Is it the Duty of Church Members to Vote for Prohibition? To the Editor of The Observer.

The Church is believed by all who believe in the holy Diety to be the great and only power that shields fallen man from wrong and fits him for the happiness that is promised the faithful after they have passed that bourne whence none ever return, and to secure that happiness what is required of those who enlist under that banner—the banner of the cross? Along the Upper Brazos and in Western Texas, where flourish the horned frog, is the strangest snake known to naturalists. He is sometimes called the glass-snake. He is from two to four feet long, with a striped back. He is not poisonous. His way of defending himself when attacked by a powerful foe is similar to that of the possion or skunk. Instead of fighting back he breaks into a dozen pieces, and every piece distinct in itself, lies apparantly dead on the ground. Sometimes the pieces are a foot apart. When the foe disappears the pieces gradually come together, unite into one snake and crawl off. The naturalist will naturally ask if the pieces are entirely separated. I answer they are. No film or tender holds them together. You can chop the ground with an axe between the pieces. Mr. H. Edwards, whose post office address is Montgomery, Alabama, showed me one of these snakes at Waco. He still has it alive, and will prove with the living snake ner of the cross?

Will simply connecting one's self with the Church secure it? I think not. We are commanded to let our lights so shine that others seeing our good works will be constrained to folselves with the Church promise not only their fellow Christians, but the great God who rules the destinies of us all to do all in their power to promote the spiritual good of that Church?

How many stop as they journey on through life and think of that solemn promise that ought to be sacred to every child of God? How many ignore if entirely when their own worldly After spending over twelve thousand dollars in experiments, Dr. Warner has perfected a material for boning corsets called it entirely when their own worldly lusts come in conflict with the duty they owe their Church, their God and their fellow man?

And nowin the desperate effort of the good people of this country to inaugu-rate a great moral reform how many of the professed followers of the meek and lowly Jesus, will aid in breaking down this most formidable barrier the Church has to surmount—intemperance—the crying evil of our country at the present day—the evil that is grow-ing on our youth each year—the fell destroyer of domestic peace and happiness-this evil that every one will admit causes nine-tenths of the misery, poverty crime and suffering in our

Are there any of you that will stand idly by and see this great banner of reform trail in the dust? or will any of you aid in bringing it down? God for-bid it.

leaving the Capitol with Secretary Woodbury and others, just as he reached the portico, a young painter, Richard Lawrence, standing in the crowd, produced a pistol from beneath the folds of his cloak, and aiming directly at the President's heart, within two and a half feet of him, pulled the trigger. The pistol snapped, and quick as thought he produced a second weapon and snapped it also without effect. President Jackson, raising his cane, rushed upon Lawrence with the ferocity of a tiger, exclaiming, "Let me go, gentlemen, I can defend myself." Lawrence had already been knocked down and dragged out, and was hurried off to the prison. On the examination, his insanity was clearly proven. He refused to obey his counsel, claimed to be King of England and America, and demanded of the court to know why it assumed to judge his case. He gave as the reason for his deed that Jackson had caused his father, the King of England, to lose money by the battle of New Orleans; and he had asked the President for money, which being refused he said he had tried to kill him. Think a moment before you do that. Hear the awful denunciations that are hurled at the heads of that class as ex-

to pieces one day and before it got to-gether a hungry kingsnake, which I still have, swallowed the tail." Mr. Edwards has several kingsnakes. Like the glass-snake, they are not poisonous; still they kill the largest snake in the bottoms. They make a spring at a large snake or rabbit, coil instantly around its neck and strangle it ly around its neck and strangle it—choke it to death. A kingsnake five feet long will strangle a dog or a rattle-snake. The only snake able to defend itself against the kingsnake is the glass-snake. When the kingsnake springs at the glass-snake the glass-snake breaks into pieces and its foe might as well try to strangle a basket of clothes-pins or a pailful of sardines.
