THE RECORD SHOWS

That James A. Garfield -Was one of the chief conspirators in the presidential steal of 1876. -That he stands convicted of perjury and bribery by a committee of Congress, composed of his own party.

+That he sold his influence as a meniber of Congress to DeGolyer for $5,000. -That by base trickery and desperate prevarication he attempted to shield Grant in his Black Friday gold speoulation. -That he voted for mixed schools in the South. -That he voted for and advocated the civil rights bill.

This man Garfield is the Republican candidate for President.

A pretty little Washington woman and a thorough-going Democratic politician, in a modest way, writes us about the Democratic mass meeting in that

The District Democracy to-night celebrated the nomination of Hancock and English with a monster procession and ratification meeting. Pennsylvania avenue, from with blazing torches and transparencies. The procession was over half an hour in passing a given point. There was one coincidence which the display recalled, and that was that the route of the procession was over the identical avenue, new handsomely payed with asphalt, which General Garfield, in consideration of a five-thousand-dollar "fee," allowed to be paved with a worthless wood, which rotted away in a few years. The prominent speakers at the ratification meeting were few. Senator Thurman was not in the city. Many Republicans in my own knowledge have openly declared their intention to support Hancock, and a large percentage of the national party are also falling into line. Hancock is stronger in Ohio than Tilden was in 1876, and Garfield's strength in that State this year is not comparable to Hayes' strength in the last presidential race. Yet in October, 1876, without any aid at all from the national com-

John Schenck, ex-chairman of the Republican committee, and McDonald, ex-postmaster of Charlotte, once charged Gen. Barringer with appropriating $17,000,of campaign funds. This charge, we understand, has been withdrawn by Schenck and McDonald, and it is due to all parties that the public should know it. To withhold this information would subject us to a charge of suppressio veri, which, even Barringer's desperate fabrications cannot justify.

NEW YORK, August 30.—The unpaid and underpaid census enumerators held a meeting at the new court house this morning and formed a permanent organization by electing James J. Armstrong president, E. Wingard secretary, and H. H. Maine treasurer. It was decided to raise subscriptions to send a committee to Washington to urge their claims on the government. Secretary Schurz it was stated had sent no answer to their petition for relief forwarded to him and he was strongly denounced by the speakers. A committee was also appointed to wait on members of Congress from the city to secure their influence in obtaining their pay. clubs were voted down.

Ouray's Successor. Los Pinos Agency via Lake City. August 30.—The grand council assembled here to-day to decide upon Chief Ouray's successor. Chief Soporonari will undoubtedly be the man. He had charge of affairs last winter during Ouray's absence in Washington and showed considerable executive ability. Neither he nor any man in the nation is equal to the late chief. The commission has accomplished nothing. The secretary was first taken sick. Ignatias, of the Southern Utes, is bitterly opposing the treaty. The time in which the treaty must be ratified expires on How the Canyass Looks.

At this writing it seems that the struggle will be tremendous, but that the Republicans will carry Maine in September, and, of course, Vermont; that Colorado will also go Republican in October; that the great trial and test in Ohio and Indiana on the 12th of October will show about the same result as in 1876—Indiana going Democratic and Ohio going Republican by about the same small majority; that the struggle will then be transplanted to New York till November; that New York will go for Hangack by a mode. York will go for Hancock by a mode-rate majority; that New Jersey and Connecticut will go the same way. In other words, it looks very much as if Hancock would carry the same States, and no more, that Tilden carried in 1876—Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and the South; that he will have 203 eletoral votes, or a majority of nineteen, precisely as Tilden had that however, the electoral votes of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina will not be stolen by Republican re-turning boards, and that General Han-cock will be inaugurated by a Demo-cratic congress on the 4th of March,

South Carolina. Look at Longstreet! He was begged and implored not to persevere in his course, but he drifted on and on, and floundered deeper and deeper into the mire, until he landed hard and fast into the Republican slough! And what has he gained? Scorn, ostracism, odium, ill-will—worse than all, the contempt of the men who stood by him under the shower of death and destruction. He forfeited the opinion of all honest men for the sake of an office, and he began by being an independent.
