NEWS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Gatherings From the State Papers.

Perhaps the most beautiful and costly monument in the State, says the Raleigh News-Observer, has just been erected in Oakwood cemetery over the remains of that distinguished gentleman, Hon. B. F. Moore. It occupies a prominent position, and its symmetrical proportions and artistic beauty make it a notable object. Its total height is twenty-three feet. The base is of Clarke's Island granite, while the two sub-bases are of polished Quincy granite. The base mouldings, die and cap are of pure white Italian marble, with corners richly carved. carvings represent different vines, etc., on each face, showing ivy, grapes and wheat, morning-glories and blackberry vines, hops and poppies, laurel and oak leaves. The treatment of these is artistically beautiful. Above the die rise four columns of polished Quincy granite, with caps and bases carved. These columns support the canopy and spire, of white marble, exquisitely carved and richly ornamented. The design is Gothic, and the spire is surmounted by a crown and cross. Under the canopy is a bust of Mr. Moore, of spot-less Carrara Crestola marble. The marble. The bust is the work of an artist of note in Carrara, Italy Wilmington Star: The small sternwheel steamer Clinton, plying between this city and Bannerman's Bridge, on the Northeast river, in Pender county, sank at the wharf of Mr. J. A. Springer's coal and wood yard, between Princess and Chesnut streets, yesterday morning, about 4 o'clock. There was one white and seven or eight colored men on the boat at the time, the former occupying the captain's office. All had to flee for their lives, the most of them in their night clothes, leaving their baggage and effects in the sinking boat. The Monroe Enquirer tells this: Some two weeks ago rumors of the presence of a mad dog, were afloat in the town. A few days ago, a "Billygoat" belonging to Mr. A. A. Laney exhibited signs of hydrophobia, and it was believed that the goat had been bitten by the dog. After suffering seemingly great agonies for two or three days, he was found dead in the streets last Tuesday morning.

A correspondent of the Monroe Enquirer writing from Washington says: The jovial and able Vance recently attended the supper given to the Maryland Press Association in Baltimore. He was also a guest yesterday at the breakfast given by Col. Burch, Secretary of the Senate, to McCullough, the celebrated tragedian.

Wilmington Star: During the two fiscal years 1870-80 there has been a decrease in the expenses of the State of North Carolina of $77,072.92. That will do. There was an increase of receipts $33,072.92—a net difference of $100,000 compared with the two preceding years. The expenses for 1880 were leath of Mrs. Parthenia Dick, the venerable relict of the late Judge John M. Dick, and mother of Judge R. P. Dick, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Weir, in that place, She had attained to a great age, and enjoyed the respect and veneration of the community. It is stated that North Carolina people are pecuniarily interested in only three bills on the private calendar of the Senate, involving in all, some $10,-000. Other States have numerous lobby schemes, and fill the private calendars of the two Houses of Congress, The Wilmington Review says that a complimentary supper was given Maj Chas. M. Steadman Friday night, by his young friends of the Cape Fear City, in honor of his birthday. He was also presented with a gold headed cane,

A Jury of One.

Cor. Albany Law Journal. You remark that a jury of one man might be better than twelve, because he could never disagree. This reminds me of the anecdote of a case of the kind in a justice's court. A jury had been demanded, but there was a difficulty about getting a jury together. One countryman had appeared, and it was finally agreed by the court that they would try the case by a jury of one. Accordingly the case was tried, and the jury (of one) retired to consult of their verdict under the charge of an officer. After waiting an hour or two the jury were called into court to see if they had agreed on their verdict, and the foreman informed the court that they had not agreed and there was no prospect of their agreeing. And the court sent the jury out again, and waited two or three hours for the result, when they the jury out again, and waited two or three hours for the result, when they were again called into court, and they informed his honor that they had not agreed and there was no prospect of any agreement. The hour being late, the jury was discharged without any vertict. This may have been a farce, but if it was, it was no more so than are one half of our jury trials.

MUSBANDS AND WIVES.

The Rev. C. C. Goss Makes Public B. Recipe to Keep Them From Quar-

New York Sun. The Rev. C. C. Goss delivered his eighth Sunday lecture on "Husbands and Wives" last evening in Utah Hall, Eighth avenue and Twenty-fifth street. He said: "I will show husbands and wives how to brighten the sky of domestic life. They should adapt them-selves to each other's tastes, habits, terperaments, likes and dislikes. Neither should formally command the other to do anything, neither should be-come glum and obstinate. Of all kinds of silence a glum silence is the worst. What should you do, then? Why, harmonize your views. For instance take a wife who runs after every new fashion, and finally gets on an unbecoming dress. Suppose the husband snaps out, Take that dress off-take it off, I tell you!' don't you think that that woman, like the Dutch Justice of the Peace, is swearing all over inside? But on the other hand, suppose the husband says, 'Just step in front of the mirror, dear, and see how you look,' and he pulls it up here and there, showing how it misbecomes her. Then she goes and takes that dress off. I tell you we can,t and

"I notice also that husbands and wives ought to be careful in the use of their English. One of my classmates got to be a Doctor of Divinity-that don't amount to anything, as it is not hard for any fool to become one if he has money and influence—['Oh! oh! from the people in the audience]—and this D. D. had a wife, who said 'me' for'I,' and 'is' for 'are,' and her husband and she had a fuss every little while about it. The fault was hers, for she could have stopped her blundering habt, while it was impossible for her husand's fine ear to get used to her bad use of language. The principal can be applied to all other things. Married people ought to be careful to avoid giv-

-- Fastest Time on Record.

The six days' walking match at the American Institute Hall, New York York, came to a close Saturday night John Hughes, familiarly known as the "Lepper," winning the O'Leary belt with a score of 568 miles, three laps (each lap being one-eighth of a mile), and 165 yards. This is the best on record in a six days' go-as-you-please ever made. The greatest distance ever traveled before in a six days' go-as-youolease was 566 miles and 63 yards, which feat was accomplished by Rowell last November in London. Before this, in April, 1880, Hart, at Gilmore's Garden, went 563 miles and 440 yards. Hart completed his distance during the 141st hour, and Rowell walked until nearly he end of the 142d hour, whereas Hughes made his 500 miles and 380 yards at the close of the 138th hour. Hughes, who is an Irishman by birth will be remembered as a contestant in walking match at the Baltimore Academy of Music some time ago, and whilst one of the winners neither the ime he made or manner of walking attracted favorable comment. The recerds of the other men who held out to the end in the New York match were Albert 558 miles, Vint 550, Krohne 530 Howard 515, Campana 425. The net receipts for division among the walkers aggregate about $8,000, which, under the terms of the match, will go to the five men making the best records, as follows: Hughes $3,200, Albert $2,400, Vint $1,200, Krohne $800, Howard $400 Who are Better Off by Having Bought Prudently.
