

OMAR, R. JONES, Editor & Proprietor

TUESDAY, MAY 21, 1881.

Hordes of Chinese are overrunning the Sandwich Islands.

The recent town elections in Virginia are not giving much comfort to Mahone.

The next meeting of the Southern Presbyterian Assembly will be held at Atlanta, Ga.

Adulteration of food has killed a number of fine horses recently on State Island, N. Y.

St. Louis records eighteen cases of insanity from excessive drinking of liquor the past year.

Judge Ould has resigned the presidency of the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad.

Large shipments of flour are now being made from St. Louis to Liverpool, by way of New Orleans.

The father of the late Commodore Nutt, the dwarf, was a New Hampshire farmer, six feet three inches tall.

Gov. Jarvis will deliver the annual address to the Alumni of Randolph Macon College, Va., at the coming commencement.

Geo. Griffin, colored, has been sentenced to be hanged, July 31, at Coker, Alabama, for an assault upon a white woman.

The prison doors have slammed on Mr. Slamm, of Philadelphia, for failing to punch tickets on the road on which he was a conductor.

The Wilson Advance says that prohibition is gaining strength in that county, and if a proper canvass be made the county may be carried.

Reports from Washington indicate that Attorney-General MacVeagh intends to proceed in earnest against the "star route" swindlers.

A negro girl in New Orleans, a few nights ago, rushed into a burning room to rescue a white child. She saved the child but it cost her her life.

A new cotton factory is to be erected at Aycock's old mill, in Richmond county, and will be completed and in operation by the middle of September.

Louis Lapont, a French Canadian, resident of Medford, Mass., is accused of the murder of his daughter, whose body was found floating in the river.

A German walked into a saloon in Chicago the other day, drank a pint of whiskey, and then wagered five dollars that he could drink a quart. He won the money but gave the coroner a job.

While European immigrants are coming in, thousands of Americans are going abroad to see the sights across the water and deposit their loose change.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has decided against imitation butter. The Times thinks imitation butter ought to be good enough for imitation statesmen.

Excitement prevails at Seneca City, S. C., over the discovery of a diamond field, in which diamonds are found said to be equal to the diamonds in South Africa.

One of the leading topics of discussion in the council of the Reformed Episcopal Church, in session in New York last week, was the doctrine of eternal punishment.

John Riley, at Louisville, Ky., threw a piece of coal at Anthony Domas. Domas objected, whereupon Riley leveled a pistol and shot him dead. Riley had an extra charge of whiskey on.

In Laurens county, Ga., a daughter of Mrs. Tiny Garrett got angry at her mother and discharged two barrels of a shotgun at her, wounding her severely. About that time the father came in and beat the girl so badly that her life is in danger.

A contract has just been closed at St. Louis for the shipment of 30,000 bushels of wheat from St. Paul, Minnesota, to Glasgow, Scotland, by way of the Mississippi and New Orleans, at 28 cents a bushel. If successful it will be followed by larger shipments.

Gen. Grant has a salary of $10,000 as president of a New York bank, and has besides an interest in another banking institution. But yet he is poor enough to be the recipient of a money bonus which has been invested for his benefit.

The editor of the New York World don't think the revision of the New Testament an improvement, and says: "Let us say the Lord's Prayer as we used to say it." And then he piously repeated, "Now I lay me down to sleep," as the Western politician did on a previous occasion.

Riddleberger, having failed to be elected sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate, is Mahone's candidate for Governor of Virginia. He stands about as much chance of being elected as he does of being canonized.

Mr. Garfield is showing his respect for civil service reform by lifting all the Grant men he can find, and putting in their places Garfield men. That is the way the thing generally works.

The Daily Battle-Ground is the title of a new paper just issued in Greensboro, under the auspices of the "Battle-Ground Publishing Company," advocating prohibition. It is in charge of J. W. Albright, formerly of the Patriot, but more recently with the Beaton, whose light seems to have flickered out. The new paper is to be the organ of the prohibitionists of Guilford county, and starts out with a ten weeks lease of life.

MARCHING ONWARD.

Never perhaps in the history of the South have the signs of progress been as encouraging and as numerous.

In our own good old State there has been gratifying progress in this respect, the number of her manufacturing being increased every year.

There is no good reason why in time the South may not become the great cotton producing region of the country.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

There is no good reason why in time the South may not become the great cotton producing region of the country.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

When added to this, what a store of wealth we have in our vast mineral deposits and in the boundless forests, some of which have as yet been unscarred by the axe.

THAT POSTAL CARD,

WHICH CAUSED A FLUTTER.

And which You Promise to Give Mahone More Trouble than His Independent Vote in the Senate.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

These plain Anglo-Saxon words, on the back of a postal card, addressed to Senator Mahone, N. C., U. S. S., Washington, D. C., have furnished the ground work for one of the most amusing prosecutions in the history of the postoffice department.

dent, but they never reach him; we burn them up.

Senator Morgan—What right have you to keep the President from knowing what some of the people think of him? The President has the same rights as any other man to obtain the popular sentiment. We are not living in despotism.

Senator Morgan—Well, I don't know of any special guardianship in the postoffice department over Senator Mahone.

Mr. Bell—We aim to protect all Senators from these scurrilous postal card writers. We don't want to lacerate the feelings.

Senator Morgan—I intimately know my friend Vance, and I don't think that that postal card would have alarmingly shocked him.

Gen. Huntton here resumed the cross-examination. He declared that the word "dam-dog" on the postal card was not profanity—no "cuss" word.

