HOME PENCILINGS.

First day of October.

Hand in church notices to-day. Scuppernongs have taken the place of the watermelons.

Mr. S. P. Alexander returned to the city yesterday from his annual summer trip to Saratoga and the Northern cities The bullion assays at the United States assay office in this city, during the month of September, amount to $7,396.95. It is a mistake. You cannot go hunting to-day for the law has been changed and the birds are protected until November 1st instead of only till October 1st as formerly. It is hard, but

Mr. E. J. Allen informs us that the Winston Leader was mistaken as to his intention of opening a jewelry store in Winston. It is his brother. Mr. Allen says his home is Charlotte, and he likes it entiely too well to

The next entertainment so far booked for the opera house after the minstrels to-night is the "Widow Bedott" on the night of the 28th inst. The uprorious fun which the comedian, Bishop, makes as the "widow" is fresh in the memory of those Charlotteans who saw him last season.

Reward of Ten Dollars.

In an advertisement to be found elsewhere, Messrs. R. M. Miller & Sons of-fer ten dollars reward for the appre-hension of the thief who stole a bale of cotton from the cotton platform last Thursday night—29th ult. The thief will have to cover up his tracks re-markably well or he will "fotch up standing" before the majesty of the Paying the Fiddler.

The chief of police received word from the doctor who flew through town day before yesterday in his buggy, that as soon as his head went down he would be in to settle up with the city. He had also been somewhat bruised as his wild run had wound up about Stewart's pond several miles from town with a big smash-up, and to cap the climax of his grief, 'Squire Severs, just outside the corporation, had already fined him $5 for the riotous run.

Kunkels' Minstrels To-Night:

Kunkels' Nightingale Minstrels appear in the opera house to-night, and as usual in Charlotte with such troops they will probably be greeted with a large house. Besides Geo. Kunkel's there are several first-class black cork artists and the entertainment will no doubt be excellent. We have seen no adverse criticism of them in any of the papers and some very complimentary notices have been given. The music it is said is especially excellent. They claim to give a performance entirely free from anything coarse or indelicate. Reserved seats are on sale at the usual

Mayor's Court.

At the mayor's court yesterday morning the sports whom the mayor caught bat shooting within the corporate limits, were fined $10 each and given till this morning to decide whether they would appeal or pay.

Elsie Fulenwider was committed to jail in default of $100 bond, on the charge of stealing a bucket of lard from the store of Mayer & Ross.

Cornelia Steele, colored, for profane and obscene language on the streets, was sent to the chain gang in default of $10 and costs. Della White and Katie Lane, colored, for an affray were fined, the first $7.50 and the second $1 and costs.

Forepaugh's Hig Show Probably Coming.

Mr. A. S. Dingess, general director of Forepaugh's mammouth show, was in the city yesterday. He stated that it was highly probable that this, the largest of traveling shows, would visit us about the first week of November on its return to the North. There is no discount on Forepaugh's show. This no discount on Forepaugh's show. This is what the Louisville Courier-Lournal says of it, editorially:

Forepaugh's circus, menagerie and museum fairly captured the city yeslerday, and gave to the streets the appearance of a public holiday. The

THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

What Col. Wm. Johnston, after Visiting the Gate City and Seeing the Skeleten of its Elephant, thinks the Animal will be, and North Onrollina's Part in Clothing it with

Col. Wm. Johnston returned yesterday from a short visit to Atlanta, where he visited the grounds of the Exposition in company with ex-Gov. Bullock of Georgia. The Colonel was full of Atlanta and the Francisco full of Atlanta and the Exposition. Here are some of the things he said about both to a reporter of THE OB-SERVER, who had a conversation with

"Yes," he said, "it is going to be a big thing. No doubt about it. Atlanta itself is decidedly the most progressive place in the South, and for that matter more so than any city in the older States. A new steam cotton factory of 10,000 spindles, and 800 new houses besides, are now actually in course of erection. Everything is done with a rush and a visit there puts one to wondering why we can't inspire our own city with some of this push and energy.

