Ex-United States Senator Harlan, of Iowa, still dabbles some in politics. He has been nominated by the Republicans of Union county for the State Senate.

Hartmann, the Russian nihilist, is dodging around in Ontario, Canada, under the assumed name of G. Block. Block-head would have been a little more appropriate.

The recent death of Mrs. Millard Fillmore recalls the fact that Mrs. Polk, widow of James K. Polk, who preceded Fillmore, is still alive and in the apparel enjoyment of good health.

Mrs. Caroline Gordon, wife of Hugh H. Gordon, eldest son of Gen. Gordon, of Georgia, died last Thursday at Kirkwood, the General's residence, on the suburbs of Atlanta.

A young man walking with a lady Sunday night, about 9 o'clock, on one of the principal streets of Richmond, was clubbed and beaten half to death, and nobody seems to know who did it. As usual policemen were in some other part of the town.

John Dillon was arrested without warrant, imprisoned without a mittimus, and released without a word of explanation. And yet it is the boast of the Briton that England is one of the freest and best governed under the sun.

A correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier tells of a case of kidnapping by negro women in Stanley county, in this State. It seems that some low white people took possession of a colored school house, twelve miles from Abbeville, and refused to vacate when requested by the neighbors to do so.

Last Thursday night a number of colored women, disguised in male attire, went to the school-house and commenced to throw stones at the doors and windows, when those within fired upon them, killing one and wounding another.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 8:30 a. m.—The President was somewhat restless and vomited several times during the early part of last night. Since 8 o'clock this morning he has not vomited and has slept tranquilly most of the time. Nutritious enemata are successfully employed to sustain the patient, and the symptoms appear less urgent than yesterday afternoon. At present his pulse is 100, temperature 98.6-10, respiration 18.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—EXECUTIVE MANSION.—The midday bulletin is looked forward to with intense interest. The opinion prevails at the Mansion among those who are thoroughly conversant with the President's condition that should the temperature after the noon dressing be below the normal point and the pulse become more frequent the gravity of the situation will be increased. On the other hand, if the temperature should remain normal or decrease a little and the pulse still keep up, the situation will not be considered as naturally changed. A stationary temperature and improved pulse would be the most favorable indications which could be had at the present time. Nothing directly from the sick room has been received since the facts above stated.

There are now a few visitors at the house, but with windows throughout the city in which official bulletins are displayed indicate that there is a general feeling of alarm throughout the entire city. As usual pending the anticipated arrival of the President at the White House, the street such as "pulse is rapidly increasing," "it is known that the President cannot recover," &c., &c. While such stories may prove to be correct there is no foundation for them beyond what has been stated.

UNOFFICIAL BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION.—10:30 a. m.—Private Secretary Brown came from the surgeons' room a few moments ago and reported that the President was sleeping. No morphia has yet been injected and there has been no return of nausea since 3 a. m. Two enemata have been successfully administered since 10 o'clock. The surgeon says the morning dressing showed that the wound was in a perfectly healthy condition.

Members of the cabinet arrived at various times during the early morning. Attorney General MacVeagh accompanied Dr. Agnew, arriving at the Mansion about half past seven. When he returned from the private part of the house he expressed the opinion that while there was yet hope the patient was certainly in a very critical condition. There is a noticeable despondent expression visible in those having access to the President's chamber, and the greatest reticence is observed, especially by the attending surgeons, who do not enter the business portion of the house unless it is absolutely necessary. The despondent expression of Attorney-General MacVeagh was especially noticeable.
