THE FREIGHT QUESTION.

There are few questions just now more interesting to the wholesale merchants of Charlotte than the question of freight discriminations, and under the old adage that "misery loves company" we rather console ourselves that our fellow citizens of New Orleans, La. are just now suffering from discriminations against them by the railroads.

The New Orleans Democrat of the 7th inst., after naming a number of places in Texas where these discriminating rates prevail, says:

Points which are much nearer to New Orleans than to St. Louis, which would prefer to do business here, and which are bound to us by ties of sympathy and acquaintance, are virtually forced to trade with St. Louis instead because the railroads, not only by their rates, but by their management, absolutely compel them to go there.

Further on the Democrat points out the true reasons why these discriminations exist, and then gives the remedy. Says this paper:

"At first glance, this state of affairs impresses the New Orleans mind as a merely hostile arrangement, animated by jealousy of New Orleans; but close inquiry reveals the fact that St. Louis enjoys these advantages because her business men have worked for them. They have labored to this end, not to hurt New Orleans, but to help St. Louis. Their interests are identified with that city, their prosperity depends upon its development, and they have invested their money and expended their energies with a view to building up the business of St. Louis. That New Orleans interests are prejudiced in consequence of an incident, it was not the animating motive of the enterprise. Naturally, St. Louis could help herself only by obtaining advantages over her competitors, and it is the fault of the misfortune of those competitors that she has succeeded so well. We venture to say that on inquiry into the real facts, in the case of any of the Texas points given in the table above, we will show that the favorable rates given to St. Louis are the result of trade relations which that city has established. The same rule applies in railroads as in shipping—they both give better rates to those points from which they can certainly count on return cargoes."

"The new plan for New Orleans to adopt is to stop complaining about jealousy and malice and the like, and to set about recovering her lost trade by legitimate commercial means. Let us build up a trade with Dallas or San Antonio or any other Texas city, and we will find that the cotton rates from those places to New Orleans will be governed accordingly. The inward trade will be shaped after the outward trade, and railroads will send their cars here on much better terms when they are assured of getting loads to carry back, and New Orleans will have no more grievances to ventilate."

THE RAILROAD FIGHT.

We direct attention this morning to a number of extracts from our State exchanges giving some running comment on the subject of the "Railroad War." It will be observed that we give both sides of the question, because, like most subjects of controversy, it has two sides.

The preponderance of argument is certainly with THE OBSERVER in as far as it champions the cause of the Richmond and Danville Railroad, in holding on to and building the Western North Carolina Railroad, in pursuance of the contract between the State and Mr. Best, and through him to his assignees, and then in holding the syndicate to the full letter of the law in the matter of discriminations.

Gov. Vance, in attacking the "monopoly," leaves Col. Andrews and the original merits of the controversy, and that gentleman we suppose, as President of the Western North Carolina Railroad, can now go forward and complete the contract.

It is understood on all hands that the Richmond and Danville syndicate are not to be interfered with just now at any rate, and if they prosecute the work projected with that "diligence and energy," which they are now said to be doing, we opine that this is the end of the unpleasant controversy.

The national board of steam navigation, now in session at Washington, made a formal call upon President Arthur Thursday. Delegates were appointed to the Mississippi river improvement convention, which meets at St. Louis on the 20th inst. Cairo was selected as the next place of meeting. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. W. Gould, St. Louis, Mo.; first vice-president, R. H. Woolfolk, Louisville, Ky.; second vice-president, J. B. Coyle, Portland, Me.; third vice-president, J. N. Bofinger, St. Louis, Mo.; secretary, B. S. Osborn, New York; treasurer, F. W. Nickerson, Boston, Mass.

The Richmond Whig must be hard up for capital when it tries to make a point against Daniel by charging him with forgery because he, in the election of 1870, at the request of some colored voters in Lynchburg erased the names of some Republican candidates from the Republican ticket and wrote his own and those of other Democratic candidates in their place. That kind of "forgery" is done more or less in every election, by men of all parties.

Richmond State: The Rev. Stuart Robinson, who died at his home in Louisville on Monday last, was one of the leaders of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and had more to do with its organization perhaps than any other man. He was born in Ireland in 1816, but was a graduate of Amherst College, and afterwards studied for the ministry at the Union Theological Seminary at Hamden Sydney.

New Haven Register: The families of President Arthur and Secretary Hunt are interlinked by sundry god-motherships and godfatherhoods and the like, but whether the connection is close enough to keep the secretary's hand on the tiller of the navy is a question.

Summary of the Condition of the Cotton Crop.

