MESSAGE OF GOV. JARVIS.

A rustic citizen being asked his opinion of a dector of divinity, an eminently successful preacher, replied cation, The preacher was flattered. A busines man and a banker being asked what he thought of the message of Gov. Jarvis, replied that any school boy might have written it, but that the newspapers would praise it all the same. Should the Gevernor feel himself flattered? There will be a variety of opinions on the subject of the message, according to the different standpoints ing in some way the Superior Courts. from which it is viewed. If one should read-as he doubtless will in the newspapers-that it is "an admirable State paper," and expect on this account to discover fine-spun theories of government, or an elaborate essay on its functiens, he will be disappointed. It is a a plain-plain even to prolix-stateof the Governer to instruct a Legisla- makers, which he has not seen fit to ture, but he should not hesitate to avow what he believes to be to the best interests of the State, especially on the more important matters where the necessity for a fixed and settled policy is whole:

The administration of Gov. Jarvis, like that of his predecessor, has been marked by a disposition to bring about order in the State and harmony between the races. The surest, and, indeed the only way to do this effectually, was to give them equal educational and other advantages. The showing which he is able to make must be gratifying equally to the people of the State generally, and to himself, and no one will deny the statement that the color may not be of great benefit to the State, and demands the constant scrutiny of the Legislature.

There can be no doubt of the correctness of the Governor's position with reference to the inability of the Supreme and Superior Courts to dispose of the business now brought before them. Nothing can excuse the tardy justice which is now meeted out to the people of the State. The results of the abolition of the attorney's fee in the that he was a right smart man, but Supreme Court have been made maniit was a pity he didn't have more edu- fest; the court is overworked, and the remedy suggested will no doubt meet with approval. A system of criminal court circuits would perhaps meet the demands in this branch of the department of justice, and the plan of the Governor will in all probability meet with the approval of all members of the Legislature who are sufficiently impressed with the importance of reliev-

The importance to the State of her railroads, and the widespread interest in their management demanded a more explicit statement of the policy of the Governor than he has furnished us. We are told what has been done in the past-things ment of public occurrences, a descrip- with which the people of the State tion of the condition of public affairs have been made generally familiar in the State, with suggestions as to the through the public press-but this is all. policy to be pursued in legislation. No knottier question will be presented There is an evident air of candor and a to the Legislature, and yet they are desire for the peace and prosperity of left to the uncertain guide of hear say the State which must commend it in information. It can hardly be possible spite of the cautious manner with that Gov. Jarvis does not know many which some of the more important mat- things of importance to the people of ters are touched. It is not the province the State, and especially to the law-communicate.

There are other matters which deserve attention; they will be discussed from time to time as they come up. urgent. This much of the message as a The present Legislature has an opportunity of distinguishing itself. The harmony which has appeared thus far is altogether favorable to successful work and to the co-operation with the Governor which, in the close of his message, he earnestly asks.

The business of the State Legislature has commenced in dead earnest. Mr Clarke, of Craven county, has introduced a bill "entitled an act to protect the diamond-back terrapin." Now if Mr. of Indians, $250,000 for the transporta-Clarke will get somebody to introduce | tion of Indian supplies. a bill to "protect" him from Eugene Grissom's clutches, the country will be moderately safe.

ONLY THE HOUSE IN SESSION. A Lengthy Debate on the Funding

Bill-3 Per Cent, vs. 3 1-2.

WASHINGTON, January 8.-HOUSE.-Briggs, of New Hampshire, presented the credentials of Ossian Ray, as member-elect from the third congressional district of New Hampshire, and that gentleman having appeared at the bar of the House, took the oath of office. The Speaker proceeded in the regular order to call the committees for reports. Money, of Mississippi, the chairman of the committee on postoffices and post roads, reported back a bill regulating the rates of postage on second class mail matter. Placed on the calendar.

