TO OUR FARMERS.

Some Suggestions About Commercial Fertilizers which it may be Worth While to Consider.

In this communication we intend to In this communication we intend to produce testimony of a scientific and practical nature, sufficient to satisfy any reasonable person, that the claim set forth by most chemists and fertilizer manufacuturers, that the solubility of phosphoric acid, is an essential condition of ground bone, and the ground phosphate rock, as plant food, is a delusion and a snare; and that in consequence of this delusion the farmers of RECEIVED A LARGE LOT OF quence of this delusion the farmers of the South have spent millions of dol-lars uselessly, most of which has gone to enrich the few, and every dollar of it was paid by you and came from the soil by your labor.

Dr. St. John Ravenel, of South Carolina, than whom no higher authority exists in the South on scientific and practical agriculture, says that "most chemists of the present day seem to ignore the fact that plants are vital organisms, and as such are endowed with vital powers by which they can perceive and appropriate substances within their reach, that are adapted to their wants in however unfit state such subwants in however unfit state such substances may appear to be. Calomel is absolutely insoluble, and yet the stom-ach digests it so that it permeates every organ and tissue of the human body If then the stomach can digest what is poisonous, even though insoluble, does it seem unreasonable to suppose that plants can digest phosphate rock, which goes to impart health and vigor. "It is true that manure must be dissolved before it can be taken up by the plant, but in the laboratory of nature there are other ways and means by which this can be effected than by the action of sulphuric acid."

Dr. J. R. Nichols, in the Boston Journal of Chemistry for March and April, 1880, says: "It has been assumed by some chemists that the South Carolina phosphates have no value as fertilizers until they have been acted upon by mineral acids, and the phosphoric acid thus made soluable so as to be easily and readily taken up by the plants; whereas the facts as ascertained are that if we sow on our fields ground bone or mineral phosphate in the raw condition and they should again find themselves these are acted upon by rain water, pent up in their mountain homes withwhich contains carbonic acid and also by the carbonic acid in the soil; and by this combined action we get one equivalent of lime removed and the bicalcic phosphate is formed. This is corn." slowly soluable in water and is thus taken up into the circulation of plants in soluable form."

Courts of Criminal Jurisdiction in the Several States.

Dr. Voelcker, of London, the highest living authority on scientific agriculsays: "It is quite true that the soluable phosphoric acid of a superphosphate, as soon as applied to the soil is precipitated and rendered insoluble by the lime, oxide of iron and other basic soil con-

According to the French and Bel-gian chemists: "It is sheer waste of unites and returns to its original state, that in which it is found in the natural phosphates." So much for scientific evidence. Now let us turn to evidence of a practical nature—field evidence. A Scotch agri-cultural association of high respectability, has been experimenting with un-dissolved mineral phosphates and the results are alleged to show that the powder in its natural condition gives as good results on grain fields as the dissolved material. It is more lasting, it gradually nourishes crops and is not lost by being washed out of the soil.

Mr. T. L. Payne, of Chesterfield, Va., says in the July number, 1880, of the Southern Planter and Farmer: "With Southern Planter and Farmer: "With Sively by the Eventive and in New Sively by the Eventive a nine years' practical experience in the use of fertilizers, I have observed that those containing a large amount of in-soluable phosphoric acid and phosphates have proven the most satisfactory. Some how I had come to believe that plants took up insoluble substances into their composition, but how or when, I could not exactly understand, and as the idea did not accord with the theory of most scienfists, I was afraid to publish it. With Dr. Ellzey to back me, I feel considerably assured, and join him in asserting that every fact that has fallen under my observation goes to prove that it is simservation goes to prove that it is sim-ply very fine mechanical division that Salt Lake Tribune. is needed to render the fertilizing material in the soil, or at any rate the phosphates available for plant nutri-

The Dr. Elizey, referred to in the foregoing, is a practical agriculturalist and editor of the Live Stock Department of the Southern Planter and Having seen a letter in point from Mr. Paul S. Felder, a large planter of South Carolina, and a commission merchant in Charleston, in which he stated that he had composted pure ground phosphate and acid phosphate, each separately, with cotton seed and stable manure in exactly the same propormanure in exactly the same proportions, and put these composts on 80 acres of cotton, manuring two acres alternately with each compost, and that the compost of the ground phosphate gava better results than the acid phosphate. I wrote to him to ascertain the authenticity of the letter. In reply he says: "I have not used the dissolved phosphate for several years because I find the ground rock does just as well." phosphate for several years because I find the ground rock does just as well."

