HUGGED TO DEATH.

An Iowa Girl of Sixreen Dies in the Arms of Her Lover.

Keokuk (Iowa) Gate City. About 9 o'clock last night the family of John J. Rail, living two miles east of this city, was thrown into intense excitement and despair by the sudden death of an only daughter, Miss Minnie Rail, 16 years of age. The young lady was in the parlor at the time in company with Charles Gray, her affiance. It seems from the statement of Mr. Gray, which was given with broken sobs and tears, that the two were seated on a lounge and he was urging her to name an early day for their wedding. The girl was coy and bashful and hesitated about it. But the lover was importunate and sought in every way to induce a compliance with his wishes. At last she consented, saying: "I will marry you in April." In the excitement and joy of the moment Mr. Gray threw his arms around her waist and drew her to him with a quick passionate embrace. arms around her waist and drew her to him with a quick, passionate embrace. He was not conscious of exerting unusual strength and does not believe that he did. But the girl gave a sharp scream, and exclaiming "Oh! Charley, I'm gone!" fell dead in his arms, her head resting on his shoulder. His frantic cries alarmed the family, who came rushing into the room to find the pitiful sight of the dead girl lying pale and inanimate in her lover's arms. A messenger was dispatched posthaste for Dr. Hale, who arrived within an hour. But nothing could be done. The young lady was beyond all human aid. It is the opinion of the physician that heart disease was the immediate cause of the girl's death. She was frail and delicate and had long complained of trouble with her heart. The excitement incident to her care.

The board of directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company held a meeting Saturday and accepted the resvacancies. Nothing was done in regard to the other for the reason that Mr. Vanderbilt's resignation was not expected before July 1, and no steps the company is at present so slight as not not to warrant him in giving the time required by his duties as director. Privately he is stated to have said that he would have resigned some time ago, but he was afraid if he did so it would contract, the others being Mr. Gould Western Union directory was not of any trouble of attending meetings of the board. Up to two months since he had been heavily interested in the stock of the company, but had since sold the greater part of it, and his holdings were now light. For two months he had been unable to attend any meeting of the board of directors, and as he had now a number of other matters of his own that required his attention, he simply concluded to resign. That was the be-ginning and the end of the whole mat-

It is to be sincerely hoped that nobody will say "What are you going to do about it?" for this is manifestly one of the cases in which there really is nothing that can be done, except to feel uncoinfortable, for the condition is not merely accidental and tempory; it promises to be permanent, for the discouraging misproportion is not simply cradle, and this in spite of all that Morus old maid doomed to speedy extinction, but also that nearly amillion of the young men of America will have to go wifeless It also becomes quite evident that the local valuation of women will increase; through the exertions of the firemen any market in which nearly a million | and others. WADLEY, EMANUEL CO., GA., Oct, 10, 1879.
Gentlemen:—While attending the General Assembly this summer, I tried your Star Curine on my leg, it being affected with an old sore caused by a wound received during the late war. After having thoroughly treated it I am compelled to say that it is a success, for I have had experience with different physicians and remedies, and found nothing to cure me until I used your Star Curine, which has cured a remarkably bad case. Wishing you success, I am yours, respectfully, John Bell. For sale by Dr. T. C. Smith.

LOST IN THE SNOW. A Brave Struggle for Life by Three

Men in Wyoming. A story of almost incredible endurance and fortitude comes from the far West with the reports of floods and snow storms. Three men, including E. snow storms. Three men, including E. D. N. Cooke, superintendent of the stage line, started from Fort Fetterman, on the Upper North Platte River, for Rock Creek Station, on the Union Pacific Railroad, on a buckboard drawn by two powerful horses. The snow was falling fast and drifting badly, and before they had reached the 22-mile station they had completely lost the trail, and the horses were suffered to wander about horses were suffered to wander about, guided only by their own instinct.

After a time they left the buckboard behind them and endeavored to push behind them and endeavored to push forward on horseback. At one point Mr. Foote was nearly killed by his horse, which fell backward into a snow-drift eight feet deep. After this the horses were abandoned and the men struggled along on foot, hands, faces and feet being badly frozen. The three men had three sacks of mail and a canvas overcoat. The first man would stand on his mail-sack and throw the stand on his mail-sack and throw the coat ahead of him, allowing him to take one step, then each man would follow on, step by step, and the last man, pick-ing up the fourth's bag, would heave it ahead for the first one to step on. In this way they made something like three miles, and when the third night set in they began calling for help, and in half an hour or so were answered. Other calls were made, and they were again answered by the firing of a gun, but the wind was so strong they could not form any idea of the direction it came from. Again and again they called, and finally a light was seen, and in an hour and a half they made the last quarter of a mile, finding them-selves at the stage station, 25 miles ment incident to her conversation with her lover had probably superinduced the attack which led to her premature death. Naturally the family are overfrom the starting point. The driver had to be dragged the last quarter of a mile, and Mr. Foote says: "When I whelmed with grief and young Gray is almost beside himself with horror and despair. Miss Minnie was a very handknew that I was safe it seemed impossible for me to walk. I fell down twice in making the last few yards from the some young lady and was well known stable. I had no strength to walk, and after entering the barn I could not in the society circles of this city. She was extremely delicate and possessed

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

How the Great Machine is Managed. At a banquet given by the Lord Mayor of London to the directors of the Bank of England on the evening of February 28, Mr. Birch, the governor of the bank, made some interesting remarks on the management of that meeting Saturday and accepted the resignation of William H. Vanderbilt and Samuel F. Barger. Frederick L. Ames, of Boston, was elected to fill one of the vacancies. Nothing was done in regard to the other for the reason that banking business the management of the national debt and the issue and payment of the greater portion of the note circulation of the country. Some were taken to provide an acceptable substitute. Mr. Vanderbilt gives a reason for his action that his interest in lidea of the magnitude of that work might be formed. When he told them might be formed when he told them that there were no less than 236,500 accounts open in the public funds; that the number of bank notes issued during the last year was above 15,250,000 representing a sum of £338,000,000, and a similar amount canceled, an accurate be thought to signify that he disapproved of the consolidation. He consequently waited until the deal had so that any note paid into the bank dubeen consummated. Mr. Ames com- ring the last 5 years could be produced pletes the five representatives of Jay Within a minute or two, with information as to the channel through which it of the directory under the terms of the had found its way back to the bank, although the register represented 77,000,himself, Gen. Another Candidate.

By a large majority the people of the United States have declared their faith in Kidney-Wort as a remedy for all the diseases of the kidneys and liver, some, however, have disliked the trouble of preparing it from the dry form. For such a new candidate appears in the shape of Kidney-Wort in Liquid Form. It is very concentrated, is easily taken and is equally efficient as the dry. Try it.—
