After the Theatre.

Ten dollars. Quite a sum to pay for one who earns but four a day, for a single evening's work.

It seems so, but the thing is done.

These are the words of a man who has just returned from the theatre.

He is a man of the theatre, and

NEW-YEAR'S AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

President and Mrs. Hayes held a Brief but Brilliant Levee—a Long

Array of Notables in the Executive Managers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The New Year receptions of 1881 have fully equalled in brilliancy any other city has yet known in this city. The crisp, gold, exhilarating atmosphere and the good sleighing gave a novelty to the day no other New Year within the memory of the present generation has known and equalled in its enjoyment. The White House, as usual, was the scene of greatest interest today. The Marine band, played in the large entrance hall during the reception. The great central corridor was decorated with flowers and potted plants.

The parlors were also adorned with cut flowers and heliograph plants. The reception of the order of the reception as previously published in these dispatches was strictly carried out.

Punctually at 1 o'clock the President and Mrs. Hayes entered the Blue Parlor, preceded by Major Bingham, of the Army Corps, and followed by the Vice-President and Miss Mills, of San Francisco. They took their stations in the centre of the room. The young ladies who are visiting Mrs. Hayes stood back of her, and on her right Colonel Cassidy made the introductions to the President and Mr. Webb Hayes to his mother. Mrs. Hayes was assisted by Miss Lucy Cook, Miss Dora Scott, of

New Orleans; Miss Agnes Devereux, of Washington; Miss Agnes Devereux,
