The Danville Item in an editorial speaking hopefully of the future of that town says: "Enterprise and capital are wanted. That's all." That's everything. Much cannot be looked for from a town whose people have for years looked upon the Dan wasting its waters that ought to be turning thousands of wheels, without making an effort to utilize them. Danville might be a great place if the people had the enterprise and energy to make it so.

Oh, yes! do not take my ring off, unless something is needed to pay for anything, then take it. It is all I have I care for. I have explained to my grandpa all I think necessary. WHAT THEIR PRAYERS DID.

Rev. Mr. Power, pastor of Mr. Garfield's church, in a recent interview with a newspaper reporter said: We have never had but one feeling n the matter. So far as we are concerned, we have an abiding faith that the President will get well. We have two reasons for this. First, we believe that God will answer prayer if it is offered with the whole soul We have prayed night and day for the recovery of the President. We have felt that God has use for him, a wise and holy purpose, and had raised him up as a Christian leader of a great people. He is the only communicant of the Church of Christ who has ever been called to the Christ who has ever been called to the position of President of the United states, and we have felt that the purposes of God were not accomplished, and that he would be spared to us still further to carry out those purposes. We looked forward to yesterday and to day with great anxiety, because we felt that if he got through these two ployers which he invested in lottery days the change would be for the better. He has passed safely through them. The change is for the better, and and my congregation firmly believe that our prayers have been answerd and that the President will live.

Considering the fact that all churches in the country prayed for the recovery of the President this claim of the peculiar efficacy of the prayers of Mr. Power and his flock is rather selfish to say the least of it.

Senator Hawley's Hartford Courant remarks: "If Mr. Arther becomes Presidentwe shall confidently expect at his hands an administration that will be not factional or sectional, but national in the best sense-such an administration as the country would have had if President Garfield's life had been spared. Even if he were not constrained to this course by right feeling and patriotism, an enlightened selfishness alone would dictate it to him."

The parotid swelling has been reduced to two-thirds of its maximum and is steadily diminishing. The patient continues to take food and has made a slight gain in strength. The question of his removal from the Executive Mansion is again being seriously considered. The President himself wishes to go to Mentor, but al-though he will doubtless be taken there eventually, the first removal will be to a shorter distance, and will take place at the earliest possible moment.