Postmaster Shuman, of Middleburg, Va., was next called by the prosecution. He testified that the postal card was mailed in his office, and that the handwriting was like that of Carmichael's, and in fact, that Carmichael had admitted that he had written it and posted it.

Here the prosecution rested, and the defense declined to introduce any witnesses. Whereupon the argument commenced.

United States District Attorney Lewis maintained that it was the duty of the Commissioner to hold the prisoner for trial. As to his guilt, let a jury decide. This postal card is a libelous, scurrilous, and obscene word.

Major Scott pronounced the case, despite its amusing features, very serious. This postal card is a libelous, scurrilous, and obscene word.

Mr. Bell—We aim to protect all Senators from these scurrilous postal card writers. We don't want to lacerate the feelings.

Senator Morgan—I intimately know my friend Vance, and I don't think that that postal card would have alarmingly shocked him.

Gen. Huntton here resumed the cross-examination. He declared that the word "dam-dog" on the postal card was not profanity—no "cuss" word.

Postmaster Shuman, of Middleburg, Va., was next called by the prosecution. He testified that the postal card was mailed in his office, and that the handwriting was like that of Carmichael's, and in fact, that Carmichael had admitted that he had written it and posted it.

Here the prosecution rested, and the defense declined to introduce any witnesses. Whereupon the argument commenced.

United States District Attorney Lewis maintained that it was the duty of the Commissioner to hold the prisoner for trial. As to his guilt, let a jury decide. This postal card is a libelous, scurrilous, and obscene word.

Major Scott pronounced the case, despite its amusing features, very serious. This postal card is a libelous, scurrilous, and obscene word.

Mr. Bell—We aim to protect all Senators from these scurrilous postal card writers. We don't want to lacerate the feelings.

Senator Morgan—I intimately know my friend Vance, and I don't think that that postal card would have alarmingly shocked him.

OUR STOCK OF BOOTS AND SHOES, FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER TRADE,

Now being received, is very attractive, and embraces a great variety of goods of the best makes, all of which we warrant. For Ladies' Wear we have the latest styles of Boots, Shoes, and Congress Gaiters, Navy Ties, Oxford and Strap Ties, Prince Alberts, etc., of the best quality and of the best quality, and of Heavy Goods a full and complete line of the best grades.

BURGESS NICHOLS, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE, BEDDING, & C. A FULL LINE OF Cheap Bedsteads, AND LAMPS, Parlor & Chamber Suits, COFFINS OF ALL KINDS ON HAND.

RICHMOND TO NORTH CAROLINA.

SNOW DRIFT AND SEA FOAM FAMILY FLOUR, Coffees, Sugars, Molasses, and Everything in the Line of Heavy Groceries. HARVEY & BLAIR, RICHMOND, VA.

W. T. BLACKWELL & CO. Durham, N. C. Manufacturers of the Original and Only Genuine DURHAM TOBACCO. Our claim for merit is based upon the fact that a chemical analysis proves that the tobacco grown in our section is better adapted to make a GOOD, PURE, SATISFACTORY smoke than ANY OTHER tobacco grown in the world.

JOB PRINTING. Louisville Courier-Journal.

BOOK BINDING. In the South, the proprietor has just added a complete...

STEAM POWER. FAST PRESSES. GOOD WORKMEN.

JOB PRINTING HOUSES. In the South, the proprietor has just added a complete...

BOOK BINDERY AND Ruling Department. Capable of executing the very best class of work at short notice.

BLANK BOOKS, ACCOUNTS CURRENT. And work of this class, ruled and bound to order.

LETTER PRESS PRINTING. A FULL SUPPLY OF WOOD TYPE FOR POSTER PRINTING.

LETTER HEADS, Statements, Order Books, Visiting Cards, Ball Cards, Pamphlets.

BILL HEADS, Deeds, Receipts, Business Cards, Programmes, Magistrates' and Court Blanks.

NOTE HEADS, Circulars, Envelopes, Handbills, Checks, Labels.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. GINGER, BARK, MANDRAKE, PHILLIP'S and many other of the best medicines known are combined so skillfully in Parker's Ginger Tonic as to make it the greatest Blood Purifier and the Best Health and Strength Restorer ever used.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM. The most perfect Dressing ever used.

Miscellaneous. Piano Tuning and Repairing.

Miscellaneous. THE SURPLUS OR PERMANENT FUND. With Graded Assessments for Absolute Security.

THE NATIONAL Mutual Benefit ASSOCIATION, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Miscellaneous. SEASONABLE GOODS.

Miscellaneous. FLY FANS & TRAPS, BATH TUBS, SPRINKLERS, ICE CREAM FREEZERS.

Miscellaneous. RICHARD MOORE, Trade Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Miscellaneous. CLEVELAND MINERAL SPRINGS, OPENED MAY 15, 1881.

Contractor Wanted. THE LUTHERAN CONGREGATION of Concord, N. C., desires to erect a handsome brick church at once.

Miscellaneous. WANTED. A PROMPT-PAYING tenant wants to rent a small cottage, containing four or six rooms.

Miscellaneous. City Tax Notice. ALL persons residing in the city of Charlotte who own or have control of taxable property...

Miscellaneous. BRICK! BRICK!! THE undersigned respectfully inform the public that they have engaged in the brick business.

Miscellaneous. WANTED. A NUMBER OF HANDS to be employed in our A. selecting the Charlotte City Water Works.