"But the exposition-"Yes, I'm coming to that. The grounds are within two miles of the heart of the city. The buildings dis-play a taste and finish at which I ac-knowledge some surprise. From a central square of about 200 yards the four wings of the main building diverge—two of them to a length of 100 yards and the other two to 70 yards. Besides the main building there are many more smaller buildings in the grounds— about 100 acres. Among these is a large hotel of 300 rooms, which is also finished and elegant. Handsome ever-greens and shrubs are being daily set out around the buildings and throughout the grounds. The accommodations for an immense stock display are mag-nificent and, "my goodness," said the Colonel, growing warm with enthusiasm, "it is really astonishing how much those people have done with nothing but individual subscriptions. The appointments are not only perfect, but are on a gigantic scale."

"Well, what about the attendance Will the North and West be there?" "Yes. I was assured not only by my own observation of the preparations, but by the managers that the North West would come with numbers and with substance. Among the proofs of this is the fact that the owners of Northern machine works, cotton manufactories and various other industries are now engaged in erecting suitable buildings for their own displays. The grounds are already covered with articles for display, and I was told that goods shipped three weeks ago from various points in the North and West were still en route, from the great pressure of freight for the exposition on the roads entering Atlanta.

"And the South? "I believe every Southern State will be well represented. If they are not it is a loss of the best opportunity they is a loss of the best opportunity they have ever had to advertise their resources and invite immigration and capital. The Cotton States association, of which box was from Philadelphia and round the edges it was draped in mourning by the brush of the marker. Everything is put in mourning now in the North, they say.

is a loss of the best opportunity they have ever had to advertise their resources and invite immigration and capital. The Cotton States association, of which by the way, Mr. Morehead, of Vicksburg, Miss., a former North Carolinian, is President, is in active sympathy and full co-operation with the management of the exposition. It will with have ever had to advertise their resources and invite immigration and capital. The Cotton States association, of which by the way, Mr. Morehead, of Vicksburg, Miss., a former North Carolinian, is President, is in active sympathy and full co-operation with the management of the exposition. It will with out doubt be the greatest thing of the kind the South has ever known, and I am persuaded that it will result in incalculable good to us."

"Will there be any foreign exhibitions?"

tions?" "Oh yes; the exposition will not be confined to the United States. It will be decidedly cosmopolitan, although, of course, it will as intended be much more full in displays of American and especially of Southern products manufactures and minerals. "Lastly, Colonel, but by no means least, will North Carolina's display do her credit?"

"I am happy to say that I have every reason to believe that it will. I assured the gentlemen of the management that we would beat the world in displays of minerals and of commercial herbs and roots. In the latter field the house of Wallace Bros., of Statesville, will make an exhibit of 2,000 distinct specimens. an exhibit of 2,000 distinct specimens. In the department of ores and minerals and woods, we will also, I think, be first. The State Agricultural Department has devoted itself to the collection of these last for a display at the exposition, and besides, it will make a handsome agricultural exhibit. The Piedmont Air-Line also draws extensively on North Carolina for its display; and in this connection I wish you would say that every farmer in North Carolina ought to go to the exposition before frost to see the growing crops on the ground if for nothing else. There are patches of all the food and grass crops of the South, besides cotton in every variety, not only of growth and every variety, not only of growth and size, but of quality, of Southern and Oriental productions, A very interesting feature of this growing cotton exhibition is the fertilizer experiments. Side by side are rows of cotton cultivated with different brands of commercial fertilizers and also rows without these fertilizers, and also rows without these forcing agents at all. It is demonstrated right there that cotton cannot be raised in the climate of North Georgia without them. Any Southern farmer who takes any interest in his business would feel repaid for a trip to Atlanta in seeing these practically useful, as well as intensely interesting experiments."

The North Carolina State Band at Yorktown. This band, organized for the York-town celebration by the famous direc-tor, W. H. Neave, of Salisbury, is a com-plete success. The band numbers 28 pieces, and is at once the largest and best ever in the State. The following is the programme of an outdoor con-cert, to be given at Yorktown, on one of the days of the celebration. This was assigned our band by Col. Corbin, U. S. Mr. Landecker saw an account in the New York Heard of a street parade was a gorgeous pageant, the pretty women and the fine horses especially taking the Kentucky eye. Enormous crowds attended both performances, but at night the turnout surpassed anything of the kind ever before seen here. Fully ten thousand spectators crowded the capacious tents, and at least half that number were first and at least half that number were first and avay, unable to get even standing room. In all its departments it is really a great show, and, as such, the Courter-Journal recommends it to the people of Kentucky and the South."
