HOME PENCILINGS.

There were no cases before the mayor yesterday morning.

The cold snap, it is hoped, will spur the oyster dealers up to their full

There is much solicitude on the effect of the cold snap on the poor soldiers at Yorktown. Stoves were fired up and fire places cleaned out yesterday. To pull up one's coat tails and stand before either yesterday was a delightful amusement. No boy with any self-respect will fail to crawl through at least one section of the main piping for the water works which now lies temptingly on the streets with both ends open. Much complaint is made of the foul odors in many parts of the business portion of the town. Indeed they are very bad, almost as bad as the pavements. Reports from the colored man injured by the blow from a base ball bat in the difficulty with members of the Mecklenburg base ball club are that he is getting along all right and there is every prospect for his recovery. The Hornets' Nest Riflemen will ber-maid at Mr. Hutchison's gave him return to find the main entrance to the money. their armory through the billard room of Kendrick & Bixby closed. They will have to content themselves with the entrance through the candy store. Blum's Salem Almanac for 1882, is out, and the boys are busy selling it on the streets. They tackle every man they see with cotton on his coat on the presumption that no farmer can do without the famous calendar.

Dog killing has moderated conpaid for. About 50 have been killed. which is a very small proportion of those in the city; but still, a larger number than has ever been killed before. The owners keep the dogs close, and the brutes themselves seem to scent something unhealthy in the air of | tion.

Through a Bridge.

team of three mules and a wagon was displays. crossing the bridge on the Providence road across Myer's branch, about one and a half miles from the city, the bridge gave way and the team fell through about 8 feet. The driver fell under one of the mules, but strange to say was not seriously hurt but got up and extricated the team.

Death of a Centenarian.

Miss Polly Stancil, aged 101, died in Morning Star township a day or two ago. She was a native of Scotland, but had lived in Morning Star for many years-since 1830 at least, for upon the records of the old Lutheran church in that township is found the memorandum of her admission to its communion in that year. She was buried in Morning Star church yard. Her mind was clear up to the day of her death and she had been physically vigorous and active up to last fall. She lived with her sister-in-law and left no near blood relatives in the county.

Terrible Death of a Former Mecklen-

Mr. James M. Johnson, of this city, has received a slip from a northeastern Texas paper giving a detailed account of the horrible death of his brother. Mr. Jesse F. Johnson, aged about 26, who left this city, where his family still lives, about eight years ago. He was burned so terribly in a cotton gin building that death resulted in a few days The cotton in the house caught fire one night from a lantern which a companion held near the door while Mr. Johnson was working inside. The bottom fell out of the lantern and the cotton was immediately in flames. Mr. Johnson ran through the fire but struck his head against the door post and was knocked back into the very midst of the burning staple. He rose and again rushed for the door, this time getting out. But it was too late. He was burned so that his recovery was impos-

Chloroforming by Burglars.

In some of the very numerous instances of burglary which have occurred in the city and county recently the victims have expressed the belief that they were chloroformed. One of our prominent physicians told the reporter of THE QBSERVER yesterday that he thought these impressions must be imaginary, as he considered it next to impossible that one could be chloroformed while asleep without being waked by the process. When the air is excluded from the nostrils in chloroforming a smart burning sensation is experienced which could hardly fail to wake any MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH ordinarily sound sleeper. The doctor said that it would take hours to affect the sleeper by the diffusion of the drug throughout the room by evaporation. Indeed he doubted if such a thing was possble at all.

Arrest of a Thief.

Officers Farrington and Erwin made a thief catching excursion Tuesday to Matthews station and returned yesterday with an itinerant scoundrel with half a dozen aliases and a sure enough name of Dallas Simmons. Dallas confesses to the fact of having robbed a little negro boy of $20 which the little negro had himself stolen about eight days ago from Alderman Hutchison. Dallas will have a hearing this morning. The boy says that the cham-

The Atlanta Exposition.

A very large number of Charlotte people will attend the Atlanta Exposition. Declarations of intentions to do siderably, but will not cease entirely so are heard daily by the reporter, till all the collarless curs are dead or and heard with pleasure, not only because the OBSERVER desires to see the exposition a success but because North Carolina has taken an unusually prominent part in it, as far as the magnitude and attractiveness of the display goes, if she does not send visitors in propor-

It will be remembered that an OB-SERVER reporter attended the opening exercises and advised the citizens of Charlotte to postpone their visit for a week or so until the exhibits were fairly up and the exposition in working order. It is learned with pleasure that those conditions are now fulfilled, and that the great inducements of the grand promises referred to at the time of the opening exercises have not proved a

As regards the exaggerated reports which prevail with regard to board, the Constitution says: "Good board can be had in Atlanta to-day at $2 per day. The usual rate is three and there is no place where more than $4 is charged. These are the rates for transient board; much cheaper figures can be shad when arrangements are made by the week."

Gossip About the Lease.

The two theories as to how the new management of the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio road will run its trainswhether the Western North Carolina trains will come to Charlotte, or the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta trains go to Statesville, continue to divide public opinion in the absence of any official announcement on the subject from the talist who is supposed to know pretty well what the railroads are about, that the lease would have been made in the name of the Western North Carolina road but for the absence of any provision in its charter admitting it. This would indicate that Charlotte is to become the distributing point according to the original design in the lease. And so the gentleman referred to thought Britain 1,995; France 4,811; continent 50,000 would undoubtedly be the case. Such is also the unofficial opiniou of present employes of the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio, and such would seem to be the course dictated by the interest of the railroads. But there are still some reports in confirmation of the Statesville

The reporter heard indirectly yesterday of the declaration of a prominent official of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta, that trains on that road would be run through to Statesville, All this is, however, little more than street gossip. The guage will without doubt be changed within a short while, and the few miles of old strap iron now on the read will be replaced with modern rails. It is thought that the present employes of the road will be all retained. The stockholders of the road are all extremely well pleased, it is said, with he lease; and with reason, for a 6 per cent. return on the capital stock which the $25,000 rental represents, is unusual for railroad interests in this country.
