Another busy Saturday yester-The drought still prevents wheat

The Central has its new force of dining-room waiters. A good deal of cotton sold yester-day in spite of the depressed market.

The State fair begins to-morrow. Charlotte will be well represented. The public school for the second ward will be opened to-morrow morn-

Last night the streets were melo-dious with the happy Saturday negro

Mecklenburg is almost as dry now as before the rain about three weeks ago. People are still borrowing water from their neighbors' wells. The weather indications for to-day are for fair weather and easterly winds, stationary or lower barometer and stationary temperature. If is said that the present schedule on the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio road will soon be changed so that the trains will run only in the day time. The cold weather was of short duration. Yesterday the sun was very hot, although there was that chilly, agueish feeling down the back, peculiar to the early Fall days. The Guonod Musical Club will meet for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business to-morrow night at 8:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce rooms. At the mayor's court yesterday, the "Bud from Providence" went up for $25 and costs for a drunk, embellished with profane "cussin'." Jim Mack for assault on a little negro was fined $2.50

A capias issued on a true bill found by the grand jury at the last term of the Superior Court against George Stewart on the charge of house burning was served last week and Stewart was bound over to court in the sum of $250, John W. Miller becoming his surety. The report of the First National Bank in yesterday's Observer, and that of the Merchants' and Farmers', in this morning's paper, show a most pros-perous condition of those banks. It is understood that the two other banks are in equally prosperous circumstances although their statements do not appear just at this time. The Montgomery Star again finds itself tickled at Charlotte doings, the occasion this time being the christening of the locomotive the "Harrison Watts," by the breaking of a bottle of champagne over its headlight. The Star never heard of a more ridiculous thing and wonders that some one does not throw himself in front of the locomotive in honor of the affair. If the motive in honor of the affair. If the Star don't quit making fun of us we will get "real 'shamed." A Rare Coin.

Col. C. J. Cowles, of the assay office, has in his possession an ancient Spanish coin rudely stamped with the cross and the Spanish coat-of-arms in the golden time of Certez and Montezuma, when the broad sterned galleons, laden with the rich spoils of the Aztecs covered the Spanish main and poured into the kingdom of Ferdinand and Isabella, the wealth which corrupted the rugged virtue that wrested it from the children of the sun. The coin is a rare sight even to an old collector.

ARoad Around the City. The township trustees met yesterday afternoon to take into consideration the the Salisbury roads. The proposed new road will be about six miles long and will average about two miles in distance Lornegan's Ferry, and the Lornegan's the management of yours truly. Mosers Char Alama are prescribing Dr. Bull's cough syrup in all cases of coughs, colds, etc. through town in order to get into another of them. Messrs, Chas, Alexander, Martin Wolfe, R. B. Caldwell, J. C. Dowd and S. B. Alexander, were appointed a committee to report to the next meeting of the trustees on the expediency of such a road.

Why not run it entirely around the city and fix up the road in first-class boulevard style for a drive?

Not True

Our Salisbury correspondent writes that there was no truth in the rumor which prevailed here Friday to the effect that a white man had killed a negro in that town on Thursday night. He says the probable source of it was a murderous assault, not fatal however. of one negro upon another. The silence of our correspondent Friday was due to his absence from Salisbury.

Let us have the Statue. Dr. J. F. G. Mittag writes from Lan-casterville: "I was more than pleased to read the illuminating addition proposed, by the highly gifted and accomplished writer to my, sometime ago, statue proposed, of the Goddess of Liberty to the memory of the Declaration of Independence made by the citizens of Mecklenburg through his clothes, or at least he county, N. C.

"Should the city of Charlotte cleanse and clothe herself after the style prescribed by the prophylactic judgment and rich genius of "Citoyenne," she will secure health to her citizens, present the appearance worthy of her ancestral achievement, and, at the same time, cultivate the æsthetical nature of of the vest was $45 which he didn't her rising generation."

Church Notices.

-There will be no services at the Lutheran church to-day. Sunday school at 4 o'clock p. m. -Rev. Dr. Theo. Whitfield, of the Baptist church, is preaching this week in Chapel Hill. -Dr. Mattoon, of Biddle University, will preach at the Baptist church this morning. Prayer and collection for the ediction, instead of the usual 5 o'clock

-The Rev. Dr. Robert Nall has been holding a series of meetings in the First Presbyterian church since Thursday night, and much interest has been aroused. He will preach in the same church to-day, and those whose business during the week has not given them an opportunity to hear the great revivalist would do well to attend.

It will not Wait for the Northern Connection.

The noonday train from the North was about one hour and a quarter behind time yesterday owing to detention at Danville waiting for the Virginia Midland. A train was made up here however for Atlanta and left on time. This is frequently done, but more especially of late. An OBSERVER reporter yesterday inquired of train dispatcher Pegram why the Northern connection was thus disregarded. "The local travel," he replied, "is entitled to some consideration at our hands, and more especially now, as it is not right to keep the crowds who asof the line to go to the Atlanta exposition waiting all day, and during its continuance the train will, I think, leave here on time always, even if the Richmond train does not get in. The through travel does not have to wait very long anyway."