NEW ORLEANS, October 8.—The Democrat has received special dispatches concerning the condition of the cotton crop from all portions of the South, of which the following is a summary:

ALABAMA. No change from last week. Picking is progressing and cotton is coming in fast. In the central portion of the State there is no top crop, it having been eaten up by the worms. The crop accounts are less favorable in the northern portion. The crops are better than was anticipated a month ago.

ARKANSAS. Cotton picking is nearly completed in consequence of good weather. The yield is better than was anticipated two weeks ago. The staple is the best known for four years. Now that the picking is over the shortness of the crop has become apparent. The best crop is only thought to be in the top crop, it being fifty pounds of lint to the acre. The farmers are in better spirits than they were two weeks ago.

GEORGIA. The stand of cotton in the Atlanta section is good, the acreage 5 per cent greater than last year. The quality of the staple is excellent and half of the crop has been gathered.

LOUISIANA. No rain has fallen, and picking has gone on constantly. No damage has been done by the caterpillars and reports from all portions of the State are much more flattering than they were a week ago. Since the receipt of the cotton has taken a new growth and many bolls are growing and maturing. Red River and Saint Landry report that they will raise as large a crop as last year, but the worms are doing some damage.

MISSISSIPPI. Gathering and shipping of cotton is considerably ahead of last season. The crop is now estimated at half a crop. Shipments are far ahead of last year.

Senators in Caucus—Republicans and Democrats. WASHINGTON, October 8.—Republican and Democratic Senatorial caucuses met at the capitol about 11 o'clock this forenoon. There was quite a full attendance at both of them, not more than five Democrats, and the Republicans being absent. The three new Senators, Messrs. Lapham, Miller and Aldrich were present at the Republican caucus. After remaining in session an hour or more discussing the situation, the Republicans appointed a committee to confer with the Democrats on the general subject of organization. The caucus then took a recess for an hour. But little disposition is shown in the Republican caucus to meet with the Democrats on the subject of organization. A Democratic President pro tem. before new Senators are sworn in. The drift of discussion pointed to a respectful but firm protest against such action on the part of the President, and the Democrats determined upon as their candidate.

New Orleans Cotton Statement. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—The statement of the National Cotton Exchange for September, issued to-day, shows that the amount of the cotton crop of 1881-'82 that has appeared in sight at overland points is 457,769 bales, a decrease of 23,026 bales as compared with last year. The total rail shipments overland from producers reached 45,989 bales against 28,758 bales last year, of which 25,228 bales went to northern mills, against 12,273 bales last year. Northern spinners took from all sources 69,385 bales against 64,000 bales last year. The movement to delivery ports shows a gain in receipts at Gulf ports of 51,069 bales or 35 per cent. The receipts at receipts at Atlantic ports have fallen off 99,096 bales, or 29 per cent. At New Orleans the gain in receipts for September was nearly 40 per cent, constituting probably the largest September receipts since the war.

New York Stock Market. NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The stock market opened generally strong and higher, Reading showing an advance of 2 per cent from last night. In early dealings prices advanced 3/8 of 1 per cent, the latter for Manhattan rated, and rose to 27 but subsequently dropped to 25 1/2, and later recovered to 26 1/2. Reading receded 1/4 per cent to 65 1/2 and rallied to 66 1/2; Central Pacific sold up from 92 1/2 to 93 1/2; Central from 123 to 123 1/2; St. Paul from 109 1/2 to 110; N. Y. Central from 136 1/2 to 137 1/2; and Union Pacific from 118 1/2 to 119. Washell fell off from 43 1/2 to 41 1/2 and rallied to 47 1/2; Washell preferred declined from 87 1/2 to 87 and recovered to 87 1/2. Louisville and Nashville receded from 92 1/2 to 91 1/2 and returned to 92 1/2.

Vessel Ashore. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Signal Corps station at Fernandina, Florida, reports the bark Elbing, bound from Nassau for Baltimore, loaded with guano in bulk, stranded a mile east of Amelia light house Thursday night. She encountered a heavy gale on the 5th. Being in a leaky condition she was making a bad haul, and was anchored, but was unable to hold her position. The vessel and cargo are a total wreck. The crew were saved.

Howgate and Guitau. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—In the criminal court this morning Capt. H. W. Howgate was discharged from custody by his personal recognizance in the sum of $20,000.

The indictment against Charles J. Guitau for the murder of James A. Garfield, late President of the United States, was given to the grand jury this morning about 11 o'clock.

