THE SOUTH IN THE SENATE.

How Evenly the Parties Are Divided on Sectional Lines.

Cincinnati Commercial.

In the conversation with your correspondent, a Senator called attention to the fact that party lines in the Senate had become almost sectional lines. He spoke of this with regret, as not indicating a healthy condition of things. From all the Southern States—including Delaware, Maryland and Missouri—there is but one Republican—Senator Kellogg, of Louisiana, and his successor is a Democrat who is already elected. Not only that, but all the Democratic Senators, with half a a dozen exceptions, favored unseating Kellogg. Had they done this there would not have been a single Republican in the Senate from all the Southern and Southern border States. Mahone, of Virginia, sits with the Republicans on the question of re-organization, but he does not claim to be a Republican, and never defines himself as being anything else than a Readjuster. He says he will enter the caucus of neither party, and will shape his course for the best interests of Virginia.

On the other hand, if every Democratic Senator from the Northern States should die or resign, their places would all be filled by Republicans. In other words, if a few Democratic Senators from the Northern States should resign, and with them Mahone and Kellog, after the vacancies were filled the Senate would be found divided strictly on sectional lines; every Senator from the Northern States would be a Republican, and every Senator from the Southern States would be a Democrat. Although there has been a sectional contest in this Government almost from its foundation, the Senate was never before so nearly evenly divided on sectional lines.

The foresight of Senator Conkling is vindicated in the present condition of the Senate. Had Virginia not been divided the Republicans would now have a clear working majority without the Vice President's vote. By the division of Virginia, that State, was practically given four Senators, and now all of one party. If New York or Pensylvania were divided and each half given two Senators there would be some sense in it, for either half would be of larger population and of more importance than Virginia and West Virginia combined. When the division of the State was agitated Senator Conkling opposed it for these reasons, and his wisdom has been strikingly illustrated in the result.

It is the opinion of those who have studied the matter that the number of unimportant States is already too large, and that in the future, instead of being divisions, there should be some consolidations. New York Pennsylvania and Ohio contain about one-fourth the population of the country, and contribute at least one-third of the enormous internal revenue which flows into the Treasury; yet in the Senate, which shares with the House the control of the public purse, these three States are only equal to West Virginia, Florida and Nevada, the wealth and population of which is not equal to that of a single county in New York.

Mauna Loa—The Great Volcano of the Occident.

Private advices from the Sandwich Islands report that the famous volcano, Mauna Loa, is still in eruption, and has been continuously so since the early part of October. The inhabitants say that the present eruption exceeds in grandeur, extent and activity any that they can remember, or of which there is any record. The American residents say that the spectacle is magnificent and well worth a voyage thither. The principal crater, some 16,000 feet long and 9,000 to 10,000 feet wide, is constantly belching forth smoke, steam and flame, and occasionally throws up vast rocks, while the lava pours down the sides of the mountains, nearly 14,000 feet high, in broad streams.

Some of the eruptions have lasted thirteen months, and it is thought that the present one will be fully as long, for it has steadily augmented from the outset. It has been compared with the action of 1859, when three new craters were opened on the side of the mountain, the loftiest being ten thousand feet above sea level, though the two lower were the more violent. From one of these rose a column of liquid fire five hundred feet high. There are now six carters active, and it is said that the chief one throws out occasionally a stupendous mass of flame six hundred feet in altitude. Several of the rivers of lava are five or six miles wide, and these actually form cascades, and in some intances are so voluminous as to run up hill. The lava has also forced its way through subterranean outlets, and tumbled, with a hissing, rearing sound into the sea.

Manna Loa has been far more energetic of late years than it used to be, and is now distinguishing itself universally. Some of the lava beds are enormous. The lava streams frequently cool on top, and when new lava is added the crust breaks with loud explosions. Considerable uneasiness is felt among the residents of Honolulu lest their dwellings be destroyed, and the opinion is generally expressed that in no volcano on the globe have finer natural pyrotechnics been seen than now are there.