Religious Awakening in Steel Creek. A correspondent in Steel Creek writes a glowing account of a most interesting protracted meeting at Steel Creek Presbyterian church, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Robert Nall and the pastor, Rev. J. T. Plunkett. Dr. Nall presched his first saymon Sunday and preached his first sermon Sunday, on the occasion of communion services. His style was extremely plain and clear, says our correspondent, and made a great impression upon the very large congregation. Quite a number were received into the church on the occasion. Among them were beardless boys and gray-haired men and women. Several adults who had not been bap-tized in infancy, came forward and were baptized by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Plunkett, and received into the com-munion of the church. On Monday, again, Dr. Nall preached a powerful sermon, and it was announced that he would take pleasure in conversing on religious subjects with any who would pass out to the session house during the singing of the hymn, "There is a Fountain filled with blood." Among those who took advantage of the invitation and showed an interest in their salvation were old and young, male and female, and the oldest members of the church declared that never before was there such an arousing in Steel Creek church. A great impetus has been giv-

Encouraging Views of an Old Miner

en to the cause of Christ by this meet-

An OBSERVER reporter yesterday had an interesting conversation on our mines with Mr. Stephen Johnston who has, probably, a larger acquaintance with them than any miner amongst us. The scribe inquired what was the prospect for further development?

Well, sir; I may confidently say the prospects were never more encouraging. There is a disposition on the part of northern capitalists to invest in North Carolina mines, especially, for the reason that it is in the heart of the precious metal deposit on the Apalachian chain, and this particular locality is in the centre of the group of mines in the Granite belt; and the business too will soon be more extensively conducted under a better system at places in every direction from this commercial central point. The natural advantages offered are such as to induce capital here in preference to other points. Ores can be shipped cheaper from here and ma-chinery and general supplies can be brought here at a much less cost. Therefore assuming that the ores here are equal in value with those of other sections the profits are necessarily

I believe that, sir. Now another question. In regard to the mines being operated at this time, on what does their success depend?

Entirely with the management. Every mine should have one thoroughly competent man, possessed with the varied qualifications requisite, who will conduct the business under a system of economy adopted by business people in other enterprises. Then success is certain, if you are on a true vein well developed, depending on quantity rather than quality of ore. Of the mines in this section working under a proper system I am pleased to notice the operations at the old Rea Mine, or the Baltimore and North Carolina. Extensive underground explorations have been made in the past few months, showing up a large body of ore over head, which when taken down for reduction will, when treated, make a showing to prove building of a road from the Camden to what I claim for the mines of this country. Any failure should not be charged up to the mine but to the management; and in this connection I claim from the city throughout its length. It the right to say that in the period of will connect the Salisbury with the twelve years down here, and seventeen Statesville, the Statesville with the years in mining altogether, it has been Beattie's Ford, the Beattie's Ford with my good fortune that in no single inthe Tuckesege, the Tuckesege with the stance have operations ceased under

TO ACCOMMODATE THE PUBLIC. The preprietors of that immensely popular remedy, Kidney-Wort, in recognition of the claims of the public which has so liberally patronized them, have prepared a liquid preparation or that remedy for the special accommodation of those who from any reason dislike to prepare it for themselves. It is very concentrated and, as the dose is small, it is more easily taken by many. It has the same effectual action in all diseases of the kidneys, live er or bowels,—Home and Farm.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. William Tood, of Sugar Creek, well known in Charlotte formerly as the most industrious grocery clerk ever known in this or any other city, had his leg, day before yesterday, very severely mashed between the butt of a falling tree and the stump. Dr. Gibbon took out about two inches of the bone, and expresses the hope that amputation may not prove necessary, and that the leg may be saved.

A Burglar Takes $3 and Leaves $45: Another burglary was committed Friday night at the residence of Mr. M. Lichtenstein, on Church street. The robber entered through a window opening into a hall where a light was burning. From the hall he entered Mr. Lichtenstein's bed-room and went thought he went through them. But he made a mistake. Out of the outside yest pockets he got three dollars and three of four cigars, kindly leaving the owner one to smoke after breakfast. But it is hoped the thief will cut his throat in chagrin when he sees this and learns that in the inside breast pocket

A Famous Mad Stone. Mr. T. M. Chambers, a constable of Morning Star township and formerly of Person county and his father, Mr. Jesse Chambers, of Person, were in town yesterday and in conversation with a reporter of THE OBSERVER testified to the virtues of a famous mad stone owned jointly by two old families of Person, the Williamses, and the Poinnew church immediately after the ben- ters. It came into possession of these families about 50 years ago, and was a present from an Irishman who died in Person county. Mr. T. M. Chambers de-clares most positively that he has seen this stone used in, he thinks, at least fifty cases of snake and mad-dog bites, and that it has invariably been entirely successful in preventing any serious consequences. He says the stone, which is now broken into two pieces, but was formerly about as large as the second joint of a thumb, and shaped like a snake's head, would stick upon being applied to a wound of the kind described. Then when removed and placed in a glass of sweet milk it would sink and after a time rise to the surface. This he said was from the absorption of the poison which the stone had drawn from the wound.

Mr. Jesse Chambers also asserted that he had known many successful cases of the application of this stone. Both of these gentlemen are of un-questioned truthfulness, but the testimony as to the cures of snake and mad-dog poisoning by this talisman is not dependent alone upon their state-

Mr. Robert Williams, a member of semble at the stations on the lower end | the Williams family, which owns half the stone, a lawyer and a gentleman of education asserts positively, it is learned from a gentleman of this city, that he was bitten by a copper-head snake on one occasion, and after the application of the stone not the slightest ill effects remained.

Of course very few people will ever put any faith in anything of this sort, but as this stone has not only a local, but a wide-spread reputation, these statements are given as matters of Seventy Years for Robbing a Train. The robbery occurred on the 22d of September and the men were captured on the 28th. A special term of court was held to try them.
