ABSURDLY STUPID AND FOOLISH.

To allow prejudice or ignorance to get the better of good judgment, it has been amply shown and conclusively proven that constipation, bad breath, dyspepsia, kidney ailments and all diseases of the liver, stomach and bowels have been cured.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of forty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children.

MANY MISERABLE PEOPLE.

LACONIC LOCALS.

Circus day-to-morrow. Cotton receipts increasing daily.

The sheriff reports the tax payers rather slow in settling, so far.

Several Charlotte people took the noon train yesterday for the Atlanta exposition.

Isaac Ruffin, colored, was yesterday put in the station house charged with stealing a knife.

There are now 26 prisoners in jail, of whom three are white. Among them are three colored women.

Dr. R. Gibbon left yesterday for King's Mountain to see Dr. Murphy, of that place, who is quite ill.

The bullion assays in the United States Assay office, in this city, for the month of October were $5,284.60.

A special train was made up here yesterday and left on time on the Air-Line, the noon passenger from the North being behind time as usual.

A Northern lady resident at Yorktown says whiskey was the best bond of fraternity between the Northern and Southern troops there.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "In detail, in finesse, in relation to parts, we regard his Richelieu as the most commendable of the three characters Mr. Keene has thus far acted."

Some of the main for the water works is being laid on southeast Trade street, and the foundation is being dug in the court house yard for the stand pipe. Work is also being done at the site of the reservoirs.

The filling up of the upper lake at Elmwood cemetery, and laying the space out in walks and flower beds, is a great improvement on the stagnant pool which rejoiced in the name of lake. It has also done much to purify the water in the lower lake.

Let's Eat!

Eels from the Catwba river are now brought to the city daily in wagon loads. They range from a few inches to two and a half feet long. A bunch of five, assorted sizes, sells for 25 cents and the sale is by no means confined to the colored race.

Confederate Bonds.

About $700,000 in Confederate bonds have been shipped from this city filling orders from the Northern cities. A telegram from Augusta, Ga, last night, stated that the interest in the sale of bonds there was still kept up, and that they brought from $10 to $11 per thousand, which is considerably higher than they have sold here.

For Murder.

The Petersburg Index Appeal desires to know how many murderers are now in jail in this city awaiting trial. There are four charged with murder. John Bogus, alias John Erwin, from Rock Hill, a negro boy about 18 years old, and Nathan Williams, an eight year old negro boy of this city, both charged with the murder of a little negro boy eight years old named Pemberton; Bob Jones, colored, charged with the murder, nearly two years ago, of a white man named Phillips in Union county, and the half-witted white boy Dockery from Alexander county, confessing to complicity in the Thompson homicide in that county, brought here to avoid lynching, is the list. Only one of the crimes and one of the criminals are of Mecklenburg county.

A Rumored Confession.

It will be remembered that about two years ago a negro man named Whitlar was run over near Davidson College by the locomotive and passenger train on the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the man had come to his death in that manner. But it was learned yesterday that rumors prevailed around Davidson College that a few days ago a negro man confessed on his death bed that he had shot twice and killed Whitlar while in a dispute which arose between them while at work in a cotton field, and that he, the dying man, had placed the body on the track to avoid detection. Another story had it that the wife of Whitlar had made the confession on her death bed that she had killed him.

Railroad Items.

The meeting of the Western North Carolina Railroad Commissioners to investigate the charges of freight discrimination has been fixed for next Monday.

The Raleigh News-Observer says Mr. W. H. Hicks has been appointed soliciting agent for the Midland North Carolina Railroad.

Col. W. R. Myers, President of the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Road said, yesterday, that he had received no instructions as to the proposed change of gauge, but that he was expecting Col. A. C. Haskell, President of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta, in the city to-day, and he thought the time of the change would be announced on the arrival of Col. Haskell.

We notice in a Bristol (Va.) paper that at a meeting of the Bristol and North Carolina Narrow Gauge Railway Company, held October 26th, Gen. J. D. Imboden was elected President of that company. This road is to form part of the great line from the Ohio river to the Atlantic coast to be constructed by the South Atlantic Railway and Construction Company, which secured a charter last winter from the Legislature of this State.

A widely known Reading, Pa., gentleman, Mr. W. F. Fottler, was afflicted with rheumatism for three years and had used numerous medicines without avail. A bottle of St. Jacobs Oil cured him.

Not 300 Bales Second Crop.

Mr. W. S. Phifer, whose well conducted farm lies just on the outskirts of the city, says that he has made an estimate on his place of the much talked of second crop. On 175 acres of land he does not expect to get more than 175 pounds of lint from the frosted second crop bolls. He thinks that not 300 bales of this class of cotton will be sold in Charlotte during the season.

Arrest and Escape of a Barn Burner.

Mr. J. W. Marshall, who lives about five miles from town, yesterday morning stepped up to Mr. Jno. Wadsworth, at his livery stable, and inquired if a negro man, whom he pointed out in the stable, was hired there. The reply was in the negative, and Mr. Marshall, stepping towards the negro, remarked, "That is the scoundrel who burnt my barn in 1877." With this he collared him, and with Mr. Wadsworth's assistance started up town with the criminal to turn him over to the authorities. The negro went without resistance and the gentlemen relaxed somewhat the tightness of their grips. Taking advantage of this at the corner of Fifth street, the negro, with a sudden jerk, freed himself and darted down Fifth street like a flash. Pursuit was made in vain for the negro, whose swiftness was worthy of a run for life. The police were informed of these circumstances and are on his track, but his arrest had not been reported up to a late hour last night. The negro's name is John Miller, alias Brown, alias Haynes. He is said also to be implicated in the murder of Jeff Dunn, in Providence township, some years ago.

