OBSERVATIONS.

The boy who is prohibited to go barefoot, now hides his shoes behind the ash barrel and dances around the street.

Grant having said there was no treaty of Menominee, we begin to doubt the reality of the declaration of independence.

Mahone, Riddleberger, Gorham, Brady, Dorsey, Conning, Kiss, Bradley, Sessions, Edwards! And this species?

"Jacob kissed Rachel and lifted up his voice and wept." If Rachel was a pretty girl and kept about—Daily Telegram.

Work on the Brooklyn bridge has been suspended for want of steel.

A Chinese physician groans and wails until his patient is cured before he asks a fee, and he does not get any fee—

Mr. Depece is not ambitious of promotion in the Republic.

"I want to see Washington" plums on the top shelf," says Bowser.

They had a new huckster at Niagara lately. He only charged fifty cents.

The suicide mania.

The whole tendency of modern thought and action is towards the minimizing of every one of the "terrors of death."

He proceeds to show that the deprivation of water has brought about a larger number of cases of death than all other causes combined.

Have water—without ice—always accessible to the child who will then refuse sour milk and eat only when hungry.

A child who drinks often of water is much less likely to get overheated than one who is deprived of it.

The Queen of Huckleberry Hell.

Old circus goers may remember when "The Woman with the Iron Jaw" was the bright particular star of the arena.

The Worst Fan.

A traveler from India relates to This and That the worst pun ever known in that country since the arrival of the English.
