Pain in the Back and Side. There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis'

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good. Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced. The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her. Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:

I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your Pain Killer.

E. York says:

I have used your Pain Killer for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:

Have used Pain Killer for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:

AN OBSTINATE BRIDE.

She Refuses to Allow Her Husband to Enter the Room. Little Rock Daily Arkansas.

The other night a young man from northern Arkansas and a young lady from the southern part of the State, met at a hotel in this city and were married. After the ceremony the young man went out and sat in front of the hotel, while the wife went up to the room assigned as the bridal chamber. "This thing of gettin' married is a life-time business," he said, addressing a man who had just been divorced from his wife. "I reckon you have found it so," he added, turning to a single man.
"Wal, I reckon I'll go up. Dinged if I don't sorter hate to go up thar, too.
But I never was aftered of a man, an'

I don't see why I should be afeered of a woman.' He went up and rapped at the door. "Who's there?" demanded the girl. "It's me."

"Who's me?" "Don't you recognize my talk, honey?"
'No, I don't." "It's your own wide awake and livin' husband. Let me in."

"Go away from that door; you shan't come in here. I ain't got acquinted with you yet."

"Say, let me in. Them fellers down stairs air laughin' at me. Open the door, fur I'm sleepy," and he yawned like a man waiting for a night train.

"Thought you said that you were wide awake."

"I was a while age but I'm powerful." "I was a while ago, but I'm powerful sleepy now. Say, ain't yeu going to open this door?"

"Why did you marry me?"
"Cause I wanted to."

"Wal, why don't you let me in?" "Cause I don't want to."
"All right, old gal; I'll shell out for home an' leave you to pay the hotel bill.

I never seed the woman that could pull the wool over my eyes."
The latch clicked, and the door opened. The hotel bill had frightened her. "It won't do for a woman to buck again' me, lemme tell you, fur I was raised at the cross roads, an' went to