Poehler, of Minnesota, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported back a bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to fulfill certain treaties and stipulations with the Chippewa Indians of Lake Superior and Mississippi. The call of the committees having been concluded, on motion of F. Wood of New York, who appeared in his seat this morning, the House, at 12:30, went into committee of the whole, Covert, of New York, in the chair, on the funding

The formal reading of the bill having been dispensed with, it was read by sections for amendments.

F. Wood offered, under the instruction of the committee on ways and means, an amendment fixing the rate of interest on bonds and notes, authorized to be issued by this act, at 3 per cent. being 3½ per cent. in the printed

Buckner, of Missouri, inquired if it was in order, at this time, to test the sense of the House as to whether the bonds should be long bonds or short bonds.

The chair replied it was not. Claffin, of Massachusetts, opposed the amendment. He was opposed to fixing the interest at 3 per cent. Tucker, of Virginia: "Does the gentleman want a larger rate.' Claffin: "I propose that the rate in the bill shall stand there." In opposing the amendment Claffin had read an amendment which he proposed to offer, leaving the interest at 31/2 per cent., and providing that the bonds shall be redeemable after five years and payable in twenty years. No business man, he thought, believed it possible to float a bond at 3 per cent. It was the unanimous opinion of financiers that a 31/2 per cent. bond might be floated, but that it would be dangerous to put a 3 per cent, bond on the market.

The committee on appropriations adopted the report of the sub-committee this morning upon the Indian affairs bill, and instructed Representative Wells to report it to the House te-day. The bill appropriates $4,526,866.80. Among the principal items are $1,397.-300 for several Sioux tribes, $922,000 for the removal, settlement and subsistence

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKS.

Carson City despatch says: Adolph Sutro evening before last announced his retirement from the Senatorial fight leaving a clear field to Col Fair.

Flags were flying yesterday over the city halls of New York and Brooklyn in commemoration of the victory won by the American army over the British troops at New Orleans Jan. 8th, 1815. The Democratic caucus at Jefferson City, night before last, nominated Hon. H. F. Cockrell for re-election to the United States Senate by a vote of 115 for Cockrell, 7 for James O. Broadhead and 1 for Charles P. Johnson.

The steamer Scotia from Boston for Glasgow was ashore for some hours at Sanda Island vesterday but has floated and proceeded up the Clyde. Herforepeak is filled with water.

Ice Moving----Immense Damage in the Ohio River.

CINCINNATI, January 8 .- The ice is moving in the Ohio river from Pomeroy to North Bend. The steamer General Lyttle was cut down this morning and sunk in seven feet of water at Covington landing, here. She is valued at $25,000, and may prove a total loss. The Eldorado, at Portsmouth, is damaged to the extent of $30,000. There is no insurance against such losses. At noon t was known that a large destruction of empty coal barges attended the breaking up of the ice in the Ohio river. The number lost is said to be 50. Their value is about $1,000 each, making a total loss of $50,000. The owners of the barges had taken extraordinary care to secure them by cables, and their loss is unexpected. The want of such barges in case of a coal rise in Ohio is more than their worth.

Casualties at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 .- The schooner M. J. Russell, from Jacksonville, which arrived here yesterday reports that when 10 days north of Hatteras she experienced stormy northwest gales, lost ner gibboom on December 26th, latitude 36 degrees, 15; longitude 74 degrees, 04. Thomas A. Warren, seaman, a native of Maine, aged 25, was washed overboard and lost.

On January 2d, latitude 37 degrees, 30; longitude 70 degrees, 50; spoke the schooner, Matthew Kenny, Fernandina for Philadelphia, with the loss of a boat and leaking badly. The captain and crew were taken off in an exhausted condition and brought to this port. ....

Mr. Wm. Lowery, Foreman Suffolk, Manufacturing Co., 592 Washington street, Boston, thus spoke of the way it works: One of our men had been suffering with severe pains in the side and back for some time. He had used a number of remedies without relief, and at last was persuaded to try St.Jacobs Oil, which entirely cured him. I can highly recommend it, as by its use several other of our employes have been cured.

