According to the Kansas City (Mo.) Times, Governor-elect Crittenden, of that State, is to wear at his inauguration a hundred-dollar suit of clothes presented to him by Col. D. Patrick Dyer, his defeated republican competitor for the office.

Hon. Simon Cameron, in a recent conversation with a representative of the Philadelphia Press, is reported as saying that Garfield is not the Hayes, pledged to a single term, and that his future is in his own hands. As for President Grant, 'none of his friends think or have a thought of making him a candidate for the presidency in 1884,' says Mr. Cameron, and he adds:

The Grant Subscription and the Ex-President's Response. Hon. Simon Cameron, in a recent conversation with a representative of the Philadelphia Press, is reported as saying that Garfield is not the Hayes, pledged to a single term, and that his future is in his own hands.

The Fashion Play. A report was current in New York Thursday that the idea of producing the 'Fashion Play' at the Grand Opera had been abandoned. Mr. A. J. Bay, the manager, when questioned concerning the rumor said that it was unfounded, and that so far from the play being abandoned, it was being pushed as rapidly as possible for the first performance, which will be on Wednesday, Dec. 1st.
