STATE NEWS.

Raleigh News and Observer .: The Raleigh Light Infantry have been thoroughly equipped for Yorktown. They will wear the State service uniform, and will be one of the best appearing companies in the Guard. Sheriff D. A. Grantham, of Wayne, resterday brought to the Penitentiary six convicts, all colored, and all save one sentenced for larceny. Neuse River is far lower than was ever before known. It is not now worthy of being called even a creek. We learn that a number of Norfolk merchants will make exhibits at the Professor Kerr's exhibit of our North Carolina woods, for Atlanta, is beautiful. The specimens are now on exhibition in the museum and will be shipped in a day or two. The various specimens in the museum in the Briggs building will this week be removed to the new museum.

R. L. Gywn, of Mt. Airy had a valuable sorrel horse stolen from his stable on the night of the 29th ult.

From our neighbor, the Mt. Airy News we learn that recently, while Mr. William Belton was watching a coalpit near that place, a big moccasin snake crawled out at the bottom of the pit. Mr. Belton killed it. Out came another, and another, and another, un-til Mr. Belton had put to death no less than seven of the dangerous reptiles -black snakes and moccasins.

Asheville News: The recent rains have had a tendency to retard the ripening of the tobacco. It still remains too green for cutting and curing. The passenger cars are now running to Marshal, and the construction train goes below that place.

Milton Chronicle: Mr. Nick B. Oliver has sent us a specimen of mineral ore said to exist in great abundance near Yanceyville. It resembles anthracite coal, but is rather brighter and heavier. We have sent the specimen to Commissioner McGhee to be inspected by Pref. Kerr.

The Roxboro Herald says that while John Scoggins was walking the public road a few nights ago in company with Lewis Daniel and Sol, Clayton, he was bitten on the foot by a highland moccasin. His foot began to swell at once and became as large as his body. Whiskey was poured down John until he was completely under its influence and he is now about recovered, though he he is now about recovered, though he limps a little. It is said the snake fared worse than John did, as it died from the bite.

Frightened to Death.

Lumberton Robeson. We learn that Jas. Phillips, a youth of about 12 or 14 years, residing in Wis-hart's township in this county, came to his death last Saturday night under novel, but very unfortunate circumstances. He and his mother are the only occupants of their house, and as the boy was known to be very "scary," boys in the neighborhood concluded to have some fun, so they went to the house on the night above named and commencing proviling around try-ing to open the doors, i.e. The poor little fellow was so badly frightened that he at once went into violent spasms which were soon relieved by death. The boy was in perfect health, having picked cotton all of the day previous and eaten a hearty supper. The tragic end of what was only intended for a little fun, has spread a pall over the entire paighborhood. the entire neighborhood.

Conkling. UTICA, N. Y., October 3.—The writer of the letter said to contain threats of assassination against Senator Conkling has been discovered to be Henry J Rowley, of the Second Ward, Utica, a Republican speaker, who offered strong Garfield sympathy resolutions at the late ward caucus, which received two late ward caucus, which received two votes only, a more moderate resolution, offered by a stalwart, being adopted instead. Howley has no particular occupation. The letter was written to D. H. Johnson. Rowley admits that the lefter contained the expression of a large that somebody would put a bullet through Mr. Conkling if he attempted to enter the Republican State convention.

A BRIEF REPLY.

COLONEL ANDREWS HAS A FEW WORDS AT PARTING, WITH SEN-ATOR VANCE.

Var Transferred from the Western North Carolina Rathroad to the Richmond and Danville Syndicate -The Syndicate May Defend Itself-Investigation of the Charge of Discrimination invited and Correction Promised if it Exists.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAIL-BOAD COMPANY, PRESIDENT'S OF-FICE, RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 3d, 1881. To the Editor of The Observer:

Senator Vance has so compeletely changed his base in his last paper, that but little is required at my hands. The thing speaks for itself. Heretofore he has been assailing me; now he is defend-ing himself, and is appealing to the people to vindicate his course as commissioner. It is the Senator's own fault that, beginning as an assailant, he finds himself on the defensive. It was he, not , who began the fight. And now a few words in parting:

WHO SELECTED SENATOR VANCE AS COMMISSIONER?

As to the Senator's appointment as commissioner, the facts are these: Messrs. George Davis and Thomas Ruffin, acting for the State, named two of the commissioners—Messrs. Jarvis and Worth, and these called upon Mr. Best to name the third; whereupon, in behalf of himself and associates, he named Senator Vance. The three names were then put in the bill. The formal appointment came from the Legislature, but the actual selection was made by Mr. Best. These are the facts, if Hon. George Davis and Judge Ruffin are to be believed.

