"Gen. Garfield," one of yesterday's visitors said to the Herald reporter, "is the most unconscionable liar living. His saying that he did not write that letter on Chinese labor only makes me despicable policy he has, heen advised, encouraged and aided by the party he represents, by its organs and by at least one of its prominent office-holders, whose falsehood is as wilful and despi-

"President flayes wrote Garfield asking him not to run for United States Serrator in opposition to Stanley Mathews." He showed me the letter, and yet after word, when it served his purpose to deny having received such a letter, he did so in the most explicit, emphatic terms. That is the sort of a man he is: He has no struples, no conseience, no moral courage. Why was he so long denying that he wrote the letter about Chinese labor? He took time to consider the matter, and he was probably taking advice. He knew he wrote the letter. He was in a box-the worst he was ever in in his life, because he has more at stake than he ever had before. If he confessed that he wrote the letter it would kill his chances for election as President. This, of course, he would not do, and hence his denial of having Seymour in 1868 ran ahead of Judge written it-the boldest, most brazen and Ashe 11,107, whilst in 1870 Judge Merribarefaced lie he ever told.

Ireland Preparing to Resist. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A London special says: Two thousand and fifty Irish constabulary have been ordered immediately to rendezvous at Curragh of Kildare. The town is filled with gravest rumors. I learn on authority of a member of the government that the very highest importance is attached to the serious intelligence received to-day from Ireland. I am informed that Parnell and his friends have held a private council and have resolved to discard the policy of exhorting the people to keep the peace. The moment the land league is struck by the government the whole west and south of Ireland, the seat of almost all the national discontent and desperation, will become a scene of the most exciting events. It is said to-night that an early meeting of the cabinet will be called.

LONDON, Oct. 26.-The Times in a leading article says: It is considered unnecessary to strengthen the power of the Irish executive for the repression of outrages. Parliament then is not likely to be summoned before the usual time. In the meanwhile the cabinet will frame the promised measures of land reform.

He told his wife that day that he would be absent until the next day. He secreted himself until night, when he returned after bedtime and entered the room of Hanks in the rear part of the store, which building was in close proximity to his residence. Here he discovered his wife and Hanks together, and commenced firing upon them, killing Hanks instantly and mortally wounding his wife with two shots. Five shots were fired. Allison then surrendered himself. The family is of the highest respectability, and the shock to friends and relatives is distressing."
