If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headaches, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "billiousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common, as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so assity corrected if you will take Simmons Liver Regular. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost every one who will doe systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons Liver Regula 167 is no drastic, violent purget; but a gentle assistant to nature.

Should not be regarded as a triffing allment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to ast or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of hody prevalls.

In a distressing afficient occurs most frequently. The distorbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly diseased contents, entries a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nauses, and this constitutes what is popularly known as stek headache.

CAUTION. Buy no powders or prepared SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR unless in our engraved wrapper with trade nark, stump and signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

Perry Davis' Pain Killer never fails to afford feastant relief for cramp and pain in the stomach.

Joseph Burditt.

Nicholville, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1881.

The very best medicine I know of for dysentery, cholers morbus, and cramps in the stomach. Have used it for years, and it is sere ever every time.

Moinsona, Iowa, March 12, 1881.

I have used your Pain Killer in severe cases of cramp, colic, and cholers morbus, and it gave almost instant relief.

Carnesville Ga., Feb. 28, 1881.

For twenty years I have used your Pain Killer in my family. Have used it many times for bowel complaints, and it always cures. Would not feel safe without a bottle in the house.

Saco, Me., Jan. 22, 1881.

Have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer for twelve years. It is safe, sure, and reliable. No mother should allow it to be out of the family.

We began using it over thirty years ago, and it always gives immediate relief. Would hardly dare to go to bed without a bottle in the house.

Convarione, S. C., Feb. 22, 1881.

Nearly every family in this section keeps a bottle in the house.

The census department will soon have ready its report on the wealth of this country. It will probably show the valuation of the United States to be $60,000,000,000, as against about $31,-000,000,000 in 1870.

The invested capital in coal mines in the United States is $175,000,000 of 195 per cent. The output has increased from 15,596,257 tons in 1870 to 27,433,320 tons in 1880, a gain of 75 per cent.

Copper is at present the best paying interest in Arizona, but a correspondent of the New York Tribune says silver is the basis upon which its permanent prosperity must rest. This metal is abundant—the hills being full of it. Every county disclosed rich deposits, and even the Arizonians themosphere and of a very inferior kind. The farmers will be prohibited this year in many sections from saving it. There will be none to save.

Mormon mission in Georgia, has been promiscuous in its social relations ever since it was settled by white people, and it is difficult to imagine how the missionaries of the latter-day saints are to do any harm there in that regard. The establishment of churches and Sunday schools may sysmatize the several relations, but there is no danger of debauchery. An Atlanta firm owns bedstead factory which turned out 75,000 bedsteads last year and will make 125,000 during the present year. The factory is at London, Tennessee. Twelve salesmen are kept on the road and twenty-five men are kept in Atlanta to handle the bedsteads. The bedsteads are made from good seasoned material, and vary in price from the cheap article of $1.75 to a handsome bedstead which costs $10.75.

Hot Weather in London.

From the Spectator. London has been passing through a short spell of tropical heat. On Friday week the thermometer rose to 95 degrees and it did not decline below 88 degrees till Wednesday, since which day it has been cooler. During the five hot days the nights also were extremely classes compelled to work out of doors adjusted themselves to the weather was very noteworthy. The cabmen recognized by a sort of instinct that the back of the neck was the point of danger, and employed one of the most effectual of all protectives—a cabbage leaf, covered by a thick straw hat. We fear, however, that the inexplicable fear, however, that the inexplicable superstition about the danger of drinking cold water in hot weather still lingers. There is, as every Indian knows, no better safeguard against heat apoplexy. A gallon a day would not hurt a man laboring with the thermometer above 80 degrees.

MUSINGS-OF A CRANK. A Curious Letter from a Man who Proposes to Starve to Death, housebreakers and sneak thieves.

Philadelphia Record. Capt. Chasteau, of the Park Guard, found in his mail yesterday a letter from a crank signing himself John Steiner, in which he devoted twelve pages to conveying to the captain the interesting information that he was about to commit suicide. After discussing in a rambling way the moral responsibility of a suicide to his Maker, the writer calls himself a criminal, and oppressive, rooms with a Western exposure showing an average of 80 degrees. This is more than the usual heat says: "Sinner as I am, I have been grees. This is more than the usual heat of Bombay, or indeed, of Calcutta, where the sea breeze, which usually springs up at 6½ p. m., makes the nights more endurable. The heat in the tropics falls, however, on more exhausted frames, and is far more difficult to bear. Few deaths were recorded—we notice only three—from sunstroke, but most men were perceptibly "tried," and children suffered exceedingly, and had the maximum heat lasted a week longer there would have been a heavy mortality. The suddenness with which the classes compelled to work out of doors significantly.

In the same vein the writer continues to the close, and then lets it out that the origin of his suicidal intent is disappointed love. Captain Chasteau has filed the letter for future reference in the event of the case ever reaching the coroner.

Advice to the Thirsty.

London Warla. An always thirsty but very temperate man exhorts as follows: Avoid cider. Delicious but fatal drink to takers of exercise. I can bear testimony to the fact that the more you drink of it, the more you want to. I am credibly informed that Devenshire more your Cincinnati Enquirer.

Speaking of his visit to England last year, John T. Raymond recently said at a London dinner party the lady he escorted to the table said to him in a very earnest voice:

"Mr. Raymond, are you really an American? You are not in the least like my idea of one."

"I am an American, but not an aboriginal," responded he.

formed that Devonshire mowers and reapers can drink five or six gallons a day, and I can perfectly believe it. Never touch spirits under any circumstances. Dozens of temons can be easily carried about, and with soda or plain water, or even that ghastly compound ginger beer, a squeeze of a lemon is worth a king's ransom. There are two pre-eminent drinks for quenching thirst, equal in merit, but a matter of taste to the drinkers—barley water scientifically made, according to the reformed that Devonshire mowers and scientifically made, according to the reriginal," responded he.

"An aboriginal! You mean an Indian. That reminds me to ask if you have much trouble with the Indians in But if young ladies would drink the latter at balls, for instance, in lieu of doubtful champagne, they would speed-ily discover a great difference, morally

The Balance Sheet, Mr. M. Mulhall, an English statisti-cian, has published a little work called "Balance Sheet of the World, 1870-1880," "Balance Sheet of the World, 1870-1880,"
He shows that during that decade, the aggregate industries of France have advanced from £1,177,000,000 to £1,225,-000,000; those in Germany from £1,-002,000,000 to £1,269,000,000; those of Great Britain from £1,687,000,600 to £2,024,000,000; and those of America from £989,000,000 to £2,004,000,000. The official returns from Washington show that the exports for the wear ending that the exports for the year ending June 80th were $1,545,000.000; that they exceeded our imports by $269,000,000; and that we received in payment of trade balances $41.000,000 in gold.