THE TENDER OF THE CONVICTS.

When the tender of convicts was made, Mr. Best still had an option to re-purchase the road, and of course as long as that option existed the assigness did not wish to assume larger liabilities than were necessary. After they became the absolute owners, the conditions were changed, and a de-mand was made for the number of convicts to which the road was entitled. But, as the Senator well knows, the assignees and their representatives were appealed to not to take the convicts from the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, upon which they were then at work, for the reason that the interests of both the State and the Democratic party would be injured by such removal. Yielding to this appeal, the demand was not persisted in.

THE "LITIGATION." A persistent attempt has been made to create an impression that Mr. Best Hog cholera is playing havoc with is in serious litigation in the courts swine in portions of Stokes county.

Ex-Sheriff Gentry, we learn, out of a drove of 80 head, lost 50 and others are sick.

From our neighbor, the Mt. Airy

None we learn that recently while Mr.

Is in serious litigation in the courts with the assignees to gain possession of the Western North Carolina Railroad. The only litigation of which I have any knowledge is an action brought by Mr. Best to obtain an injunction against the directors of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company and the assignees to prevent the election of a President by them. That injunction was refused by Judge Seymour, and as far as I have been informed, not even a complaint has been filed in the action.

THE MONOPOLY BUG-BEAR.

The Senator is incensed at the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, styling it a huge, grinding monopoly which has, he says, reduced the people to a grievous commercial servitude. I shall leave it to those who control that company to make such defense as they think proper, without remark, save to ask, if this really be the Senator's opinion of it, why he did not sound his note of alarm sooner? Why did he not insist upon the insertion of a provision in the set authorizing the selection. vision in the act authorizing the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad forbidding any assignment to the Rich-mond and Danville Railroad Company? And above all why did he aid and abet the assignment to Messrs. Buford, Clyde and Logan in New York?

FREIGHT DISCRIMINATION.

The charges of freight discrimination against the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company will be answered by the proper officers of that company at the proper time. But the public should distinct the proper time. distinctly understand that the act providing for the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad does not apply to any other than said W. N. C. Rail-

The charge of freight discriminations made against the Western North Caro-lina Railroad Company, I will, as the Senator suggests, meet before himself and his co-commissioners at their meet-ing soon to take place. If any such exist, (which I do not believe) they are contrary to the express orders of the assignees, as well as of the directors and myself, and will be promptly remedied when pointed out.

thereby a greater distribution of manure than we wish. Sheep dung is very concentrated and fine, and if the ani-mals can be made to feed on small spaces they not only strew manure thickly, but press it firmly into the earth with their feet. It is very rich in nitrogen, and Professor Johnson claims that this is due to the fact of the food being nitrogenized by the air taken into the lungs, and from thence into the system and discarded. This, however, is not generally accepted as correct, for if such is the case with sheep it is also equally applicable to all other animals. Its nitrogeous qualities are, however, very apparent, owing to its highly concentrated condition. Fallowing is practiced to a great extent in this country, especially in the South. It should be substituted by sheep pasturing. To manage it properly the sheep should be hurdled on particular locations—changing regularly at stated periods. It has been claimed that 100 sheep an arrest of the sheep and the sheep are the sheep and the sheep are the sheep are sheep as the sheep are the she sheep on one acre of ground for fifteen days will manure the land sufficently for four crops. The land is first sowed with turnips, the Swedes or rutabagas being preferred, as they keep well. Even in winter these turnips remain for the sheep. As sheep eat close to the ground, they leave but little of the turnips. The hurdles are made portable, and are easily removed or changed. A. B. ANDREWS.

In England the most important method of keeping up the vigor of the soil is by pasturing sheep. The sheep and the turnip are inseparable, and it is due to sheep pasturing that the farms in that country do not deteriorate in quality. Their plan of A SURE RECIPE rate in quality. Their plan of managing sheep for such purpose is very different from ours. We turn our sheep on pasture and allow them to roam at will, picking and selecting only such herbage as suits them best, occasioning thereby a greater distribution of managements.

Among the many plants suitable for this purpose are peas and beans. Cow peas are excellent. A sheep will eat the pea vine, peas, hulls, and roots, too, if he can get at them. Heavy tall grasses are not preferred, and so eager are the sheep for feeding close to the ground that they have been known to become poor in flesh on heavy clover pastures that were high.