Navigation on the Red River Improving. SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 8.—Red River is rising steadily, insuring navigation for a fortnight longer. The Orleans Contractors have succeeded in closing the mouth of Jones Bayou, which will improve the navigation of Red River.

The indictment against Guitau Presented. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—At 12:45 the grand jury entered the criminal court room and presented the indictment against Guitau endorsed "a true bill" and signed by Caleb Churchman, foreman.

Phosphate Mills Burned. CHARLESTON, S. C., October 8.—Official estimates are placed at $200,000 the loss of the phosphate mines put on the buildings and machinery by Tuesday's fire at $300,000. Insurance $200,000.

Indictment against Guitau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—The Guitau indictment embraces eleven counts and is drawn with great minuteness. The fifth and sixth counts are the ones upon which it is said the prosecution will mainly rely. They describe the shooting as having been done at the Baltimore and Potomac depot in Washington, of malice aforethought, with a view to the value of several dollars, inflicting one mortal wound of the depth of six inches and the breadth of one inch, of which said mortal wound the said James A. Garfield, until the nineteenth day of September, as well as at and in the county of Washington and District of Columbia, as at and in the county of Monmouth, New Jersey, did languish, and languishing did live, and ultimately died. It is charged that Guitau in manner and by the means described feloniously, willfully and of his malice aforethought did kill and murder, against the form of the statute in such cases made and provided, with intent to deprive the peace and government of the United States.

Capturing Apaches. TUCSON, ARIZONA, Oct. 8.—A special dispatch to the Citizen from San Carlos dated yesterday, says: "This morning Col. Tiffany arrested Asay, Co. W. Adeski and other friendly Indians says is the murderer of Capt. Hentig. In his examination by the Indian agent he acknowledged being in the Cibicu fight and firing two of the first shots. He also said that he was of the party which killed Turner and Moody at Middleton's rancho, but says he did not go to the rancho. He says Askealte and Montavosh commanded the party, and that Jochab fired one of the fatal shots. Askealte is now a prisoner with Sanchez band. Jochab was badly wounded in the fight and is now a prisoner. Montavosh is one of the prisoners who escaped from the military here last Friday night. Asay says Deadshot, who was taken by Col. Tiffany a few days ago was one of the leaders in the Cibicu fight, that the Cibicu fight lasted about two hours and he confirms the fact of the exhumation and mutilation of dead bodies. He says that he was with Carr. Last night the agency scouts broke up Tiswin's gang five miles north of here and brought in the chief and two other Indians. More arrests will be made to-day."

Senate Caucus Committees Meet but Fail to Agree. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Democratic caucus appointed a committee consisting of Senators Pendleton, Garland, Voorhees, Hughes, and Davis of Virginia, to meet the Republican committee and confer with them in regard to the organization. Senators Edmunds, Logan, Allison, Sherman and MacMillan compose the Republican committee. The Democratic caucus after appointing the conference committee took a recess. The two committees met but failed to make any agreement. The Democrats stated that they had no authority to enter into any conference with regard to the election of a President of the Senate, that their caucus insisted upon the right of the Democrats to elect their official. The Republicans replied that their purpose was to confer with regard to the entire organization. The Democrats would not deign to consider the proposition of the Senate at issue at all, and upon that basis the Republicans refused to hold a conference, and the committees separated within 15 minutes after meeting, and reported back to their respective caucuses.

The Cincinnati Southern Road. CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—At 10 o'clock this forenoon books were opened for a stock subscription to the Cincinnati Southern railroad, to be operated under the trackage lease in connection with the Elgin system of the Southern Railway lines. The name of the new company is the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railroad company. The total amount, $3,000,000, was taken by half-past 11 o'clock. Frederick W. Wolff is describing a bare controlling sum—$1,510,000. The remaining $1,490,000 was taken by Cincinnati merchants and manufacturers, in sums of from $1,000 to $2,000.

Fighting Between the Tunisians and the French. LONDON, Oct. 8.—A dispatch from Tunis to-day says for some days past severe fighting has been proceeding between the French garrison and insurgents. Gen. Sabatier has made a two day's march toward Kairwan, but he finds a scarcity of water. The European residents are drawing up a petition in favor of Europeans of the city of Tunis.

Frontier Amusements and Rains. DENVER, COLO., Oct. 8.—A special to the Republican says that two robbers, named Clark, known as "Butch," and "Frenchy," both formerly members of the notorious "Gang of the South," were lynched last night at Socorro, N. M. A week ago they robbed Brown & Mansari's commission house at Laury. Wm. Nicholson was lynched at St. Wendin Station, N. M. Rain continues to fall copiously in New Mexico.
