Adam and Handy Bass were half brothers, the former aged 24 and the latter 20, as already stated. A feud had existed be-tween them for the past three months about a colored girl whom they were both in the habit of visiting. On Wednesday night last, Adam Bass, who was at work with Mr. Charles Matthews on the Magnolia section of the W. & W. R. o'clock Handy Bass also arrived there, and commenced cursing and abusing Adam. The latter finally told Handy he understood he was going to shoot him, upon which Handy, with an oath, replied that he did intend to do so. Adam then caught hold of Handy, when the latter drew a razor and flashed it across his throat, cutting it from ear to ear, and then fled. Adam, accompanied by the girl, started immediately for Magnolia to get the services of a physician, but the wounded man gave out when about half way. He was ta-ken to a house near by, and Drs. Mc-Millan and Devane were summoned to his bed-side. There was no help for the poor fellow, however, and he breathed his last in about one and a half or two Dull pain in the limbs, nausea, billiousness, are symptoms of approaching fever and ague. ed with Mr. Altred Hollingsworth, in rom a Church Paper. Rev. Dr. J. L. Girardeau, of Columbia Theological Seminary, about a month or two ago accepted the invitation of the Presbyterian church in Columbia to supply their pulpit until September 1st. This item of news has been copied from paper to paper until it reached the Examiner and Chronicle, the Baptist paper published in New York, which is noted by the Philadelphia Presbyterian, as follows: complete and radical cure.

In testimony of the above, I have hereunto set my official signature and seal the date above written.

"The Examiner and Chronicle says that the Presbyterian church at Columbia, S. C., the largest and most influential white church in that city, have cordially invited Rev. Dr. E. J. Goodspeed, principal of the Benedict Institute (colored) to supply their pul-pit for a time. This action of theirs is all the more creditable to the church. and welcome to the teachers of the Institute, from the fact that the white Baptists of Columbia have at no time shown a like warmth of courtesy."

In its travels the name of Dr. Girardeau has become transformed into Goodspeed, Columbia into "colored" and the Theological Seminary into the Benedict Institute. And the transaction is used to point a moral of the warmth of courtesy of the Presbyterians in Columbia to their Baptist brethren.

None of the news gatherers who have handled this paragraph have intended to change its meaning. It is easier for a story that is repeated by word of mouth, to receive changes, than for a printed paragraph. The modifications which this one has received from time to time in its travels, should remind us how easy it is to receive incorrect impressions, and make us guarded in receiving reports which are improbable, and especially when they are to the prejudice of others. A similar instance has been realized in connection with the temperance legislation in Kansas. Paragraph after paragraph has been published, to the effect that the law even forbade the use of wine at the Lord's Supper in that State. Aud sensational items have appeared that this minister or that, had celebrated the communion, at the peril

The whole matter is based on a mistake. The editor of the North Carolina Presbyterian wrote to Gov. St. John, of Kansas, asking him about the matter. The reply is, that the law forbids the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, but it does not affect the Lord's Supper in the least. And further, the law does not take effect till the first of May. How much "virtuous indignation" might have been spared by ascertaining the facts!

Seaside Religion,

The chief reason why Presbyterians cannot form successful seaside a ssociacannot form successful seaside a ssocia-tions is, however, the unquestionable fact that Presbyterianism is a moun-tainous or, at all events, and inland faith. Born among the Waldensian hill tribes, it reached its most vigorous growth among the Swiss mountains and in the rugged fastnesses of Scotland, Congregationalism, which is merely Presbyterianism passed through a coarse sieve and with less coherence among its particles, flourishes only in among its particles, flourishes only in the inland and hilly parts of New En-gland, and has been unable to keep its hold on Boston and the seaport towns. In this country the true Scotch Presbyterianism of the grim covenanting type is found almost exclusively among the Allegeny Mountains, and Presbyterianism of every kind has gradually receded from the coast line, and flourishes to any marked degree only in the interior of the country. It may be regarded as an established fact that an altitude of 800 feet above the sea is the lowest limit of the zone of Presbyterianism, and that it does not grow with real vigor below the altitude of 1000 feet. We can thus readily see why it is unwise and almost impossible to establish a Presbyterian seaside resort. We might as well expect the mountain ash to flourish in the sand of the sea beach. Methodism, which has never flourished at any great heigth above the sea, is essentially a sea-coast faith, and is perfectly at home at Ocean Grove or anywhere within sound of the surf.

A Place to be Vacated. A Washington letter says: It is understood as definitely settled that Mr. Kenneth Rayner, the solicitor of the treasury, is to be displaced. The position is one much sought after, and there are a dozen or so including several examembers of Congress, who would be very glad to take it. Senator Sherman is said to take it. Sherman is said to be pressing Mr. Bateman, a Cincinnati lawyer, who was in charge of the Sherman literary bureau here, which was engaged for four months prior to the Chicago con-vention in making up Mr. Sherman's claims to the presidential nomination.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FRATRICIDE.

