PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER never fails to aford instant relief for cramp and pain in the stomach.

NICHOLVILLE, N. Y. Feb. 2, 1881.

The very best medicine I know of for dysentery, choiers morbus, and cramps in the stomach. Have used it for years, and it is sure care every time.

MOINGONA, IOWA, March 12, 1881.

I have used your PAIN KILLER in severe cases of cramp, colic, and cholers morbus, and it gave almost instant relief.

CARNESVILLE, GA., Feb. 28, 1881.

For twenty years I have used your PAIN KILLER in my family. Have used it many times for bowel complaints, and it always cures. Would not feel safe without a bottle in the house.

J. B. IVIE.

Saco, ME., Jan. 22, 1881.

Have used PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER for twelve years. It is eafe, sure, and reliable. No mother should allow it to be out of the family.

We began using it over thirty years ago, and it always gives immediate relief. Would hardly dare to go to bed without a bottle in the house.

CONWAYBORO, S. C., Feb. 22, 1881.

Nearly every family in this section keeps a bottle in the house.

U. S. CONSULATE,

CREFELD, RHENISH PRUSSIA, Feb. 8, 1881.

I have known PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER almost from the day it was introduced, and after years of observation and use I regard its presence in my household as an indispensable necessity.

I had been several days suffering severely from diarrhosa, accompanied with intense pain, when I tried your PAIN KILLER, and found almost instant relief.

SI MONTAGUE ST., LONDON, ENG.

During a residence of twenty three years in India, I have given it in many cases of diarrhosa, dysentery, and cholera, and never knew it to fail to give relief.

OBSERVATIONS.

An Ohie man: That was a funny mistake of the man who took up a Testament and glancing at the running title "S. Matthew," said he always knew Stanley was smart, but didn't know he ever wrote on religious subjects.—Besten Transcript. Canopies

Prudence: Arizona ministers prudently leave their revolvers on the bank when going into the water to baptize converts, but never go in so far but they can reach the weapons in two jumps if necessary.—Detroit Free Press.

A popular name: The name of Maria is so popular in Ottumwa that when a cat climbs a back fence in a well-populated neighborhood and plaintively vocalizes, "Mariar?" twenty windows are hastily thrown up, and twanty female heads are thrust out, wildly answering: "Is that you, Charley?"—Ottumwa Press. Latest agony: It is difficult to keep all the agenies of this agonizing period in mind: but if you wish to be considered "intense" it is absolutely necessary that you should receive by mail a pelkadot handkerchief from your best girl: This signifies: "There is a spot (in fact, several of them) that's dear to me, Wilt come?"—New Haven Register.

An eye to business: "William," the druggist remarked to his clerk, "where did this package of brown wrapping paper come from?" "It's just a sample, sir, sent us by Pulp, Fibre & Co., but we can't use it; its too course and heavy for our use." "Ah. well," replied the honest druggist, "do not waste it; put it in the window and sell it for fly paper."—Burlington Hawkeye,

The surrender of Yorktown.

H. P. Johnston in Harper's Magazine. At noon of the 19th (October) we have the first act of the surrender. Yorktown changed hands. Two redoubts on the left of the enemy's works Silk & Lisle Thread Gloves & Silk Mitts. were at that hour taken possession of by detachments from the allied army.
Col. Richard Butler commanded the American and the Marquis Lavel the French party, each of one hundred men. At two o'clock we reach the closing scene. The army of Cornwall-is marched out as prisoners of war, grounded their arms, and then marched back. Accounts agree in describing the display and ceremony on the occasion as quite imposing. The British appeared in new uniforms, distributed among them a few days before, and it ly too willing to come. At the first only required the flying of their standards to give their march the effect of a holipay parade. But their colors were cased, and they were prohibited from playing either a French or an Ameriand when the typhoon past and the can tune. The militia formed in the rear present-The militia formed in the rear presented a less martial sight, so far as clothing and order were concerned. But all these men were conquerors, and their very appearance bespoke the hardships and privation they and their States had undergone to win in the struggle. At the head of the respective lines were the commanding Generals, nobly mounted—Washington, Rochambeau, LaFayette, Lincoln, Steuben, Knox, and the rest. Detroit Free Press. One of the dog-catching squad of the police force yesterday invited our reporter to make a little jaunt with him and write up a little article on the dexterity of Detroit policemen in roping in stray canines, and after the officer had supplied himself with his outfit the pair headed for the corner of Beaubien and Crohean streets, where a hig street. pair headed for the corner of Beaubien and Crohgan streets, where a big stray dog had escaped one of the squad two hours before. The corner was not only there, but likewise the canine. In size he was a fair match for a yearling calf, and in disposition all he asked was to be let alone. He was lying alongside the fence in the shade, and the officer said it would be no trouble at all to secure him.

at all to secure him. There are various ways of catching an unlicensed dog, and way No. 1 was first tried. He was coaxed with a piece of beefsteak, but probably reasoning that it was cut from the neck instead of the round he repelled the officer with a growl that sent the reporter to the top of a six-foot fence.

"The next way is to walk right up to him and give him the collar," ob-served the officer, and in this he was encouraged by the reporter.

The dog had his head on his paws and his eyes on a line with the officer's ankles. When the blue coat was within six feet the victim arose and sent forth such a growl as would have split a lion from chin to tail, and the officer retreated with the remark: "Hand me that 'ere lasso. Let me get the noose over his head and I'll choke the growl out of him pretty sud-The noose was handed down, and after some trouble, it was launched. No good except to agitate the dog. A second throw was attended with like results, but at the third the noose settled over the dog's head and the officer had him. He also had the officer. One could have heard a pin drop as the two eyed each other. The next move was to take the captive to the pound, and the officer finally braced up and began pull he made a home run, and for the next sixty seconds no one could tell dog from officer. How a Young Woman Got a Mine. Salt Lake Herald, Among the many prospectors in Utah a year ago were four young men, who were rewarded by the discovery of a valuable mine, near Hailey. One of the young men had a lady friend, and it was decided to name the mine after her and to so fix the title that, in case of their death, it should be hers. Last winter, while working upon their claim, the whole party was buried beneath a snow-slide; and now the young lady is planning what good she will do with the $65,000 that has been offered her for her neat little legacy.
