NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—Special despatches to the Democrat from all parts of the cotton country make the following showing of the present condition of ALABAMA.

Cotton is opening rapidly, and prematurely. Some little damage from rust and worms; great injury from drought; acreage about the same as last year. One county shows a small increase, The weather is splendid for picking, which is proceeding vigorously. ARKANSAS.

Picking is better than last; only half a crop, owing to severe drought. FLORIDA.

The weather is excellent; crops short but of excellent quality.

GEORGIA Some improvement over last year. The plant is opening well, but damaged by the grub and rains. An increase of acreage of 5 per cent. Picking progressing rapidly; weather favorable; crop from ½ to %; average quality, not so good as last year.

LOUISIANA The plant opened early and prema-turely, in some parishes. The entire crop is now open. There is great damage from drought, and slight damage from worms and shedding. The picking is progressing rapidly. In some of the parishes one third of the crop is already picked and picking and will be over by October 1st. Labor is scarce in some sections. The yield is short, % of a crop in three parishes; 1/8 in four; 1/4 in two and 1/4 in one. The quality is generally excellent. Shipments are 1/4 greater than last year.

MISSISSIPPI.

The plant is opening prematurely; some counties have one half and others three fourths of a crop, already opened. The damage is heavy from drought and Picking is general, and two weeks in Herman Hilden, a young German in St. Louis, driven to desperation by the conduct of his mother, whose illicit relations with a man named Paul Kimmer, became notorious, went to Milway way here they resided and that

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 11:00 a. m .-The condition of the President has not materially changed since yesterday, although he was thought this morning to be a little weaker and less animated. There seems to be a growing impression among his attendants that he is beginning to be unfavorably affected by the weather and by malarious air from het Potomac River flats, immediately south of the Executive Mansion. The rank vegetation which, fertilized by city sewerage and stimulated by abundant water and hot sunshine that covers these flats during summer is now be-ginning to decay, and since yesterday morning a faint malodorous mist has hung over the river from the water front of the Executive Mansion grounds to Long bridge; almost every man who has recently been engaged in the work of improving the channel of the river has been more or less sick from malaria, much chance to live in such an atmosphere as that carried by southerly now urgent.

One of the attending surgeons said to a friend this morning that the Presi-dent's symptoms had, he thought, taken on slightly an intermittent character and more languid. He (the surgeon) thought the President ought not to remain here an hour longer than necessary and he would vote for speedy reimproved a little since early morning, and is now about the same as yesterday.

Dr. Agnew arrived at 11 o'clock to-day and a formal consultation of the full staff of surgeons with regard to the question of removal, will be held this

The Doctor replied that he understood it had been virtually decided to remove the patient by rail to Long Branch some time before Wednesday next. The proposition is now under discussion, the Doctor said, to lay a track from the Executive Mansion to the Washington Monument, there to connect with the Pennsylva-nia railroad, used for transporting stone. Further than this, the Doctor said, the details as yet had not been arranged. In response to an inquiry where the patient would be placed upon his arrival at Long Branch the Doctor said, "that has not yet been decided upon,