The Old Rip Van Winkle sleep is disturbed. But who ever believed because North Carolina lay flat on her back, that she was dead enough asleep as to suggest the myth of Gibbon, or of Washington Irving. The seven sleepers tell of a day when religious proscription county, in regard to the murder alluded to in our last, stating that one Handy Bass killed Adam Bass and escaped, and requesting that a lookout should be kept by the officers here for the murderer. He is described as bustle and new enterprise in full vigor of activity. And it has been the fashion to compare North Carolina to both —to the dead seven sleepers, and to the lazy prototype of Rip Van Winkle. North Carolina has never slept nor slumbered. But it must be confessed that she has groped her way with the slow leaing on the pilgrim staff, planted cautiously at each step of her course to tell her she would not fall. Cautison has become another name for censervatism, and cowardice usurps the name of safety. The time has come for the State to assert manhood; to be independent, and R., went to the house of the girl, about not only that, but to boast of her inde-one mile from Magnelia. About 9 pendence. Modesty is a lost merit. It wins nothing. It loses all.

AUGUSTA VIA SPAR CANBURG.

The Virginia Midland Connecting With Augusta-The Baltimore and Ohio and the Augusta and Knox-

Special to the Augusta Chronicle and Constitution-alist.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 16.—An important meeting of leading citizens was held to-day in the interest of three new lines of railroad, viz: The projected extension of the Virginia Midland Railroad from Danville, Va., via States-ville, Lincolnton and Shelbyville, N. C., to Spartanburg; the extension of the Augusta and Knoxville road from Greenwood, S. C., via Laurensville to Spartanburg, and the proposed road from Spartanburg, via Rutherfordton and Marion, N. C., to Cranberry Iron Works; connect with a road already built from that point to Johnson City, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. The first mentioned line would give direct connection through the Virginia Midland Road with the Baltimore and Ohio Road. The second line would connect at Augusta with the Wadley Syndicate of South Carolina and Georgia Railroads, and the third line would secure another direct connection with the railroads of the Northwest, thus making Spartan-burg the railroad center of upper Carolina, and giving two competing lines of railroad in every direction-north, south, east and west. Enthusiastic speeches were made and resolutions were passed favoring the building of all those roads. Delegates were appointed to attend a railroad meeting at Statesville, N. C., on the 20th instant, in the interest of the Virginia Midland Railroad. Delegates were also appointed to attend a railroad meeting at Rutherfordton, N. C., on the 18th of May, in the interest of the road from Spartanburg to Rutherfordton, Marion and Cranberry Iron Works. Augusta is directly interested in these connections, and should send a strong delegation to both these railread meetings. President Verdery, of the A. & K. Railroad, should attend the Statesville meeting by all means.

REPUDIATION AT THE NORTH.

A Few Words from Senator Vest in the Way of Gentle Reminders.

From His Speech in the Senate.

"Now, by my troth, these be gallant words. When or where, says the Sena-tor from Ohio, did any community ever repudiate when under the control of the Republican party? The Senator read here from a book prepared by a federal official, one Mr. Porter, that $130,000,000 of State debt had been repudiated in the South. Why, Mr. President, does he not well know, do not the records of the federal courts show, that in the northwestern States over $100,000,000 of municipal securities have been repudiated and are to-day repudiated? Who does not know that the most terrible financial conflict that ever came off upon this continent was in the State of Lowe between the reserved. in the State of Iowa between the people who repudiated their obligations there and the federal tribunals, and that struggle at last came even to the climax that General Grant, then President of the United States, threatened to use the army of the Union in order to enforce the mandates of the federal tribunals. Has the Senator never heard of the Macoupin county bonds of Illinois, the Otoe bonds of Nebraska, the Clarke county bonds of Iowa, the bonds in my own State of Missouri, amounting to over $30,000,000? Over $100,000,000 of securities in Illinois, in Iowa, in Nebraska, in Minnesota, in Kansas have been repudiated, and today the struggle is going on between the bondholders in the East and the people of these municipalities in regard to the payment of those debts; and yet the distinguished Senator stands here and says no Republican community ever repudiated! Has he read the history of the State debt of Minnesota? Has the Senator never heard of the repudiation of $5,000,000, the entire debt of that State, which exports in one single year eighty million bushels of wheat?"

A Look Ahead. "Were I compelled to select from this administration the man most likely to succeed Garfield I would take the youngest of them all—I mean Secretary Lincoln." This was said by one old in the service and independent in his position among leading Republicans. "The name is a preliminary battle won, and the man, so far as I can hear, suits the name. He promises at his age a great deal more than his father did. He is ambitious only to do his work well. I consider he has the best introduction to the country of any man of his time—perhaps of any time—and though it may sound strange in your ears, I tell you there are to-day more presidential possibilities in the modest hard-working and thoroughly intelli-gent Secretary of War than in any oth-er man in the nation. Tals sounds