A Long Sleep.

The Philadelphia Times has a story of a young German named John Gyumber, who has been asleep in the almshouse near Allentown, Pa., since the 12th of February. All this time he has slept on with his eyes closed, resisting all sorts of noises, the pricking of pins and the application of hot irons. Music effected him somewhat and he could be walked about the room. He ate three times a day and exhibited no signs of ill-health. On Thursday night he suddenly opened his eyes, became deathly pale, and broke out in a profuse perspiration. This was followed by great prostration. It is now believed that the worst is over and he will recover. The half hundred physicians who have seen him agree that his trouble is a stupor of the base of the brain.

World's Fair Subscriptions.

The New York papers announce that the Pennsylvania and Erie Railroad Companies have made subscriptions to the world's fair enterprise to the amount of $152,000 each. In both cases this amount is mentioned as a first subscription, which may be followed by a second. The subscriptions are conditional upon the subscription of an equal amount by citizens in addition to the subscriptions already received, and also conditional, as is the case of the subscription of the New York Central, on the raising of a total of $4,000,000.

CARRYING THE WAR INTO AFRICA.

How the Democratic Senators are Proceeding to Do This.

Cor. Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Two notable speeches were made in the Senate today, one by Mr. Call, of Florida, and the other by Mr. Vest, of Missouri. Both these Senators carried the war into Africa. Mr. Call took as his text the cry for a fair ballot and an honest count, impartial suffrage, &c., the charges upon which have been made with so much iteration and reiteration by Republican Senators, and more especially by those from New England. He reviewed the laws and regulations concerning the elective franchise in the three States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, and showed what is already generally known, but seems somehow or other to have been lost sight of, that such a thing as impartial suffrage or a fair ballot is not in existence in either of those Commonwealths. By the laws of all these States thousands and thousands of men, white, not black, are absolutely disfranchised, and in Massachusetts, as Mr. Call exhibited on the most irrefutable evidence, a system of espionage and terrorism over the voter is exercised by employers which has no parallel even in the wild romances fabricated by the outrage shriekers about the South. As to the disfranchisement of voters, if the 40,000 or more colored voters of the State of Maryland who exercise the right to deposit on every election day their votes without let or hindrance for the Republican candidates should emigrate in a body to the Republican State of Massachusetts, not 4,000 of them would be permitted to vote under its laws. As to the State of Connecticut, there never was such a traversty on popular government as it presents. Mr. Call, in the course of his speech to-day, touched upon the representation in the popular branch of the Legislature, and read from the apportionment system, showing that towns and cities of from twenty to forty thousand population were only allowed the same membership as towns of from five hundred to one thousand population. Mr. Call omitted to mention that the large towns are generally Democratic, while the small ones are Republican. It is about time that the New England Senators were reminded that they should take the beam out of their own eyes before undertaking to remove the mote from the eyes of others. It would be much better if they would take their new ally, Mr. Mahone, up into their own section, and inaugurate the crusade there, where it is most needed, for a free ballot and an honest count. Mr. Vest made both an eloquent and an argumentative speech. In reply to the assertion of Senator Sherman, a few days ago, that no Republican community had ever repudiated, he gave a concise but graphic account of the $5,000,000 indebtedness deliberately repudiated by the Republican State of Minnesota, without one shadow of justification, and also cited the numerous instances of repudiation by Republican counties and townships in the northwest. Mr. Sherman was unable to make any adequate reply to this shewing, but he was much more taken aback when Mr. Vest, quoting from the official correspondence of the Treasury Department, showed that only eighteen months ago Mr. Sherman had laid down the rule that any federal official in Virginia found acting with the repudiationists or Mahone party would be removed.

No Hope for the Show.

The Philadelphia papers state that none of the directors of the permanent exhibition have any hope of its continuance. The president of the exhibition is quoted as saying that according to the present outlook there was no probability of the show remaining a Philadelphia institution, and he was outspoken in condemnation of the "utter apathy of the public" regarding the fate of the enterprise.