With the testimony of the great folly of which we as farmers have been guilty for years; the sheer waste of money in the South spent on fertilizers, because of our lack of knowledge, I will close this article. In my next and last for the present, I will undertake to point out what we can can do and ought to do to place ourselves on the right track.

It is said that of late nearly all of the eggs which come into the tithing house are looked upon with suspicion.

SYMPTOMS. Start tons.

Slight pain in the side, the skin and eyes assume a thick yellow-coat, digestion is impaired, an unpleasant sinking sensation at the pit of the stomach is experienced, the bowels are irregular, the mind frestul, the memory weakened, sometimes a slight cough, coldness of the hands and feet, sometimes loss of appetite and at others unnatural craving for food, dizziness of the head, blurring before the eyes, depressed spirits, bad breath, feeling of uncertainty of having left something unique but can't tell what it is. Take Simmons Liver Regulator, it will remove all these feelings and make you well.

Professor Loomis, of Yale, says that he has not expected to see many mete-ors in the November sky of this year, because the numbers have diminished since 1869. The next great display may be expected in 1899.

A German professor who is gather-ing materials for a history of this country is quoted as saying that he was surprised at the superior appearance and intelligence of the white laboring class of the South when compared with that of the North or that of Europe.

The veteran watchmaker at Vervay, Switzerland, claims to have invented a process by which watches will run for years without winding up. A sealed box containing two watches, entrusted to the municipal authorities on January 19, 1879, has just been opened, and the watches were found going.

The tunnel new being constructed under the British Channel is seven by nine feet, and when completed will be twenty miles long. One tenth of the work has already been accomplished, and the other nine-tenths will be hastened to completion. In the event it proves successful it will be increased in dimensions for the passage of the railway trains. The material through which the work is pushed is chalk, and it is displaced at the rate of about a lineal yard per hour. The water in the channel is about 160 feet deep at the deepest point, and the tunnel is about 200 feet below the water.

Asia Minor is threatened with a repetition of the terrible famine of 1873-4: The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Locusts, drought, depopulation, misgovernment have wrought their effects. This year's crops have almost universally failed. The district of Angora again appears to have suffered the most severely, and the unfortunate inhabitants are already beginning to emigrate en masse in search of food, lest winter snows and swollen streams should cut off their communications with the outer world. out a chance of escape, and reduced to

An extra census bulletin, just issued from the government printing office, will prove of great interest and use to lawyers, as it gives succinct tables with annotations showing the system of courts of criminal jurisdiction in all the States of the Union. There is also a table with reference to courts of the United States having criminal jurisdiction money employing sulphuric acid to dissolve guano, &c., because the free phosphoric acid once encountering lime, iron, alumnia, &c., in the soil, wide differences are disclosed and the courts of each State are lucidly set forth. Wide differences are disclosed, and the details covered are very numerous. Certain facts of general interest are brought out.

In Delaware the judges of the Superior Court, and in Florida, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, the Supreme Court judges hold office for life; in Massachusetts all above the grade of trial justices have a like tenure. The tenure of office of other judges above the grade of justices of the peace varies from two to twenty-one years. It is more commonly for four or six years. In one half of the States of the Union Hampshire they are appointed exclusively by the Executive, and in New Jersey, Florida and Mississippi all above the lowest grades receive office in a similar manner. Yirginia, South Carolina and Rhode Island prefer the election of their Legislature. The initiation of proceedings in criminal cases by presentment is peculiar to Virginia, Pennsylvania and Nevada.

The census bureau promises in future bulletins a very full treatment of the judicial and criminal history of the country during the year ended June 30,

Tithing Eggs.

On last Sunday morning, an old Mormon, whose wife was sick, attempted to cook a breakfast on his own hook. He found some eggs in the pantry, which he proceeded to fry. It was pretty hard work to fry those eggs, but a good deal more of a job to eat them. One mouthful was enough, and the old fellow rushed up stairs with:

"Betsy, what in thunder's the matter with them eggs?" "Did you get 'em in that earthen crock on the top shelf, just alongside the sassengers?

"That's the place."
"Oh, John, those eggs have been under the red hen two weeks. They ain't for table use. Them's tithin' eggs, John. When I can't hatch eggs I turn 'em over to the Lord." The old man then laughed inordinately and said that would be a good joke on Taylor, Penrose, et al. In connection with the above melancholy exposure of the luke-warmness in Israel, it is said that of late nearly all of the
