

THE INDUSTRIAL CENSUS OF PHILADELPHIA, AMONG OTHER THINGS, REVEALS THE FACT THAT THERE ARE IN THE CITY 68 BAKERIES, 302 BREAD AND BAKERY ESTABLISHMENTS, 300 CIGAR MANUFACTURERS, 473 TOBACCO AND CIGAR MANUFACTURERS, 416 CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENTS, 267 COTTON AND WOOLLEN MILLS, 221 FURNITURE DEALERS AND MANUFACTURERS, 126 SADDLERS AND HORSEMAN MANUFACTURERS, 103 DEALERS IN MARBLE, 64 DEALERS IN PATENT MEDICINES, 102 PRINTING ESTABLISHMENTS, 17 MANUFACTURERS OF RAILWAY CARS AND RAILROAD SUPPLIES, 29 SHIP BUILDERS, 32 BUCHERS, 23 TIMBERS AND EIGHT TYPE FOUNDRIES.

The industry and activity that have everywhere prevailed throughout the State, and the general prosperity that has followed, the intelligent, progressive spirit with which all have been animated, give reason to hope that your committee will be able to give the State of Tennessee which will be creditable to her people. As one indication of the improved condition of affairs in Tennessee, your committee estimates that the value of railroad property in the State, which reflects the general prosperity as nearly as may be, has at least doubled within the past three years.

At an appeal to the United States Supreme Court to be taken from the decision against the bondholders given by Judge Wiley last spring in the United States Circuit Court of Nashville in the suit against Tennessee railroads, the circular concludes with a warning against persons not authorized to represent bondholders in a settlement.

THE POPULAR VOTE OF THE STATES COME IN AS FOLLOWS: The thirty republicans give Garfield 331,483; Hancock, 278,259; Weaver, 264,512, and Dow 10,999 votes—a total of 7,923,345 votes. These official footings put Garfield 181,707 votes ahead of Hancock, 60,000; Indiana, Oregon, Florida, Nevada, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas are not included in these figures. The three first named will carry Garfield's lead to 190,000, while the other three States will bring it down to the neighborhood of 20,000. The Weaver vote will not exceed 300,000. In 1876 Cooper polled only 11,257 votes. It is believed the total vote of the country will run up to 9,125,000, against 8,455,933 in 1876 and 6,302,935 in 1872.

There is a political "fictitious" fight out in Indiana which beats the Ohio mass over the senatorial muddle, which has been produced by the death of Gov. Williams, and which may prevent the election of a United States Senator in place of Mr. McDonald, and deprive the State of a Governor for an indefinite time. Under the constitution, neither the Governor nor Lieutenant-Governor can be inaugurated until both houses of the Legislature are organized. The political parties are tied in the Senate, and the Lieutenant-Governor can not cast the deciding vote, because of the death of Gov. Williams, and because the chief Executive, the Democrats assert their determination to try and organize the Senate, which will be opposed by the Republicans, and there seems to be no way of breaking the deadlock except by defection from one party or the other. Unless an organization can be formed, there will be no Governor or Lieutenant-Governor after the second Monday in January, at which time the constitution terminates the term of the acting Governor. A law of Congress defines the time and manner of electing Senators of the United States, and it is claimed that if the same goes by for such election, in consequence of the deadlock, no legal election can be made by the present Legislature, and the next one may be Democratic. Various Indiana politicians are having a hard time of it.

Delivered from the Independent Republican Association of New York called on Gen. Garfield last Friday in the interest of civil service reform, after listening to an address, he is credited with the remark that he hoped to have the co-operation of Congress in establishing a legal basis for all routine appointments so that it shall not be in the power of anybody, even the President himself, to remove any capable and faithful appointee during his term of office. Whether this time is a case of shortsightedness in this matter he will be met more than half way by the intelligent men of the South without regard to party. So say we all.

The Mobile Register of the 28th inst. comes to us with a supplement containing a bill proposed by the commission on the adjustment and settlement of the debts of the City of Mobile. We enter upon this bill with some interest, as it has been quite a number of years since the city has been able to settle its debts, and it is a matter which marks its virtues, but none of its vices.

Cincinnati's whiskey trade is reported to net the Federal Revenue Department of the government nearly $1,000,000 a month, and they make the meanest of it.

Supervisor of the United States Mint, lately received from T. E. Acton, superintendent of the New York assay office, an invoice of bars of gold, of the value of $1,310,000, to be coined. The valuable consignments came through a transfer from the sub-treasury of New York City.

Besides conducting the regular work in silver coinage the capacity of the Mint is about $10,000,000 in gold per month, so that the bars will be converted into shining, glittering coins in a little more than two weeks.

There is now about $85,000,000 in gold bullion standing in the credit of the United States treasurer, out of which it has been decided to coin monthly $10,000,000 of the denominations of five and ten dollars. No gold of a less denomination than five dollars will be coined at present. The work will be performed at the Philadelphia Mint. It is thought probable that this coinage will be continued until the $85,000,000 of bullion on hand is worked up.

Judge Wallace, in the United States Circuit Court for the northern district of New York, has decided the case of the National Exchange Bank of Albany vs. the Board of Tax Commissioners to restrain him from collecting taxes imposed on the shares of the bank for 1879 in favor of the bank. The State admitted in 1880 in relation to taxes it is held, furnish no authority to assess such shares. The amount of such taxes imposed in New York city is over $1,600,000. An injunction against the New York city tax collector has been applied for in behalf of the National Bank of Commerce of that city, and other national banks will probably take the same step.

The census returns in Philadelphia show that the Chinese are increasing in number in that city at a greater rate per cent. than any other people. There were only 19 Chinamen in the city in 1870, and now there are 80, an increase of nearly 600 per cent. In a population of a million or so, it would seem that the Chinese are increasing at a rate of one per cent. per year.

A one-half interest in the Columbus (O.) Daily Times has been purchased by John C. Hamman, and the publication of the paper is to be continued. The design is to make the Times the central organ of the Ohio Democracy. The design is to make the Times the central organ of the Ohio Democracy. The electric light has been successfully introduced in the city of Philadelphia. The machinery, which furnishes the electricity is run by water-power, which costs the company nothing. The Columbus Times hopes this may be the initiatory step to the general introduction of the electric light, and that the city will be benefited by the same.

Several of our neighboring weekly exchanges copy today, without credit, a little editorial note commenting on the death of the late Governor Williams of Indiana, commencing "our sympathies for the late Governor Williams, etc. Gentlemen, if you don't like to give credit, couldn't you manage to change the phraseology?"

Both the Democratic and Republican party platforms had a "plank" in regard to the Chinese. John caught on the "plank," and forthwith began to take up the "plank" and get over to the "Celestial" land, as he considered it certain that he would have to "plank" the "plank" shortly.
