

California is waking up again to the Anti-Chinese question; but still the Chinese come.

The Industrial Exposition in Richmond is drawing well and is pronounced a complete success.

It is said that the number of northern people who will spend the coming winter in the South will be unusually large.

It immeasurably enhances our admiration for corn when we read of these Western speculators who corner on corn getting "busted."

The Marlboro, S. C. News and Herald says: "some of the papers are bringing out candidates already" and calls it "plugging the melons too soon."

About $200,000 of forged paper on Western banks has turned up in the New York banks, and they can't tell who it was that pulled the wool over them so.

Steamers are to be placed on the grand canal of Venice, and the gondola is to become a thing of the past. And what will Venice be without her gondola?

The Democrats talk confidently of carrying Virginia, but our private opinion is that they won't have any votes to spare, and may be very well content with a small margin.

The Richmond State pronounces the Yorktown celebration a "disgusting failure." Well, there is some consolation about all such things; they don't happen often.

The Great Eastern, which originally cost $3,500,000, but proved useless as a sea-going vessel was sold a few days ago for $150,000. It has been suggested that she would make a splendid floating hotel.

A Mexican paper says the total of the subventions promised by the Mexican government for the construction of railroads, many of which, it is said, however, will never be built, is $87,000,000.

It is reported that Gen. N. P. Banks will succeed Gov. Fremont as Governor of Arizona. Perhaps by a judiciously selected commissary department he may keep the Apaches amused, and put a temporary quietus on their scalping avocations.

The Yorktown celebration owes much of its success to the Norfolk journalists. The editor of the Virginian gave it its original boost, and the editor of the Landmark contributed an appropriate poem, full of fire and patriotic spirit.

Poker used to be the boss game on the steamboats on the Mississippi river. Now it seems to flourish on the ocean steamers between this country and Europe where professional gamblers travel to fleece passengers. An effort is being made by ship owners to suppress it.

The editors of the Seneca, S. C. Journal do not like long sermons. They suggest that the legislature appropriate a sufficient sum of money to establish an institution where preachers may be taught the art of preaching short sermons.

At the laying of the corner stone of the Yorktown monument President Arthur remarked: "If the corner stone of my administration is as well laid, all will be well." He is the man that bosses the job as far as his administration goes.

In August last Friday night a young man named George Carrol, who was infatuated with a cyprine, stood on the piazza of the bagnio in which she resided and shot himself through the neck, because she refused him admittance. The shooting cured his infatuation and killed him.

Baltimore Sun: A dispatch from Richmond, Va., says that the "boom" in Confederate bonds is daily increasing in proportion. A leading banking-house bought over $1,000,000 of them in the last two days, and are still buying. Other dealers report a lively business in the same bonds.

Philadelphia Record: A letter from the editor of a leading religious journal in North Carolina states that in consequence of the bogus diploma business nearly all of the holders of such credentials down there have fled the State. One of these humbugs was the incumbent of a State office. The editor suggests an exposure of ministers who have purchased the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

The first number of the American Register, a weekly Democratic paper published in Washington, made its appearance Saturday. It is started under the auspices of Judge T. W. Bartley, Judge J. S. Black, Senator Lamar, Hon. A. H. Stephens, and other gentlemen of experience and ability. Connected with the editorial staff are Wm. Adolphte, of Pennsylvania, and Col. W. H. McCordie, of Mississippi.

Terrence Connolly, of Newton, N. C., is the champion fester of the United States. Friday, for the first time in one hundred and seven days, he took solid food, all he took in the meantime, being a little brandy in the water he drank, at the end of fifty-two days, and at the end of the sixty-third day a little beef tea, both of which he gave up after a short trial. From the sixty-third day till the one hundred and seventh he touched nothing but water.

ADMINISTERING JUSTICE.

The rather frequent instances occurring of late, North and South, where people take the law into their own hands and punish criminals, has given rise to homilies by some who view from a distance and deplore and condemn this disposition on the part of the people to ignore the forms of law and expedite justice. Without desiring to encourage a disregard for the laws as they exist, or to favor summary proceedings by the mob, we cannot close our eyes to the fact that there would be less of this thing if there were fewer of the "laws delays" and more determination evinced by those whose duty it is to see the laws properly administered. But the laxity shown by the courts, as a rule, throughout the land; the various facilities offered criminals to escape through the loopholes of defective laws, and the rare conviction and punishment of the guilty, has shaken the confidence of the people in the courts and has had a tendency rather to bring them into contempt.

The mob at Bloomington, Ill., recently, composed, we are told, of some of the best people of that town and vicinity, exclaimed to the officers who excommunicated with them in the effort to save the life of the man they were about to hang, "your courts are a farce," and they probably came near speaking the truth. They evidently meant it whether it was strictly true or not. In the jail at St. Louis, awaiting trial, are a score or more of indicted murderers, and others awaiting indictment; while other cities have their full proportion, and not a day passes that does not bring its record of murders and crimes foul and shocking. And of all these, how many are brought to justice? Not one in ten.

In Missouri a gang of highwaymen stop trains in broad daylight, and with pistol in hand, rob the cowering passengers, plunder the express cars and then permit the engineer to go on his way. For years they have been robbing and terrorizing indiscriminately, and the officers of the law never seem to come within rifle shot of them.

In Wisconsin two desperate brothers shoot down their victims and bid defiance to officers and posse, backed by military, who are sent to arrest them, but they are not arrested.

If these things were done on the wild frontier, where civilization is new, it might not call for so much surprise, but when they occur in States, where all the machinery of law is in operation, densely peopled States, too, it shows how defective the machinery of justice is.

