March last, as an expert to examine packages of bills presented for funding and count them, separating the genuine from the spurious bills and to cancel them after examination, to put them up in packages, seal and certify upon the face of each package the amount of bills found valid and the amount found invalid. The packages were then tied up and sealed with wax at the corners and stamped with a seal made for the purpose. Laughlin, it was shown, was frequently left alone in the office to attend to this work. The first intimation that things were going wrong was had on the 29th of June, when it was discovered that a certain package of the bills did not contain a a number of bills corresponding with the indorsement on the face of the package. Other packages were then counted age. Other packages were then counted and found to be deficient. This led to Laughlin's arrest, and upon the preliminary hearing it was shown that since he has been in the office of the Bond Commissioner he has sold to different parties in Columbia about $10,000 worth of the bills. The loss to the State is not yet definitely known and cannot be un-til all the bills have been recounted. The estimate made by the commission-

The estimate made by the commissioner to the last Legislature of the bills outstanding was $550,000, and since Laughlin's appointment $70,000 of the bills have been presented for funding. It is believed that the ultimate loss will be small. Laughlin is a native of Fairfield county, in this State. He was connected with the Exchange Bank in Columbia from 1862 to 1885. He then Columbia from 1862 to 1865. He then went to Europe, where he remained for several years, and returned to South Carolina in 1873. There seems to be little doubt as to Laughlin's guilt, the only question in doubt being the amount he has stolen.
