In Wyoming the party stopped for awhile at a fort where a number of soldiers see, &c. were quartered in command of Lieutenant Newton. The commander was a pleasant, agreeable gentleman, brave and handsome, and Miss Burden being a highly educated, accomplished lady, pretty and a good singer, they naturally enjoyed each other's acquaintance and were frequently in company. An intimacy that soon ripened into love followed, and when the party of tourists left the fort they, in that peculiar manner known only to those who have loved, exchanged hearts.

ALARM ABOUT OHIO.

New York Times.

New York Times.

The hand that was shown in Maine has been laid bare here. It has long been suspected and is now known that a gigantic still hunt is in progress on the part of the Democrats throughout the State. The Democratic meetings are outnumbered five to one by the Republicans all over the State, and the Republicans have three orators on the list where the Democrats have one. This apparent show of strength has misled a great many persons, who believed that the Democrats had bandoned Ohio and turned their attention to better paying fields. On Wednesday last, Theodogs people, one of the wealthy citizens of Cincinnat, visited Columbus with a contribution of $25,000, furnished in five equal amounts by himself, Thomas Sherlock, W. S. Groesbeck, George Hoadiy and one other gentleman. This money is to be expended in the first, second, third and fourth congressional districts. Wealthy Democrats of other portions of the State are expected to make corresponding contributions, and thus the State is to be carried for thandock and English and Democrats are to be elected from the foul close districts named.

"Oh, you can, though. Hancock's a superb statesman and soldier, and you know yourself that Garfield's a little off-color in some respects. "Yes, I know, but I guess I'll have to vote for him, all the same." The Titusville man couldn't understand why this should be, and pressed an explanation. "You see," said the stranger, smiling pleasantly, "I met Mr. Garfield shortly after the nomination. We were bantering each other, like men will, you know, and he proposed to vote for me if I would vote for him—"

After inviting Titusville to drop over to Governor's Island and take dinner with him, the general bade him good day, and left the car. The Titusville man watched his ideal statesman and soldier disappear in the tempestuous sea that flows along Broadway, and then made the appalling discovery that his gold watch and chain had been stolen. While he was lamenting, like Rachel for her children, the gentleman who looked like Hancock was perhaps explaining to his pals how he "ninned a explaining to his pals how he "nipped a yokel's tickler."

The Remarkable Performance of Maud S. at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The closing day of the Jockey Club fall trotting was marked by an exhibition of speed and endurance which will remain prominent in the memory of all present.
The performance of Maud S. in the face of numerous disadvantages is the most remarkable in the history of the dark when Maud S. was brought on the track. The sky was cloudy and a strong southwest wind was blowing. At the first send-off Maud soon left her feet, and her driver, Bair, turned her back for a fresh start. She then trotted to the starting point square and level, and, as her driver nodded for the word, quickly lengthened out her stride and quickly lengthened out her stride and got to the quarter in 34 seconds. It was then believed impossible for her to do better than 2.16 or 2.18, but when she got down to the second quarter at a 2.03 gait, the fastest quarter on record, there

It is certain that there will be an attempt to make very large bounets in poke shapes fashionable this fall. They are decidedly unbecoming, and make even a juvenile person look old. They are to be trimmed with wreaths of flowers inside, and with a silk plush in chameleon effects, or whipped with white, on the outside. The strings are to be of this plush, lined with satin or Surah silk. As it will be impossible to fie the strings of such bounets, the difficulty has been met by French ingenuity. They are to be held together under the chin with large clasps, similar to the chin with large clasps, similar to cloak clasps, but more ornate and jew-eled. Some of these will be big and fanciful, such designs as horrid heads of beasts and reptiles being already shown. Enormous buckles of gilt, or even of solid gold, will be used for this purpose. If many a belle does not get corns on her chin from the abrasion, then call me a bad prophetess. II MICH THERE C

The Bevenges of the Hely See,

The Catholic prelates of this country have all received a letter from Cardinal Nina, the Papal Secretary, asking pecuniary aid for the Holy See. The letter recites that the troubles of the Church in the richer States of Europe have not only reduced the Papal revenue, but have added to the expenses. The income must be kept up or the Pontiff will be unable to maintain the Cardinals and prelates at Rome, the Papal buildings and treasures, the histors and monasteries of Italy, the churches and schools of Rome, and other institutions too poor to dispense with the aid of the Holy See. The letter desires that in every church in the United States a collection shall be taken up in aid of the confraternity of St. Peter.
