AN EMISSARY COMING SOUTH.

The Washington correspondent of that Senator Simon Cameron is to visit the South during the winter, and that considerable importance is attached to the fact, as it is definitely understood that he comes for the purpose of testing the feelings of the Southern Democrats their support of Garfield's administration. It is further remarked that General Cameron is held in high. estern in the South, and those who know say he goes into that country as a sort of confidential agent of the incoming administration, with power to treat so as to strengthen Garfield in the South and accordant the vulnerable and has black eyes. He says that if points. The venerable ex-Senator does this will a view of laying plans to the statesmen of the hour, and of course change be policial condition of that let his bill pass.

very well. But nothing is more novel or starting than the intimation that Mr. Cameron is sent instead of some one else because he is popular in the South. Really, the most the people of the South know of Mr. Cameron is the current report and belief that he is a pelitical manipulator in Pennsylvania, buys and sells votes, and thus has been able to maintain a system of bossism in that State which is a reproach to its ty may be prospective and imaginary, based upon his credited ability to but and sell with great wisdom and profit. It may be remarked, in pasting, that this view of the case is highly credit. able to the methods and morals of the next administration, to say nothing of the reflection upon those with whom I am happy to see that in the present learned from the columns of this paper some time ago; that the only method by which the administration of Mr.

is seeking out disaffection and working upon it.

If the prohibitory liquor law conventien, which assembles in Raleigh today, is governed by moderation and common sense, it may prove itself a powerful agent in bringing about the reform which it is its purpose to accomplish. If it endeavors to do too much, the movement which has been comthe effects of a reaction, and once turned back, or even stopped, it will take years to bring it up to its present status. A pleasing reflection in connection with the possibility of a general prohibitory liquor law is that the Hon. George Washington Smith, of Jones county, will no longer burden the public press with the eloquent announcement that he has introduced a bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating beverages within an area of two miles immediately surrounding the sacred precincts of Sunny Side Academy.

The Philadelphia Record suggests that if Senator Bruce, colored, of Mississippi, is to go into the Cabinet, he should be made Secretary of War, for in case of actual hostilities, colored troops might then de expected to fight nobly, and it would be an ample atonement for the mysterious injury to Cadet Whittaker's ears.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS. WASHINGTON, January 11 .- SENATE -Windom, from the committee on appropriations, reported with one amendment-merely an addition of $300 for purchasing a theodolite—the military academy appropriation bill. Placed on the calendar.

Maxsey, from the committee on military affairs, reported, with amendment, the bill for the relief of Brigadier-General E. C. Ord

Bayard, from the committee on finance, reported favorably the House bill to amend a section of the Revised Statutes so as to authorize a charge for melting or refining bullion when at or above the standard. Cameron, from the military committee, reported adversely the bill to re-organize and discipline the militia of the United States, and it was indefinitely postponed. Wallace, from the committee on the revision of the laws, reported favorably on the bill impowering clerks of the District and Circuit Courts to administer oaths, take acknowledgements. &c., in the same manner as the com-missioners of said courts in the District of Columbia.

The tramp act, for the punishment of vagrancy, was then taken up and led to long debate, at the conclusion of which it was laid aside without action. The Senate then took up the bill for the relief of Ben Holladay, and pend-ing the conclusion of the debate thereon, adjourned. House Blackburn, of Kentucky, stated that some time during the session a resolution had been adopted calling upon the Postmaster-General for information as to the abuses in the transmission of matter through the mails under the frank of members of the Senate or House. He understood that there was a voluminous reply in the Speaker's hands and he, therefore, offered the following: WHEREAS, Charges have been made that the laws of the United States have been violated by sending through the mails, under the franks of mem-bers of the House and Senate, not au-thorized to be sent without payment of postage; therefore, Resolved, That a select committee of five members be appointed by the Speaker to examine into the said charges and all other abuses that may be brought to its attention connected with the transmission of documents, letters, &c., through the mails. The resolution was adopted and the House at 12 35 went into committee on the Indian appropriation bill. The pending amendment was one offered by Hiscock, appropriating $10,000 for the expenses of the Indian commission. After some debate it was adopted, as were, also, several other nnimportant amendments. The committhen rose and reported the bill to the House, when Hiscock's amendment was rejected and the bill passed. The Speaker then announced the names of members appointed as a committee to investigate the abuses of the franking privileges, and laid before the House a message from the President relative to the International Congress of Electricians to be held in Paris next September.

The State has no income except the precarious and inconsiderable sum derived from the State prison. Whatever is paid upon the State debt aside from the amount contributed by railroad com-panies must be raised by the railroads. In the adjustment of the debt practical statesmanship will recognize the effect that the settlement of the debt upon the basis of a bill adopted at the last session will require the payment of a larger annual sum in proportion to the value of the taxable property of the State than is paid by taxation by any other State in the Union upon its putlic debt.