In the whole course of the message there is no truer or more important saying than this: "Instead of degrading this very important office [Superintendent of Public Instruction] into a meer clerkship, as has been the case, it should be dignified and elevated to a rank so high, that it will command at special committee on railroad transporall times the best talent of the State." He might have gone even further: upon the efficiency and unrestrained activity of this office depends in large measure the usefulness and success of the public school system. The narrow necessity of encouraging competition policy by which the pay of this officer was cut down to a pittance, and not a cent allowed to defray his expenses per hundred pounds upon the grain from one point to another, is one of crop of the West is equivalent to an exthe worst results of the demagogical cry of "Retrenchment," which blinded and deafened every impulse of common submit the following resolution : sense and sought only to degrade or level. But, as the Governor maintains, the great lack of our present system of education is money-oil with which to grease the machine, which, being clumsy, does not readily run without aid. And the means by which this must be supplied is unquestionably taxation. The present Legislature will be called upon to take the matter in charge and do something. Many promises were made during the recent campaign; they the general government, but this at best is uncertain, and can only be relied upon to fill up the gaps; the State must do it herself. The present Legislature cannot say that it was not reminded of its duty in this respect, for on scarcely any point is Gov. Jarvis more emphatic: "Money is and must be the heart and life of every system. While I hope to see you make the system as perfect as possible, I beg that you will not forget to provide the money."

It is very well to maintain the University by State aid, if necessary; general education, and, therefore, indirectly the success of our public school system 1s dependent in a measure upon it. But there is nothing to justify the extension of its charitable features. Already the rules allow one student from each county to be exempt from the tuition. It is shown that 85 have taken

A Fatal Quarrel.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 8.-A special to the Courier-Journal from Henderson, Ky.,

reported from the sub-committee to the Smith's Screfula Syrup. full committee on Tuesday next.

Mr. Kelley commented on the fact that in the purchase of over $108,000,000 bonds in the year ending October last, the secretary of the treasury had to pay over $112,000,000, or about 31/2 per cent. Warner suggested that the rate of interest should be fixed at 21/2 per cept. It was impossible to sever the rate of interest from the time. If this bill were to pass he should be in favor of the amendment of the gentleman from New York (Mr. Wood,) though he would oppose the bill. Wood suggested that for the sake of convenience, his amendment coming from the committee on ways and means, should be by unanimous consent considered as agreed to. If it was seriously intended to act on this bill jan1

Claffin objected. Frye thought that the question might well be met now as between a 3 and 3½ per cent. bond. A 3 per cent. bond must necessarily run for twenty or ducers. In conclusion, the committee thirty years. Voting for a 3 per cent.

would be voting for a long bond. Mr. F. Wood thought that the gentleman was in error in that assumption. He wished to call the gentleman's attention to the report of the secretary of the treasury in which he said that he believed that short time certificates, having less than ten years to run, could be negotiated at 3 per cent. He (Wood) jan l thought that a short-time 3 per cent. bond could be negotiated, particularly if accompanied by some attributes which would make it acceptable and desirable. He hoped that the gentleman from Maine (Frye) would not fail to have the House to commit itself to a position which was untenable. Frye said he had voted in favor of a per cent. bond before recess. During recess he had seen a large number of business men in New York, Boston and

New England, and he had come to the deliberate conclusion that it would be utterly impossible to float a 3 per cent. bond running less than thirty years. He believed it and he believed that the attempt to float a 3 per cent. bond would be a disaster. The government had never sold 3 per cent. bonds. No country on earth had ever placed a 3 per cent. bond on the market at par, and he was fully convinced that a 3 per cent. bond could not be placed, and if Congress undertook to do it and failed, it would be a disaster. He believed in leaving to the secretary of the treasury the discretion up to 3½ per cent.

Keifer, of Ohio, offered an amendment to Wood's amendment, so as to fix the interest at a rate not exceeding 4 per cent. He believed that 4 per cent. was as low a rate of interest as the amendment and it was defeated, 12 to Mills, of Texas, argued that it would be $100,000,000 cheaper to let the debt
