LET'S VACCEBATE.

The Work to be Commenced at Once -Method Adopted by Physicians. The physicians in the city held a meeting at Dr. O'Donoghue's office to devise a method for carrying out the proposed vaccination authorized by the board of aldermen. Various plans were discussed, among others that of laying the city off in a certain number of districts and apportioning one physician to each district. The several wards were taken as a guide, but it was found that the great proportion of the poor upon whom the physicians were especially desired to operate, were congregated in one or two wards and if these were assigned to the physicians on those wards they would have all the work to do. It was finally decided that the physicians should open their offices certain hours of the day to patients for the space of two weeks, in which time all who desire to be vaccinated at the expense of the city are cinated at the expense of the city are required to apply. Those who have agreed to this and the hours at which they desire to be called upon are as follows: Dr. Miller, from 12 to 2 p. m.; Drs. Jones and Graham, 12 to 2 and 4 to 5 p. m.; Dr. Moore, 9 to 10 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m.; Dr. Bratton, 12 to 2, at Dr. Miller's office; Dr. McCombs, 12 to 2; Dr. O'Donoghue, 12 to 1 and 3 to 5, and Dr. Gregory from 12 to 2. The vaccination will begin Monday. The importance of this matter is once more desired to be brought to the attention of the citizens. Already small-pox has appeared in Richmond, with which city we have direct communication by means of two passenger trains daily, and freight trains besides which are said to be more dangerous as a perveyor of the disease.

It is feared that a prejudice may exist among the more ignorant class of people against vaccination from an apprehension that it may be attended with some danger. This, however, should be entirely allayed by the readiness of the physicians to pledge their professional reputation upon the result, and the further fact that it is as notoriously safe as it is universally applied as preventive of small-pox.

The mayor will have a number of posters printed to-day and distributed among the people enlightening them on the subject.

Monthly Cotton Statement. The cotton receipts for March were 2,780 bales. This makes the total of receipts up to date of the present cotton year, extending from May, 1880, to March, 1881, 11 months inclusive—49,516 bales, lacking only 484 bales of the 50,-000 predicted earlier in the season and leaving one month still to hear from. For the same period last year the total of receipts was 37,060 bales. Excess for the present year 12,456. The total of the receipts for last year was 37,992 bales. The probability now is that it will exceed 50,000 for this year.

Whom It Would Effect and When Should the recent action of the county commissioners, to grant no licenses to sell liquor, be construed to bear with equal force upon dealers in the city, as upon those outside of it—and some lawyers vigorously maintain that it will-the effect of this measure will by no means be immediate in the city, but upon the already existing bar-rooms in the county outside of the city, it is unthe county outside of the city, it is understood, that the commissioners have already refused to grant or renew licences to a number of applicants. The majority of the city liquor retailers, as shown by the books of the city marshal, have already secured licenses extending to December, 1881, a few of them to February, 1882, and only one, so far as it is known, is in imminent danger of being affected by the decision of the commissioners. This is B. H. Cawdor, who does business at the corner of Second and College streets, whose license expires on the 6th day of May.

The Coming Issue Taking Shape.

It was stoutly maintained by those more particularly interested in the event that only one candidate would be run in opposition to prohibition and that all the forces would be combined upon him. Meantime the prohable would be him. Meantime the probable prohibition candidate remains a mystery. Public sentiment does not seem to have crystalized around any particular man. The prohibitionists say they have so many good men to choose from that they cannot immediately settle

More Railroad Talk.

Col. A. Pope has also been interviewed in Atlanta touching the Air-Line and its policy. Being asked if he intended to maintain the interest which the company had manifested in the matter of immigration, he said: "Yes, continue the good work the Air-Line has begun. We shall endeavor to make the country through which we pass a populous country. We have now in our employ one of the most learned gentlemen in the South engaged in preparing a book which will set forth to the world the great advantages, of every nature, of the country through which our roads pass. This book, when completed, will be scattered throughout the country, and we hope by it to induce a big influx of people. Our first object, of course will be to secure their location along our route, for thereby we will be benefitted. In addition to this I have been appointed by the Governor of North Carolina an honorary member of the board of immigration for that State. I assure you it has always been the policy of our management to secure settlement along our road, and there is no reason why we should not continue our efforts in this direction just now.' He also assured the people of Atlanta that that city would experience none of the evil effects of discrimination. Three Railroad Accidents-The Policy of Concealment. Yesterday afternoon, as the freight train, in two sections of about fifteen minute's interval, on the Carolina Central Railroad was near Pee Dee, the first section, for some cause, stopped in a cut where there is a curve in the road and was run into, a short time later, by the second section. One report prevailed at a late hour last night that the fireman on the engine of the second section had both of his legs broken. Another was to the effect that both the engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. The exact amount and nature of the damage sustained could not be learned.

On the Air-Line road an accident of a character nearly parallel with the one above, is reported to have occurred near Liberty, S. C. The second section of a freight train ran into the first, and the engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. In this case it is charged that the engineer was asleep until it was too late to stop his train.
The colliding engine which, was entirely new, having made only two trips over the road, was totally wrecked, the cab part, in addition, catching fire and burning up.

In the engineer was asleep until it was clearly in train.

In the accident, day before yesterday, near Trenton, on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta road, it is reported that the conductor of the freight train which was wrecked had his arm broken at the wrist. In all of the above cases names and other particulars are withheld in ac-cordance with the policy of the rail-road authorities to keep hid from the publical occurrences of this kind on their roads. For this reason the threat of discharge is held over the heads of employes, and it is like pulling a jaw tooth to get anything out of them. It is for them to consider whether the enveloping in mystery of these accidents which cannot altogether be kept from the public does not make them. the public does not make them appear bigger than they really are.
