mch 1—d&w1y

If you feel sick, languid, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

An Effectual Specific for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fever, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Headaches, Jaundice and Nausea.

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, which nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so simple a remedy as this reputable disease day. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion and General Health.

How many suffer long every day with dull, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief comes to the aid of almost any one who will try the remedy. Simmons' Liver Regulator is no drastic purgative purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION

SHOULD not be neglected or trifled with. Inaction, or constipation, permits the poisonous matter which should be thrown off by the bowels to be absorbed from the feces in the lower bowel, and carried all over the system, thereby poisoning the whole system. Simmons' Liver Regulator acts mildly but surely on the bowels, and by keeping them regular, leaves the system in a healthy condition.

SICK HEADACHE

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach arising from the imperfectly digested contents causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with nauseous nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

CAUTION.—As there are a number of imitations offered to the public we would caution the community to buy no Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine unless our engraved wrapper, with "Red Z" trade mark, stamp and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

OBSERVATIONS.

"How slim is Sara Bernhardt, pa, The shadow a shade?" "Myth, she's just about as thin Aspleu lemonade."

What is the difference between a fixed star and a meteor? One is an ass, the other a darter.

There was a fight in the infant industry on Elm street, Monday evening. One of them hardly hinted that he was bigger than the other. The smaller, who is the son of a deacon, definitely retorted, "I don't care if you're as big as a church debt, you can't scare me."

"Remember," said the physician, "that when you think the case you are watching a chicken." "Well," said the patient, "then please hand me that rye bread in a bottle."

They were walking by the seaside, and he sighed and she sighed, and she was by his side, and he sighed beside, and they were both beside themselves, besides being at the seaside, where she sighed and he sighed.

A New York boarding-house took fire the other night and the flames got as far as the pantry when they went out for want of fuel.

A Georgia man named his mule Lotta, and the next day it kicked a wagon in seventeen directions at once.

"Shall we sell or abandon our girls?" editorially asks the editor of the Hawkeye. Do neither. Give 'em away. When a girl is given away, if she is not "sold," the young man is—in a majority of cases.

Alonzo wants to know, "Is it hard for a man to be called a liar?" No, Alonzo, no. It is more likely to hurt the other man.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

John Brown's soul is indeed "marching on." It finds the pavement rather hot.

A Detroit barber says that the number of bald-headed young men has greatly increased in the last few years.

The census bulletin shows that there are 5,035 more males than females in the Territory of Utah—an unexpected showing for a polygamous community.

"No, marm," said the shoe dealer, "I would like to give you a smaller pair, but to sell you anything below eights would render me liable under the statute for prevention of cruelty to animals."

Emma Abbott tells a St. Louis reporter that the stage kiss is a cold, dim, pale phantom—unsatisfactory, elusive, and empty." Miss Abbott should get a new tenor at once.

"Give us an honest dollar!" shouts an organ of the "gold-bugs." If the editor of this organ really wants an honest dollar, he should go to work and earn it honestly.

Senators Vest, Slater, Vance, Jonas and Walker distinguished themselves by remaining in their seats, and refusing to be introduced to Gen. Grant.

The fight of the American Union against the Western Union seems to be a one-sided affair. The American Union is a comparatively small affair, but it is hard to swallow.

Secretary Thompson, our "Monarch of the Seas," says the Cincinnati Enquirer, quits the government of the raging ocean to run a canal. Oh, what a fall!

A woman accidentally went to church with two bonnets on her head—one stuck inside the other—and the other women in the congregation almost died of envy. They thought it was a new kind of bonnet, and two sweet for anything.

English sparrows were imported to destroy worms, and now there is a general desire to have something imported that will destroy the sparrows.

The Washington Gazette says the World of that city claims that it was the first paper to nominate Mr. Grant for captain-general. Well might we exclaim, "Lord! how this world is given to lying!"

The Cotton Exchange has been notified by the Western Union Telegraph Company that rates on messages have been reduced to the following named places: New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Richmond, Chicopee, Mass., and Boston.

Burdette says: "A correspondent writes that he would like to become an editor. You would, he? Well, after you become an editor and write: 'I kissed her under the silent stars,' and the compositor sets it up: 'I kicked her under the cellar stairs,' you will just ache to grow bow-legged following a pair of oxen along a crooked furrow across a forty-acre lot."

And now glass clothes are to be worn. The glass, however, has the redeeming quality of not being transparent. It will not do for persons clad in such a garb to throw stones any more than if they resided in glass abodes. The new costume ought to be brilliant even if brittle. Raiment of this kind may be expected so to insulate the wearer as to be an effective protection against sparks.

A new sort of garter for women is in the market. It is not worn outside the stocking, but next to the skin. It consists of a wide elastic band, which is clasped around the leg above the knee, and the inner surface is not so smooth as to let it slide so easily. By an ingenious contrivance the top of the stocking is turned under the edge of the band and fastens there. The idea is to make the garter invisible. Clara Belle says the invention does very well for legs that are larger at the knee than above, but it does not stand the test of those that taper downward with any degree of regularity.

Bulldozed Northern Gamblers.

New York Sun.

There is a good deal of talk in sporting circles over an account received by mail from one of the sporting men who went from here to attend the Charleston races, of some bulldozing there. The details received are meager. All that is known is that on Wednesday evening as the boys had gathered in the pool-room, there entered a tough citizen by the name of Walsh. Walsh had a gambling wheel on the track last year, and this year he bid $1,000 for the pool privileges, but the Northern pool-sellers outbid him. This filled him with disgust for Northern sporting men, and on entering the pool-room he loudly proclaimed his feelings. The portly form of Jim Mackenzie seemed to strike his fancy as a target, and he aimed his gun at it. Jim jumped and all jumped. Walsh's friends took his gun away, earnestly assured him that he was a perfect gentleman, and begged that he would be friendly and sociable. Walsh reciprocated their assurances of consideration, but maintained that it was impossible for him to tolerate the New Yorkers. He walked up to Jim McCloud, and flourished a revolver under his nose. Jim jumped, and all jumped. Walsh was persuaded to take a walk. He, however, evidently thought he had a duty to perform, for when Gould Sellick and John Hatfield began to sell pools, he came in again with his gun and took exception to the whole proceedings. He poked Sellick in the ribs with the gun, and both Sellick and Hatfield agreed that it wasn't a good evening to sell pools. The sporting man who sends in the account says: "As I write they are making a book down here as to whether John and Gould will begin selling again or will go home on the first train." Walsh then went over to Cotton and Beman's faro bank and objected to the proceedings there. There was a prompt agreement with his views on the subject. The writer says: "Dave Johnson came over to the hotel with his checks in his pocket. He didn't wait to cash in. Beman was dealing, but it is a point with me who was over to the hotel first—he or Davy. The writer concludes by saying: "I've got a wheel out on the course, but as this fellow threatened the lives of every one out there, I don't know if it is policy to continue. I don't want to be a target for him."

Charley Ross's Father.

Baltimore Sun.

Christian K. Ross, the father of Charley Ross, who is on a visit to Pittsburg, is quoted as saying: "The only tidings I have ever received of Charley since he was stolen was the demand for a ransom of $20,000. If I had paid that I would have had him long before this. As it is, I have spent $60,000 and have not got him. I am still engaged and have detectives employed, and hope in time to find him. I have examined over 300 lost children in the search, some of whom had been stolen, but none of them was Charley. I would not pay the ransom; I wanted to protect the community and secure the thieves. As it is, I have lost all my fortune and my boy."
