THE SENATORIAL CAUCUSES.

Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON, March 9.- The Democratic Senators held a caucus this afternoon for the purpose of receiving and acting upon the report of the caucus committee of nine Senators ap-pointed to arrange the majority membership of the Senate committees. The list as reported was gone over in detail. and in deference to the wishes of various Senators a number of changes were Brigham Young acquired the title of General ous Senators a number of changes were from having been called "Briggy dear" so often by made in the assignments of minor importance; but the only notable conflict of opinion was in regard to the composition of the committee on finance. The caucus committee recommended the appointment of Senators McPherson. New Jersey, and Camden, of West Virginia, to succeed Messrs. Kernan and Wallace, whose Senatorial terms expired on the 4th instant, and the retention of Senators Voorhees, Beck and Bayard as the remaining Democratic members of the committee (Mr. Bayard, of course, to continue to be its chairman), and a contest at once arose as to the propriety and party policy of the proposed appointment of Mr. Camden. The debate was protracted for several hours, but finally the selection was agreed to, with the understanding that it may yet be changed. Mr. Camden is a national bank president. The caucus being apprised of the refusal of the Republican caucus to prepare a list of Republicans for appointment as minority members of the committees the committee of nine were authorized to complete the assignments for pre-Captain Paul Boyton, the famous sentation to the Senate to-morrow.

Ex-President Hayes's Savings.

The Cleveland, Ohio, Herald pub-lishes by authority the following concerning ex-President Hayes's salary and savings: "The whole truth concerning the alleged savings of ex-President Hayes from his salary can be told in a few words. The aggregate of that salary for the four years was $200,a writer, tells, in one of her New York letters to the Cincinnati Times-Star, a spicy romance of the early days of the Baroness Burdett Coutts, when that labeled the $4,000 he paid for the expenses of the 'visiting statesmen' to refunded the $4,000 he paid for the expenses of the 'visiting statesmen' to Louisana, his savings would have been about $70,000. As it is he went out of office with $66,000 to be carried from drinking in with rapture each liquid note as it fell from the gifted tenor's lips. The conclusion of the story is as When he became President he was burdened with debts to the amount of $90,-000, mostly on account of bequests charged upon the Burchard estate. Of To those behind the scenes in those days this romantic story was well known—the ties that kept Mario fast chained to Gristi, even when he had this amount he has paid $60,000 out of his savings from the presidential salary, so that the net available result in cash of his presidential term is $6,000.

Office Seekers' Carnival--Garfield

Worried. Washington Correspondence of New York Herald. "I don't know," said a gentleman today, a Republican Congressman, "whether the President and Cabinet would have been more troubled and worried by hordes of office seekers had the Democrats carried the election, but I am certain that if Hancock had suffered a much severer siege than Garfield is undergoing he would have been killed.
Garfield looked to me thoroughly used up to-day, and there is not the slightest prospect of relief for him unless he can being supposed to be merely that which she might feel for any wonderful artist, such as she lately has shown for Irving the actor. Gristi was terribly jealous, and it was said at the time nothing but the fear of lossing Mario alterather agreed her to put a restraint. muster up courage to shut himself up and appoint an army of secretaries to see people for him. How would it be, by the way, to introduce a custom of publishing all applications for office in the newspapers? It strikes me as a good plan. Why don't the Herald apply to the President and the Cabinet for daily bulletins of the applicants for places?
