NEWS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

latherings from the State Papers

A highway robbery has occurred near Laurinburg. The Enterprise says: On Saturday evening last, Mr. Angus Gilchrist, who lives about twelve miles north of this place, and who was in town on business, in starting to return home was approached by two negro men, Enoch Roper, alias Mc-Queen, and Neill Malloy, who asked to ride with him across the branch (a small stream about half a mile distant.) Mr. Gilchrist consenting Enoch got in the buggy and took a seat with him, while Neil stood behind on the axle. When obout a mile from towon Enoch asked Mr. Gilchrist if he saw that man in the woods, pointing in a certain direction, and Mr. G. not apprehending their felonious intention turned his face in the direction indicated, when he was knocked on the side of the head by Enoch and precipitated from the buggy to the ground, the negre at the same time grabbing Mr. G's watchguard, cutting it with his knife which he had previously opened, then scamp-ering off through the woods. Mr. Gil-christ realizing his predicament arose horriedly and arrested the other negro, Wilmington Review: Mr. H. Bentley was arrested yesterday charged with carrying on a lottery, and was held in a justified bond of $1,000 for his appear- who agreed to come with the President, justified bond of $1,000 for his appearance at the criminal court. The defendant has been selling photographs, some of which drew money prizes. He was arrested under the provisions of Pennsylvania, and was headed by the an old law, which it seems has never been repealed. Unless the enactment of the law in 1879, which provided for be present at Gettysburg and take part the taxation of gift enterprises, repealed the previous law, the legal fraternity think there is a nice point of the ceremonies of Decoration Day, May 30, which they said were designed to be made specially interesting and impressive on this year. The President law involved in the case.

Wilmington Review: On Saturday last, about 5 o'clock, Matthew N. Leary shot David A. Bryant, about two miles from Fayetteville. Both of the parties are colored and Leary is in jail awaiting the result of the wounds inflicted. The altercation which led to the shooting grew out of a law suit as to the lines of some lands. The prisoner is quite a noted politician in his county and had some congressional aspirations. He was, we understand, a candidate before the nominating convention at Salisbury Watchman: James Mon-roe, Esq., caught two fine shad in South River this season. This is very unusual but should not be so. Were the obstructions in the river removed, shad could be caught far up the stream. Salmon are more frequently caught, some weighing as much as six pounds have been taken out. This shows that the work done by the government fisheries will be worth something to the

The Concord Sun records the death in Leaksville, last Saturday, of Mrs. N. P. Foard, nee Miss Lillie Walker, and says: She lived in this place with her family a long time and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Gentleness, kindness and fervent piety were conspicuous characteristics in her life and at death—peace. The bereaved husband and children have the sympathy of our people.

Geo. F. Swain, Esq., government reporter, has been prospecting both branches of the Yadkin River for water power. The Watchman says: He took the surveyor's report of the Yadkin to this place. He visited personally the South Fork, and is now at the Narrows, and will continue down to the meuth of the Uwharrie.

Statesville Landmark: Three omnibuses meet trains at this place now, and so active is the competition that one evening last week representatives of all of them walked from here to Troutman's Depot, a distance of six miles, and got on the train there to drum for passengers arriving from

Dr. Curry in North Carolina.

Goldsboro Messenger. Dr. J. L. M. Curry, the very eminent agent of the Peabody Fund, was in this city for a few hours Monday evening, the guest of our townsman, Stephen H. Denmark, Esq. Dr. Curry's visit to North Carolina was in the interest of the cause he so zealously and worthily represents; that of public education. He left for Richmond the same night. During his brief stay here, it was our pleasure to form his acquaintance and to bring to his attention matters appertaining to the educational interests of this section and the graded school pro-ject in particular, to all of which he listened with attention. The Doctor expressed his gratification at the efforts now being made here in behalf of a graded school and promised to be with, us in the course of two or three weeks when he will address our citizens in the interest of the project and on education generally.

A SMOOTH COMPLEXION can be had by every lady who will use Parker's Ginger Tonic. For promptly regulating the liver and kidneys and purifying the blood there is nothing like it, and this is the reason why it so quickly removes pimples and gives a resy bloom to the cheek. See notice.

GARFIELD'S TROUBLES.

A Day for Delegations to the White House-Knights of Pythias-Gettysburg Memorial-Agricultural Fair-

North Carolina Politicians. WASHINGTON, April 7.- The President was fairly overwhelmed to-day with delegations. First came a committee of gentlemen from Baltimore, and the immediate surmise of the White House habitues as they saw them approaching was that they were coming to press the name of some one for collector or postmaster of Baltimore. It was soon seen, however, that they were in charge of Senator Groome, and whatever the Senator might have done if Gen. Hancock had gotten into the White House, every one knew that he would not be at the head of an officeseeking delegation to call on a Republican President. The delegation consisted of Messrs. S. R. Edwards, Geo. W. Lindsay, James Whitehouse, W. M. Byrne and G. Fred. Ruff, representing the order of the Knights of Pythias of Baltimore. They were presented to the President by Gov. Groome and tendered to him an invitation to be present at the fair to be held in Baltimore under horriedly and arrested the other negro, Neill Malloy and returned with him to the 18th inst. The President expressed Laurinburg and turned him over to his appreciation of the invitation and said he would like to attend. but could said he would like to attend, but could not now say positively whether his engagements would permit, but if possiif everything was favorable.

A second delegation, with a request for the President's presence, came from impressive on this year. The President spoke of the memorable field of Gettysburg, and the pleasure which he would take in visiting it if convenient to do so. He said he would lay the invitation before the cabinet at its meeting tomorrow. It is quite sure that several of the members of the cabinet will attend, even if the President is not able to do so. A third delegation with an invita-tion came from Virginia, and consisted of Messrs. John L. Barbour, H. L. Lewis and J. R. Rust. They were very snxious for the President to visit Winchester in October next, on the occasion of the fair of the Shannandoah Valley Agricultural Society. The President said October was a time too distant to make any promise about just now, but it was not improbable that he would go to the fair if everything suited. Mr. Hayes, it will be remembered, was during his term almost as much relied on by agricultural fair managers for one of the stars as the prize or the learned pig, and the Virginia gentlemen showed much enterprise in attempting to secure his successor for the some line so much in advance. The fourth delegation was after of-fice. It was composed of North Caro-lina politicians headed by the author of 'A Fool's Errand," otherwise Judge Tourgee. They wanted the President to appoint to some consular position a noted colored politician of Raleigh named Harris, who tried hard but unsuccessfully to get the postmastership of Ralegh. The delegation said that Mr. Harris would prefer to go to Liberia, but intimated that he would go anywhere else the President might chose to send him, so there was a respectable salary attached. The President did not commit himself. After dispatching this delegation the Presi-dent received Mr. P. T. Barnum, who came to present him with a free ticket to his circus, and to tell him what a great man he was.

GRATEFUL WOMEN. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful, and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters, as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills which the sex is almost universally subject to. Chilis and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back of kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily relieved by these Bitters.—Courant.

To Accommodate the Public.

The proprietors of that immensely popular remedy, Kidney-Wort, fn recognition of the claims of the public which has so liberally patronized them, have prepared a liquid preparation of that remedy for the special accommodation of those who, from any reason, dislike te prepare it for themselves. It is very concentrated, and, as the dose is small, it is more easily taken by many. It has the same effectual action in all diseases of the kidneys, liver or bowels.—Home and Farm.