We might mention others, but we select these instances because they are notorious and striking.

Turn to Washington, and we find men charged with swindling the government out of hundreds of thousands of dollars, their guilt so fully established as to admit of no reasonable doubt, and yet they walk into the courts with the airs of dictators and make demands with as much coolness as if they owned the courts and ran them for their amusement. Howgate, for instance, is charged with embezzling $80,000, is bailed at $40,000, and walks out as free as if he never stole a cent, but the pickpocket who puts his fingers into a passer's pocket and steals a pocket-handkerchief or a handful of nickles, stands a splendid chance of going to jail for an indefinite period. The less noted the greater the probability of punishment, and the greater the time proportionately, if the big thief be convicted at all. The trouble is not in the people but in the courts; if they did justice the people would hardly ever think of taking it into their own hands.

During the late Yorktown centennial celebration the United States troops were under the command of the peerless Gen. Winfield S. Hancock, and of course it was necessary that the command of all the State troops should be held by the same person to insure harmony and avoid confusion. Gen. Hancock, while assuming the entire command, was careful to assure the State officers that he did so by the courtesy of the respective State officials, and that his orders should be regarded as mere suggestions. Hancock is a stickler for State's Rights, and we agree with him, in the language of Barron Hope, that the "Safety of the Union is the safety of the States."

If one half be true that those who return from Yorktown tell about the rough-and-tumble time they had, we agree with them that the shabbiest thing Cornwallis ever did was to surrender at such an out-of-the-way place. He should have gone to Richmond, Baltimore, St. Louis, Atlanta, Denver City or some other modern burg with modern improvements attached.

A little boy in Philadelphia a few days ago was the last recorded victim of the spitz dog.

Great Damage by the Flood—Thousands of Acres Overflowed.

QUINCY, ILL., Oct. 22.—About 35,000 acres of land has been overflowed by the break in Warsaw and Indian Grove levees. There is imminent danger of a crevasse at East Hannibal which would cut out several railroad bridges. The only means of communication now remaining between Quincy and the outside world is the Louisville branch of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road. This link is also in danger of being broken just below the city, the track being covered with from 12 to 14 inches of water for two miles. Yesterday a passenger train of fourteen cars with two engines was sent from Hannibal to Quincy over this track. The train was made up of Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Hannibal and St. Joseph and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy cars. The treacherous track was most thrillingly over the engine which was pat out, but the engine in fear of the long train pushed it safely through. Trains no Quincy, Missouri and Pacific to the westward have all been discontinued. All roads on the Missouri river will suffer by the water being so high that the road beds will be washed out and the bridges carried away. The Missouri and Pacific railroad between Humphreys and Trenton. The damage to railroads, together with the loss of lives and destruction of property, will make this flood the most disastrous that ever occurred in this section of the country.

IN THE SENATE.

Communication from the Secretary of the Treasury. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The President pro tem. laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury in response to the resolution adopted by the Senate on the 24th of March, calling for a complete list of all books, papers, pamphlets, etc., published by the various departments from March, 1789 to March, 1881. The communication which states that the records of the treasury department fall to give the information called for was laid upon the table, and the Senate, at 12:10 went into executive session.

Tribute of Respect. At a regular meeting of Paw Creek Lodge, No. 121, Independent Order Good Templars, held in their hall Oct. 23, 1881, the following resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst our highly esteemed friend and brother J. E. HOWGATE, and while we bow to His divine will in meek submission, be it

Resolved, 1st, That in his death the community has sustained a great loss, society has lost a noble member and Good Templarism one of its most devoted and worthy followers.

2nd, That we extend to his parents our deepest sympathy in this hour of their distress.

3rd, That a page on our lodge book be inscribed to his memory, as a reminder to our brother is no longer with us; and, as a token of our regard, this lodge will wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days.

4th, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge and a copy be sent to the parents of our deceased brother, and also a copy be sent to THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER and Home and Democrat with a request that they publish the same.

Howgate Committed to Jail—A Cabinet Meeting. WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Capt. Howgate appeared in court to-day and pleaded guilty to the indictment. His counsel stated that the plea was merely formal, and the right was reserved to afterwards interpose such motion of demurrer or pleas, as might be desired. The district attorney in asking that he be held at $40,000 said that the grand jury has indicted Howgate for forgery in addition to embezzlement. The bail was reduced to $30,000, and falling to furnish, Howgate was committed to jail at 10 o'clock.

A cabinet session was held at Senator Jones's house to-day.

A "stringing" "rattling" voice and a constant disposition to expirator, indicate incipient trouble of dangerous tendency. Use Dr. Williams' cough syrup in good time, and be saved much trouble and annoyance. For sale by all druggists.

A Down Town Merchant. Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the pines and a sufferer child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homoeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents returned home with the child following. The father found the baby still worse; and, after consulting another physician, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. The child passed in suffering, and the mother returned home and although at first she was at the deception practiced upon her, she continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and to give the mother a good night's sleep. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Thousands of women have been entirely cured of the most stubborn cases of female weakness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlet.

FLIES & MOSQUITOES. A 15c box of "Rough on Bats" will keep a house free from flies, mosquitoes, rats and mice, the entire season. Druggists.

PAID OR GRAY HAIR gradually recovers its youthful color and luster by the use of Parker's Hair Balm, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

An agreeable dressing for the hair, that will stop its falling, has been long sought for. Parker's Hair Balm, distinguished for its purity, fully supplies this want.