Why Nine Men Stay Away From Church.

At a Methodist minister's meeting in Cincinnati a few days ago the question, "Why do the people stay away from churches?" was under debate, short addresses being made by Revs. J. S. Whitney, J. M. Walden, D. G. W. Kelly, J. Y. Dobbins, Bro. Cardaza, J. W. Bushong, C. W. Barnes, S. D. Clayton, and R. H. Rust, D. D. Much was said of the depravity of mankind, and of the evil influences at work in society as agents in keeping the churches from being filled, but it was generally conceded that the preaching, with the old time earnestness, of the old fashioned Gospel which wrought such wonders in the days of John Wesley, would soon crowd every sanctuary in the country.

The old fashioned Gospel is undoubtedly a drawing card, but the abbreviated Gospel—say twenty minutes, with, as Sydney Smith says, "a leaning to the side of mercy"—would be an even more powerful inducement. The reporter of THE OBSERVER, yesterday, out of curiosity asked one dozen irregular church attendants what would induce them to change, and three fourths of them replied "shorter sermons," or words to that effect.

Mortality Report.

The following is the mortality reports for Elmwood and Pinewood (colored) cemeteries in this city during the month of October. The disease from which death occurred is also furnished by Dr. Scarr, the efficient cemetery keeper:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Count. Male adults: 2, Female adults: 2, Children: 3, Total: 7.

Causes of death were as follows: Typhoid Fever: 2, Dysentery: 3, Brain Fever: 1, Cancer: 1, Consumption: 1.

Table with 2 columns: Category and Count. Female adults: 3, Children: 8, Total: 11.

Causes of death: Heart Disease: 1, Typhoid Fever: 5, Diarrhoea: 2, Exhaustion: 1, Consumption: 1.

RADICAL versus RADICAL.

Mott's Second Address.

To the Editor of The Observer. In THE OBSERVER of the 30th ult. I notice that J. J. Mott & Co. have issued a second address to the people of North Carolina. The opening sentence of this heterogeneous production is an implied slur upon the character of the good people of this State.

To be congratulated upon the overwhelming defeat of a cause very dear to the heart of every right thinking man is, to say the least of it, an offensive waste of words. To intimate that the Republican party, as a party, congratulates itself upon, and rejoices over, the defeat of prohibition is a gratuitous assumption, which the facts in the case do not verify.

The crafty effort of the authors of the address to set the Republicans of North Carolina before the world as a sugar-coated pill that few will be simple enough to swallow.

If the Republicans of North Carolina, led by J. J. Mott & Co., are to become the champions of free rum, then the better element of that party will abandon the organization in disgust and seek political affiliation in other and better society. The old Republican ship shall never be made to float in whiskey to gratify and enrich revenue officers, demagogues and rum-sellers.

These same gentlemen, referring to their former address, assert: "That great good resulted therefrom." If the multiplication of drunkards, paupers and beggars, and the increase of wretchedness and misery are a "great good," then the object of the address was duly accomplished; for it is patent to every one, not willfully blind, that drunkenness, with all its attendant evils, has increased, alarmingly, since the August election, when prohibition was defeated by the "wise and timely" action of this, himself a Republican, is not slow to condemn the act of 1877, known as "the county government act," but to affirm that the enactment of the prohibition bill was the legitimate result of this taking of power from the multitude and conferring it upon a prescribed few, "betraying a disposition to pervert the truth, with which, we hesitate to charge even a revenue officer of a rum-seller."

"During the agitation of the prohibition question," says the address, "the commissioners of a number of the counties declined to issue license to men who desired to engage in a business hoary with age and legalized by the laws of the State and nation."

Because a business is hoary with age and legalized by the State, is no proof whatever that it is right or proper. Sin is as old as Adam and as black as soot.

In view of the disastrous consequences to herself and her inhabitants, it is a matter of astonishment, a burning shame, and an everlasting disgrace to any State to legalize the infamous traffic in intoxicating liquors and invest county commissioners, or any one else, with authority to license men, who desire to engage in such a business, to deal out to their thirsty fellow men, this liquid fire, which continually eats at their vitals as doth a canker—that annually debauches and destroys vast numbers of the best citizens, and fills the land with hopeless widows and helpless orphans. It must be very trying to the conscience of a commissioner, if he be not a seared one, to issue a license to a rum-seller; it is in effect saying to the man, take thou authority from me to make drunkards, murderers, assassins, paupers, beggars, keeping wives and starving children. Take thou authority to desolate homes, to corrupt magistracy to pervert justice, to alienate friends, to increase litigation and to dash to the ground the fairest prospects and brightest hopes of the once happy father, mother and child. Such is the work of the license system, and the work of the liquor seller, legalized by the State of North Carolina, and advocated by the authors of the address under consideration. If the Republican party in the future is to stand on this platform; and if her numbers are to be increased, and her strength renewed by the adoption and support of these anti-prohibition principles, then, I for one, shall let her shadow hasten to grow less, and her name go down speedily into dark oblivion.

J. S. HELIG. He had not slept a wink for twenty-four hours, coughing all the time. His sister bought a 25c bottle of Dr. Bull's cough syrup at the nearest drug store, gave him a dose, and the cough was at once and he slept quietly during the night.
