Killed at Winston.

Last Saturday afternoon, while shift-ing trains at Winston on the North Western North Carolina Railroad, one of the brakemen named McPhail attempted to step from the platform to a flat car in motion, but missed his footing and fell under the car, which passed over him, cutting off both legs above the knee. He died from the effects of it within a few hours.

Killed by a Train.

Yesterday afternoon, as the train going north from this point for Richmond, was turning a curve on the North Carolina road, about a mile and a half east of Thomasville, the engineer, Mr. Geo. Witherspoon, noticed a man walking on the track in the direction of High Point, who proved to be a deaf mute named Chauncey. The engineer blew the whistle and put on brakes at once, but the shortness of the curve and the rapidity with which the train was running prevented its stoppage in time to save the man who was struck by the cow-catcher and thrown upon the front part of the engine, his skull being broken and other injuries inflicted from which he died shortly after. He was placed in a baggage car and carried to High Point, in the neighborhood of which, we believe, he lived.

MEETING OF MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION. A Few Sparksof Life Still Left-Plans for Its Reorganization and Revivification.

Pursuant to the call of the President of the Mecklenburg Centennial Asso-ciation, incorporated by act of the Leg-islature, chapter 124, of the private laws of the session of 1874-75, a mee ing of a few of the incorporators was held last night in the editorial rooms of THE OBSERVER.

There were present Senator Vance, president; Gen. R. Barringer, R. D. Graham, S. Wittkowsky and Jno. C. Burroughs, Esqs. The president decided that as a quorum (ten) was not present, the proceedings of the meeting should be informal, but took the chair and stated that he desired the reorganization of the association, and to that end, under authority conferred upon reduced railroad fares will be secured the president of the association, by a meeting heretofore held, the following named gentlemen were appointed an be given complimentary to the class of executive committee to consider the present status of the organization and its plan of future operations, and report to a full meeting to be called by the president, on the 15th June, proximo, to-wit: R. D. Graham, R. Barringer, Wittkowsky, Wm. Johnston, and

no. C. Burroughs. In order that public opinion might be directed toward the objects and aims of the organization. The Observer was requested to publish the act of incorporation, which is as follows: AN ACT TO INCORPORATE THE MECK-

LENBURG CENTENNIAL ASSOCIATION. Whereas, Our ancestors, moved by the most sacred love of liberty, and a deep-seated tyranny, did assemble in the town of Charlotte, on the 20th day of May, 1775. and with a boldness which challenged the admiration of the world, openly threw off and renounced their allegiance to the crown and govern-ment of Great Britain, and declared themselves separate and independent; and whereas, they were the first of the American people to take so courageous and important step, and made it good with their lives, their fortunes and their most sacred honor; and whereas, we deem the establishment and preservation of our liberties as the most important of all earthly concerns to us and to our children, and desire to keep alive the sacred flame which they kindled on this continent, as well as to honor the memory of such brave, patriotic and virtuous men; therefore, Section 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact, That a corporate body is hereby created to be known as "The Mecklenburg Centennial Association," for the purpose of celebrating, by proper ceremonies, the one hun-dreth anniversary of the said declaration of independence in the city of Charlotte, on the twentieth day of May, Anno Domini, one thousand eight on the evening of Wednesday, June 8th, the regular annual concert will behundred and seventy-five, and for erecting a monument in commemoration of that event, which corporate body shall be composed of the corporators hereinafter named and their associates, and shall continue it the corporators hereinafter named and their associates, and shall continue it the corporators hereinafter named and their associates, and shall continue it the corporators hereinafter named and their associates, and shall continue it to be a street, this city, yesterday evening, w.
