Dr. Benson's Skin Cure.

Having passed several steepless nights, disturbed by the agenies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homocopathy. That night the child passed in sumering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following the father found the beby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a pertion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow swote in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first effended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. A Down Town Merchant,

The roomy and elegant mansion of Mr W. J. Yates was crowded last night with a brilliant company assembled to witness the marriage of Dr I, Wellington Faison, of Duplin county, to Miss Sallie S. The marriage ceremony was rendered more delicately interesting from the fact that the lovely and appomplished bride is just con-valenting from quite a serious iliness, the marriage having heretofore been postponed on that account. Dr Faison is an accomplished and handsome young physician with a large practice in Davie county. He has a wide circle of warm friends in Charotte who witnessed his marriage with great pleasure.
